Thus far the latthere are more candidates for places than before any legislature for many years, and the republican caucus to parcel out the positions will be a very complicated affair. The session will open next Monday. I was announced today that Captain W. H Fleming, editorial writer on the Iowa Capital will be private secretary to the governor. He held the place for fourteen years, going out fourteen years ago when Sherman was Installed as governor. General Drake, governor-elect, tonight an nounced his appointments to positions in the curve offices and on his pirsonal staff. Captain W. H. Fleming will be private soc-retary, to succeed W. S. Richards. Rich-ards will be retained as a clerk. The posi-tion of chief clerk, held the past two years by W. H. Myers, will be abolished, and Mr.

Myers will be retained on an equality with Richards. John R. Prime, adjutant general, will be succeeded by General H. H. Wright of Centerville. This change is the one sur-prize of new appointments. James T. O'Mera, clark in the governor's office for twelve years, will be dropped from the staff under the new administration.

JEFFERSON INSISTS ON THE HOME

Earnestly Intends that the Odd Fellows' Plans Shall Be Carried Out. JEFFERSON, Ia., Jan. 6 .- (Special.)-Trouble is brewing in the Independent Order of Odd Fellows that portends disagreeable result, unless the committee appointed by the grand lodge last fall to carry out its designs in the matter of the location of the orphans' home acts in good faith. Much has been said and printed concerning this matter which is of more than state interest. The facts are as follows:

For several years an agitation was kept up-started by the Daughters of Rebekah-to establish a home where orphans of Odd Fellows, as well as aged and infirm members should be cared for by the order. About two years ago the matter was presented to the grand lodge and a committee of five prominent members appointed to investigate the matter, solicit bids and donations from such towns as sought the location home, and submit its report at the next session of the grand lodge. More than a dozen towns entered the lists in the competition for the home, among them, Jefferson, Clinton, Indianola, Boone, Marshalltown, Waterioo, Independence, Madrid and Webster City, and a limit of time was made up to which bids of cash and land would be received. Following this the committee made the rounds, inspecting the towns com-peting and examining the sites offered. The province of the committee was to make a report favorable to one or another of the towns, if possible, to be ratified or rejected by the grand lodge, and in case no agreement could be reached the sovereign body would itself dispose of the matter. The grand lodge convened in October with 107 representatives present, covering every county in Iowa. When the report of the com-mittee was called for a majority and a minority report was submitted. Mesors, Musson, Whipple and Hartman favored Jefferson, and Messrs. Dieckmann and Abbott favored Clinton. After a good deal of mineuvering the grand lodge by a very large majority accepted the report favoring Jefferson, and the vote was afterward made unanimous. A clause was inserted in the resolution, however, stating that in case the committee-which was continued as a building committee and to choose which of the several sites offered by Jefferson should be accepted-was not able to make a contract with Jefferson on account of the failure of its citi-

The report of the state commissioner is nearly completed and shows that since the butter shall be colored so that it may be distinguished from butter, the number of houses handling it in the state, either at wholesale or retail, has been reduced gradually, till today there is not a place in the state where it is served or can be bought. TERMINAL TROUBLES NOT ENDED.

City Council Holds the Problem U Another Week-City Matters.

It was expected that the differences be tween the city council and the Omaha Bridge and Terminal company would come up for discussion and possible settlement at the meeting of the city council last night. Noth ing was done, however, except to grant the special council committee having charge of the matter further time in which to report. Members of the committee insist that the Terminal company must pay its taxes before the city will allow the work on the company's Union avenue line to proceed. The Termina company contends that the tax question should be settled in the courts and that the city should not stand in the way of the company's proposed improvement, which will give employment to a number of laborers at a time when work is wanted by them. The council adjourned until next Monday night, when the matter will come up again. All of the members of the council except Mr. Brown were present at the meeting, which was devoted principally to the disposition of routine matters.

A motion by Alderman Shubert to have the street commissioner clean the streets in the business part of the city was discussed very favorably, but was withdrawn, and the proposition will come up in another form at the next meeting of the council.
