Travis and Mistress in Jail. Abner Travis, a well known colored character of the town, and Carrie Freeman, a petite woman of a decided brunctte cast a petite woman of a decided brunctte cast, were arrested last night on a charge of adultery. Travis is an old resident of Omaha, and it one time was possessed of considerable property, though most of it so it is said, has disappeared the last few years. Travis' conduct caused his wife to apply for a divorce several years ago. Travis has been living at Sixteenth and for his housekeeper Carrie Freeman. He states that their friendship has always heen merely of a Platonic character. Travis states that the present action brought scatter this wife, and that he will pass inrough the fire unscathed.

Where by the forms of a promissory note it is provided that it shall bear interest until maturity at a given rate, and thereafter at a higher lawful rate, such contract is not usurjous nor is the agreement for the higher rate of interest after maturity a mere penalty.
2. It is the ddity of the court in computing the amount due on such an instrument to allow interest until maturity at the lower rate and thereafter at the higher rate.

6: The constitutionality of the act passed and approved February 25, 1875-session laws of 1875, chapter xxxviil-by which section 498 of the Code of Civil Procedure was so amended as to confer authority upon the district judge sitting in chambers to confirm judicial sales, is no longer an open question in this court. McMurtry against Tuttle, 12 Neb. 222 reaffirmed.
The act passed and approved March 2, 1881-chapter xivi, session laws, 1881-does not repeal any part of section 498 of the Code of Civil Procedure, nor repeal section 39 of the act passed and approved February 27, 1879-session laws of 1879, chapter ixxxii-but said laws should all be construed to-gether.
