LATIN-AMERICAN MARKETS.

There is a growing interest in the subject of closer commercial relations between the United States and the countries of South and Central America and there has never been a more auspicious time than the present for promoting this interest.

This amount of the loan will be locked up in the treasury, but the effect will be to reduce to a much greater extent the ability of the banks to accommodate borrowers.

does not make a switching yard, nor does it own and operate switching tracks, as is the case at South Omaha.

The free silver advocates who propose to repudiate the two great parties if their platform should fail to commit them to the policy of free coinage have a right to hold a separate national convention of their own if they so choose.

The people of Omaha have a very warm spot in their hearts for State Treasurer Bartley—World-Herald.

They certainly have, and if any of them have a warmer spot than the others it is the proprietor of the hypheated paper, who was helped out of a tight place not so very long ago by a loan procured through the aid of the state treasurer.

The opening of a new mining board in Chicago means that the campaign for the sale of speculative Cripple Creek mining stocks is to be prosecuted with still greater vigor in that city.

With the best race track in the west there is no reason why the summer and fall should not witness here some of the greatest meets in the history of the Nebraska turf.

The massive structure which Uncle Sam is erecting in Omaha needs only to be flanked by a west wing, as originally planned, to make it one of the most impressive public buildings in the United States.

By making fewer promises in advance and performing more works the new governor general of Cuba, General Weller, will disappoint no expectations and may accomplish all that he sets out to do.

Belled detectives rarely ever find gamblers. It is significant to note the fact that Detective Cox set out the evening on which The Bee cited a few games to locate the joints—a time when he had every reason to believe the timorous fraternity would be wary.

Our coast cities are not defended by great fortresses, but the nation who sends a shell whistling into one of them will pay a billion or two for the whistle.

There may be no war this time, but if these European powers continue to go round looking for trouble the chances are that some time some one of them will get all it wants.

James C. Ish is sentenced by Judge Fawcett to fifteen months in the penitentiary for the crime of manslaughter, which was originally characterized in the complaint filed by the county attorney as murder in the first degree.

The railroad seeks to testify their arbitrary shipping charge of $1.50 per car of stock unloaded and switched at the South Omaha yards on the ground that such charges are not exacted by stock yards on other markets.

The British admiralty department hastens to explain that the show flying squadron of British war ships has not, as rumored, been ordered to any point in American waters.

LIMITS OF MONROISM.

Chicago Chronicle: By all means let us discharge a hemispheric dictatorship if we feel that way inclined and if we feel disposed to spend the political fortunes of some one who thinks he would cover the white horse or at least the office of secretary of state.

New York Tribune: Senator Sewell's view of the Monroe doctrine finds little support in the committee on foreign relations, which at its meeting yesterday decided to crowd a resolution strongly affirming the doctrine and its bearing on the attempt of any European power to secure territory on this hemisphere.

Kansas City Star: As a theoretician Senator Davis is likely to gain favor with the committee on foreign relations for his Monroe doctrine resolution.

Philadelphia Press: Senator Sewell's resolution on the Monroe doctrine is untimely, unground and unfortunat.

Thomas Collier Platt reaffirms the loyalty of New York republicans to Governor Morton's candidacy.

Secretary Morton was too considerate; he should have told the committee and the country the names of the congressmen whose quotas of seats he has bought in open market.

THE PRESIDENTIAL BEE.

Globe-Democrat: There is not so much talk in favor of Allison as there was some weeks ago, but the fact remains that he is a good man for a possible contingency, and talk is unnecessary to keep him in the minds of the people.

Kansas City Star: It is stated that the leaders of the Missouri democracy are favorable to Colonel Bill Morrison for president.

Chicago Record: While Mr. Morrison has never had, and has not now, even in his own state, a so-called boom, he has interests in his favor that could be easily increased into a protechnic display.

Tom Reed, whose brilliant qualities appeal strongly to the fancy of his party, and who appears to have inherited much of the popularity which was enjoyed by James G. Blaine.

A SQUADRON OF FUN.

Texan Siftings: It is the hope who would like to put a gurgle around the world.

Yankee: There are said to be forty-seven society editors in New York City.

Indianapolis Journal: "I am astounded," said the man who had finished his raw horse.

Cincinnati Enquirer: "Ethel, were you out sleighing with the armless wonder last evening?"

Philadelphia Record: Mrs. Snuggs—How do you like our new minister?

Boston Transcript: Wife—You saw Mrs. Browner last evening?

Indianapolis Journal: Hard Knox—"Ever I hit you once, you were not nothin' left but for ring for de ambulance."

Washington Star: Now both the merry lee man go for pieces of concealment.

JAMESON'S RIDE. (Complete poem of Laureate Austin, printed in the London Times, Jan. 11.)

"Wrong! It is wrong! Well, maybe; But I'll not let any one else have the only German princess."

"There are girls in the gold-reef city, There are girls in the gold-reef city, And they cry, 'Hurry up for pity!'"

"So we forded and galloped forward As hard as our beasts could peep, First eastward, then trending northward, Just over the rolling wilds."

"Right sweet is the marksmen's rattle, And sweeter the cannon's roar, But 'tis bitterly bad to battle, Belonging, and one to four."

"Then we made for the gold-reef city, Retreating, but not in rout, They had called to us, 'Quick for pity!'"

"Not a soul had supped or slumbered Since the forlorn stream was cleft; But we fought, evermore outnumbered, 'Till we had not a cartridge left."

"I suppose we were wrong, were madmen Still I think at the judgment day, When God sifts the good from the bad men There'll be something more to say."
