COUNCIL BLUFFS.

CHANGE OF MANAGEMENT.

With the expiration of the lease under which the Council Bluffs department of The Ber has been conducted. The Bee Publishing company has assumed the management of the local office which, after this date, will be in charge of W. H. Hunter. Mr. H. W. Tilton, who has been the lessee and manager of the Council Bluffs branch of The Bee for years has accepted an editorial position with the Council Bluffs Nonparell, Hunter was city editor of the Nonpareil ten years ago and has been connected with The Bee in Omaha since that time. Mr. W. H. Lynchard, who has been connected with The Bee for the last five years, retains his old position. Mr. W. L. Thickstun has severed his connection with the paper and has not decided upon his plans for the future.

STRIKE ON THE NONPAREIL

Efforts at Retrenchment Lead to a Serious Difficulty with Employes.

Discharge of a Union Pressman Brings

About a Walkout of the Entire Force in the Office.

The Council Bluffs Nopparell had a little experience last evening in the way of a strike, and for a short time it looked as if the publication of the Monday morning paper would have to be abandoned once more. The trouble trenchment was inaugurated to begin with today's paper. The start was made in the press room, where the veteran preseman, Dwight A. Haggerty, has about lived for the last quarter of a century. He had been recelving $18 a week salary, and had been recently getting pay and a half for all over time, doing in fact about two men's work and making all the way from $22 to $27 a week. The management wanted him to continue, but to agree to receive only single pay for all over work. This he refused to do. The managewas willing to do the work Haggerty had been doing, and save the company something of imported goods on Saturday and paid like $15 a week. Haggerty was promptly $2,200 into the federal treasury in the shape let out and the new man installed in his place. The new man was not a member of the union, and the matter was at once taken up by the Bluff City Typ graphical union. A meeting was held vesterday afternoon and a committee appointed to wait upon the paper management, with a demand for the discharge of the non-union pressman and the reinstate-ment of the discharged man. This was re-fused, and before 5 o'clock all the printers. machine operators and other union men em-ployed about the establishment were talked treasurer's office has resulted in a change into an agreement to walk out. Tramp Visitors Coming Fewer. Strange as it may appear, there are fewer tramps making their daily entries and exits at Council Bluffs at the present time than there was a year ago. Ordinarily the luxuriant couches set apart for the use of weary wanderers who apply at the city fail are always filled, and some of the late guests are obliged to seek a soft reclining position on the walls, but for many days past there has been room to spare. Saturday night there was but one applicant for the city's charity beds, which consist of just sufficient space on a hardwood floor in a heated room to accomm date the form of a man. artists, are avoiding all places where it is likely to be unpleasant for them. "There are very few real tramps applying for lodgings now," said the marshal last night. "Those who do apply are most often working men making a genuine effort to find employment. Another thing that is a little singular is the fact that they are aimost all young men. Take this list from Saturday night and you see the ages are 28, 22, 25, 23, 22, 20, 24, 21, 25, 28, 17, 19 and 27. There are certainly no professional tramps in that list. In the lot there are seven Americans, three Germans, one Irishman, one negro and one Englishman. We give them a warm place to sleep, and where they are very young or very old or seen, to be particularly hard up, we give them a breakfast before turning them loose, and once in a while, where the gang is not too large, we feed them all be-fore we turn them out in the cold. There are not as many applications for this kind of as sistance now as there were in May and June.

EXTENDING THE CEMENT PLANT New Deal that Means Much for the

People of Yankton. YANKTON, S. D., Jan. 5 .- (Special.) - A the transfer of the property of the Yankton Portland Cement works to Chicago and New York capitalists. Seven years ago John Johnson, William Plankinton and Robert Yates of Milwaukes creeted the Yankton cement plant at a cost of about $300,000 and be began the manufacture of cement. The very best—equal in every way to the English product, but the cest of production left very ittle margin for profits, and the company has been operating since its organization without dividends, and during the past year the plant dividence, and during the past year the plant has been idle or running with a reduced force the greater part of the time. Now the new company proposes to remodel the entire plant and adopt the dry process in the manufacture of the cement. This is an entirely new process, and will reduce the cost of cement one-half. The new company will manufacture its own gas for heating the kilns and the machinery now in use will be kilns, and the machinery now in use will b replaced by the new process. He said: "There is considerable behind this cory that the public does not know. To begin with, Jim, Hank and Sam Rothwell were at one time at the head of a well organized cattle rustling gang which operated in Pierca and Knox counties. The Rothwells, with others, have at different times been arrested for stealing cattle, but succeeded in evading conviction. About three years ago the Rothwells, myself and others were ar rested on a charge of cattle rustling. At the time this arrest was made I made up my mind that I would quit the business and lead an honest life, but the Rothwells did not propose to let me, as I knew to much about them. The outcome was that peached on the gang and told the officers everything I knew about the cattle steals This incensed the Rothwells and they swore that they would get even with me. I left Pierce county and moved to Platte county, where I purchased a farm and have lived since. In September, 1893, on a Sunday morning, Jim Rothwell came to my bome and told me he knew where a bunch of cattle could be had very easily. I at first refused to have anything to do with the deal, but he told me I was a fool and in Finally I agreed that if Gil Lucas would go with me. I would steal the bunch We found the cattle about twenty-two miles

"Link did this, and I was paid $650 in eash. There was He said that he did not want to prosecut. me; all he wanted was the value of the cattle. I told him that I had $580 from the sale left, that I had given $50 to Link Rothwell, who was in the employ of Denny & Co. of South Omaha, and $20 I spent for mycelf and family. This would make $650 the sum realized from the sale of the cattle Mr. Smith agreed to take the $589 and drop the case. Nevertheless I was kept in jali for a number of months before being re-leased on bonds. My case was continued from time to time, the final hearing being set for the coming spring term, and I can sea no reason why I have now been ar-rested on the same charge while my case is ending in the courts. "The Rothwells have been hounding me ever since I gave them away and have given it out cold that they would either shoot me of send me to the penitentiary for life." When asked who composed the cattle rus ling gang up in Knox and Pierce countle Bloom said that Sam and Jim Rothwell o Creighton, Hank Rothwell of Pierce county oe Walker of Creighton and Charles Stewart Gil Lucas, Joe Walker, Alex McDonald and himself, who were employed by the Roth-

Contest for the Speakership in the Iowa Legislature Becomes Interesting.

BYERS OF SHELBY APPARENTLY LEADS

Allen of Van Buren Right Close Behind and Griswold of Buchanan Makes a Good Third.

DES MOINES, Jan. 5 .- (Special.)-The Twenty-sixth general assembly of Iowa will convene in Des Molnes, Monday, January 13. The session which will follow promises to be prolonged and exciting. Measures which will come up for consideration are varied and numerous. In addition a United States senator is to be elected, but this will be a merely formal matter, as the republicans have a majority of forty-three on joint ballot, and will be unanimous in favor of the re-election of William B. Allison. The general assembly will have before it as a legacy from that of two years ago a resolution in favor of the submission to the people of a prohibitory amendment to the constitution. An attempt will also be made to pass a bill permitting the manufacture of liquors within the state admitted to bail, pending a hearing of the Legislation will also be demanded on the case, which has not come up yet. According subject of joint freight rates, woman suffrage, with respect to insurance subjects, building and loan associations, the age of consent labor and other subjects. In addition to all this the commission created by the last gen cral assembly has reported a revision of th code of the state, the first since 1873, which must be acted upon. The code revision and the various subjects upon which new legislation is desired will bring to Des Moines the largest lobby for many years, and the most varied probably in the history of the state. eporter Bloom admitted straling the cattle. In order that the big republican majority may not become unwieldy and indiscreet, the stat central committee has opened headquarters and the leaders of the party will be on hand throughout the winter to prevent, if possible, any legislation that might adversely af-fect the Allison boom. The number of candidates for positions in the house and senate is unusually large, some 1,200 persons being after the 135 or 140 posiions to be filled. Members who have visited Das Moines since election complain that their mails are made up of letters from candidates, and that wherever they go, they are besieged. Whatever attention it gives to the organizaion of the general assembly is centered in the contest for the speakership of the house. Out of a dozen men who have been "mentioned" to the extent of testing the senti-ment of their colleagues but three remain in the field. They are: H. W. Byers of Shelby ounty, W. S. Allen of Van Buren and H. J. Griswold of Buchanan. Each of these men served in the last house, and each made good record, although Byers became the mos enspicuous. He is a young man of consider able force, and early took a position as a leader on the floor. If it were taken up by the re-publican caucus the decision would probably against the liberal idea, for there is n loubt that the minority of republicans in bot ranches is opposed to manufacturing and i favor of resubmission. It will require the democratic votes on both sides of the rotunds carry the measures which the liberals ar

Another matter of importance is suggested by the recommendation of the railroad com missioners in their last report that the legis lature paso a joint rate law, or else give the ommission power to establish and enforce uch rates. At present there is no law in this state under which reads can be com-pelled to give joint rates. A shipment origi-cating at one town, and which must pass over we lines of road to reach its destination, is charged the sum of the local rates over the two roads. This is invariably higher than a through rate over one road for a like dis-Iowa jobbers are thus placed at a lisadvantage, because interstate rates requir hat joint rates be allowed; hence jobbers in while outside of lows in shipping into this tate, have the advantage of joint rates, which owa distrubutors are not allowed. It is certain that a bill will be introduced in the line of this recommendation. It will have the reneral support of Iowa jobbers and whole can be expected to meet the opposition of the reads.

The movement in favor of the erection of state memorial hall in this city is rapidly gathering to itself a strong backing seems to have excellent prospects of being successful. It originated with Charles Aldrich, curator of the museum and historica

Probably the most earnest fight that will ome up in the legislature will be over the insurance laws of the state. The revision of the code has been the cause of all this The code commission has been accused o making the revision in the interests of th old line life and old stock company fire insurance concerns, and the mutual and assess ment organizations will be on hand to fighthe adoption of the measure in the present form. They will have large lobbles on the and can be depended on to make a fight to the finish. WHAT GOVERNOR MAY RECOMMEND

The message of Governor Jackson to the egislature in looked forward to with great interest because it is expected to contain some original recommendations. The governor has devoted much attention to state institutions, and has decided fideas as to how they should be conducted. It is understood he will recommend the establishment of at east one new institution-in asylum for th treatment of epileptics. In a ricent interview he stated that a vary large part of the inmates of the asylume of the state were epi-leptics, and that in other states in which the scheme of separate institutions for these unfortunates had been tried it had been very successful. It is also expected that he will recommend a very liberal policy toward the present institutions; he believes that the best economy for the state is in the mainenance of these institutions in the best of condition, and in having plenty of room for all demands. The State university is expected to come in for a very liberal recom-

And then there is the old, old question of the soldiers' monument. It is almost certain to get before the legislature in some form. It is possible the governor will recommend in his message that it be moved; certainly, many of the legislators will consider the matter seriously when they see it. The big shaft stands south of the capitol, in as unsightly a location as could well be found. The commission did not want to build it there; neither did acybody else who realized how unfortunate the selection was: but the legis lature had determined, and there the monu ment had to be placed. Now it is erected, with the expectation of the addition of the sculptures and barreliefs, and the desire for its removal is stronger than ever. It has been stated that for $25,000 it could be moved to another and more sightly location. This is about 25 per cent of the cost of the structure, and it is likely an effort will be made o get an appropriation to correct the error n the location. The woman suffrage question will come up, too. It has been with the legislature for many years, and the oldest member wil remember it as one of the helrlooms handed down to him by his predecessors. It will IN THE SENATE COMMITTEES come up in the usual way this year, there will be wagon loads of petitions for the ballot for woman; and the probability is that it will be disposed of in about the usual way-with no action taken,

THREE SHERIFFS IN ONE COUNTY Tangle that Results from an Election Contest and Recount.

LEMARS, Ia., Jan. 5 .- (Special Telegram.)-The residents of Plymouth county are in considerable doubt as to who is en titled to act as sheriff at the present time At the late election the democratic canaldate was supposed to have received a majority of the votes. This election was contested, however, and on a subsequent count by the county commissioners the republican candidate was declared elected. An appeal was taken from this decision and during the pendency of the contest Sheriff Boyle, the old officer, is holding over. The republican candidate claims, however, that this can be done only when the former officer's own reelection is contested, and that Boyle quired to give place to him at once. Legal steps have not yet been taken to enforce this position, but unless an amicable settle ment is speedily reached a test of the mat-ter will undoubtedly be made.

Bond and Tariff Bills Will Receive the First Consideration.

SCHEDULE TO BE CHANGED SUGAR

Efforts of Thurston and Perkins In Direction Accom-This plish that Porpose.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 .- The senate will not be in session Monday, but it is expected to resume the work of the session in earnest on Tuesday. The finance committee has promised to report both the bond bill and the revenue tariff bill on that day, and it may be reasonably expected that if this Joe Cohn of Leavenworth, Kan., is in the promise is kept, the debate during the remainder of the week and for some time afterward will be based upon these bills. The bond bill will probably be the first of is considered probable that a fortnight may be devoted to its consideration. The republicans also are hopeful of being able to dispose of the tariff bill in the same length of time. They have received assurances from indi-vidual democratic leaders that they will not resort to dilatory tactics to prevent the early disposal of either of the bills. This does not mean, however, that they will not insist upon a thorough debate upon them. Senator Elkins' bond resolution holds its place on the calendar as the unfinished business, and is in position to furnish a basis of discussion until the finance committee bills shall be reported. If it should not be acted upon before these reports are made, it is yet uncertain whether the rest would be pressed, but the chances are that it would

The finance committee will meet again Monday afternoon, by which time it is presumed the silver majority of the committee will have proposed its substitute for the bond bill, which will provide for free coinage.

The fate of the tariff bill is not so certain.

On this bill the republicans consider them-selves masters of the situation in commitee, and they are in doubt whether to report it as it came from the house, or to amend it in accordance with the wishes of individual republican senators. There is a dis-position on the part of some of the members to increase the advance made on all the schedules, except that covering sugar, from 15 to 20 per cent, while others think the increase should only apply to agricultural products. In either event, it is probable the sugar schedule will receive the same treatment as the other schedules in obedience to and Senator Thurston of Nebraska.

week will settle down to the routine work of the cession. Until Wednesday, however, the work will not be well defined, as none of the committees have reported bills and the first three days will therefore be devoted to unanimous consent legislation and such matters as may be brought before the louse. On Wednesday, or at the Thursday, the pensions appropriation bill will come up, and its consideration will be As a rule, the deficiency bill is the first appropriation bill considered, but the esti-mates for the deficiencies will not be submitted until next week, and as the pension bill is ready, save for its formal approval by the full appropriation committee or Wednesday, it has been divided to dispose of t while work on the other regular appropriation bills is proceeding.

"Sour stomach" is the common name for acid dyspepsia, and because it is a common everyday trouble with many people they have come to look upon it as of little consehave come to look upon it as of little consequence as affecting the general health. Nevertheless, the most serious diseases have their beginning from this very condition. It is caused in the first place from weakness of the stomach, which, instead of promptly digesting and disposing of the food, allows it to lie in the stomach for hours fermenting. causing gas, sour rising in the mouth, heart burn, headaches, oppression, despondency, duliness, etc.

The blood is thin, impure, and circulation poor simply because it is replenished from this mass of fermenting, half-digested food.
