

COMMERCIAL GRAIN MARKET

Shorts in the Grain Pits Were Given a Fright. WHEAT STARTED A SHADE FIRMER

Corn Hated Quiet, but Held Very Steadily with the Trade About Featureless and an Absence of Selling Pressure.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Within thirty minutes after the noon hour there was a slight rattling of the dry hogs which appeared to frighten the shorts in the grain pits. Wheat, corn and oats each rose from a state of dull indifference to a price surmounting a widespread alertness and they closed at advances of 5/8 in wheat and corn and 1/4 in oats. Provisions were irregular, but closed with most of the May, pork and 7/16 each in lard and ribs.

Wheat started a shade firmer than it closed yesterday at 65 1/2 to 65 3/4 and for an hour made little change from the opening. The firmness was due to the comparatively light receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth, which amounted to 43 carsloads, against 321 yesterday and 414 a week ago, but only 125 cars were received a year ago this last effect on the bears. The European political situation was still further improved, an article in the London Standard English consols indicated. The official figures of last week's world's exports made it plain that the world's demand for wheat is 100,000 bushels less than the estimated needs of the importing nations. But the business and financial circles are still so much in doubt as to the volume of business was light and price changes narrow. Export clearances of wheat were 100,000 bushels, against 100,000 bushels in the corresponding month of last year. The market was quiet on the report of Bradstreet's visible supply statement, which showed an increase in this country west of the Rockies of 67,000 bushels, against the official showing yesterday of 37,000 bushels. NINE LIVES LOST AT SEA

Officers Unaware of Their Danger Until Too Late to Avert It. FATAL RESULT OF A COLLISION IN THE DARK

Fishing Schooner Run Down by Coasting Steamer and Sent to the Bottom Within a Few Minutes.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The Gloucester fishing schooner Fortuna was sunk in a collision with the Boston Fruit company's steamer Barnstable off Highland light last night. Nine of the Fortuna's crew were drowned; fourteen were saved. Those lost are: William Ackman, Robert Childs, Harry McPherson, Thomas Crawford, Crawford Misch, Harvey Ebenezer, Steward Devans, John Clark and William Tobin.

The first news of the disaster reached the city on the arrival of the Barnstable today with the fourteen survivors of the Fortuna's crew on board. From these men it was learned that the collision occurred about 7:30 p. m., when the vessels were about four miles off Highland light. The night was extremely dark and a lumpy sea was running. The Fortuna was bound for the Georges, carrying a crew of twenty-three men, including the captain, John W. Greenlaw. The schooner was on the starboard tack, going at a good rate. The Barnstable's lights were seen, but knowing she had the right of way the schooner's course was not altered until too late. The steamer struck her well forward, cutting a deep hole, and the schooner began to sink immediately. The boats could be cleared as they went down and the crew were left struggling in the water. The steamer was picked up by the Barnstable's boat. The other boats had gone down.

Captain Payne of the Barnstable said to a reporter at the Gloucester press: "We were about three or four miles off Highland light southwest when we struck the schooner right under her bows. We were proceeding on our way, never dreaming of the impending collision, when suddenly we saw the starboard light of a vessel directly in our course. It seems as if the light had been covered by the fog, and the vessel was closing rapidly. We saw the great danger we were in. The wheel was thrown around to port, but it was too late to avoid the collision. We struck the Fortuna about three or four minutes later. We instantly launched our boats and made every effort to save the crew. We got four of them, among them was Captain Greenlaw, but nine were drowned."

The rescued men were properly cared for on board the Barnstable and immediately upon their arrival this morning were sent to the Gloucester hospital. The lost sailors all shipped from Gloucester. The Fortuna was a vessel of about 118 tons and was insured in the Boston Marine Insurance company. The other owners all reside in Gloucester.

THIS PRIEST TALKED TOO MUCH. Removed from His Pulpit by Orders

FORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 11.—Rev. M. J. Kelly, parish priest of Cedar Mills, near this city, has been dismissed from his church by Archbishop Gross, whose decision has been sustained by Cardinal Satoli.

Several months ago Father Kelly in a newspaper article charged Sister William, the head of the Mercy Sisters of Oregon, with improper conduct. He was then ordered to leave the life of an adventurer. When Archbishop Gross attempted to silence the belligerent priest the attacks became more personal and his animosity against the nuns was increased. It is said that other priests in this city, who extended sympathy and aid to Father Kelly in his attack on Sister William, have also been ordered to leave the city. Much alarmed lest they should be called upon before the ecclesiastical court.

NOW QUEEN LILL WILL GO FREE. Deposed Sandwich Monarch Will Be Released

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—Advices from Honolulu are to the effect that preparations are under way for the third celebration of the anniversary of the revolution which overthrew the monarchy. It will take place on January 17, and the prediction is made that the parole of ex-Queen Liliuokalani will on that day be at an end and that she will be granted a full pardon. President Dole is said to have informed a correspondent that the government hoped to see its way to pardon the ex-queen in a short time and that the third anniversary of the overthrow of the monarchy in all probability witness the last act of the drama. The ex-queen is frequently seen driving about the city and is enjoying much better health than at any period in the past three years.

INSPECTOR BYRNES COMES BACK

May Again Take Charge of the New York Police

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The friends of ex-Chief Byrnes were surprised when he returned last week. He had arranged to stay abroad until summer, but his trip was cut short six months. The reason for his return, according to a report current today, is that his health is so restored that he is now in the hands of the police force of New York.

"I have nothing to say," said ex-Chief Byrnes, when he was asked to comment on his return. He is satisfied with his prospects, but under certain circumstances may be induced to renew the battle for law and order.

THE WORK OF A HUMAN FIEND. Little Baby Roused to Death on a Red Hot Stove.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 11.—A horrible thing became known to the police when the death of the 14-month-old son of Charles Dean was reported. Mrs. Dean had been seen in a room while the man ran over to a neighbor's. Upon her return she found that some one had removed the clothing from her babe, seated it upon the top of a hot stove, and fled. The body of the child was found in the house. A young man who had quarreled with Mr. Dean is suspected, but he has fled the city. The child suffered terribly until death came.
