Receptions, Card Parties and Other Functions Helped to While Away the Fleeting Hours of Day and Night.

The week which has just Grawn to a close was a brilliant one and was characterfred by many elegant functions. The most notable was the Kountze-Burns welding, which brought to the city a number of out of town visitors.

Another Important event was the lunch- Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cartan, Mra. Russell Harrison, Dr. and Mrs. Gifford, Dr. and eon given by Miss Nash to announce her en-gagement to Mr. L. F. Kountze-Burns.

One of the most fashionable, as well as the most brilliant, weddings that has occurred in Omaha for some time and for which society people have been anxiously looking forward to, took place last Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Trinity cathedral, when Miss May Denman Burns, daughter of Mr. Samuel Burns, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Thomas Kountze, the second son of Mr. Herman Kountze, uniting two of Omaha's oldest and well known families. Long before the hour, of the ceremony every desirable sitting in the church filled and standing room only was to be Wat Numberless guests were stationed down the side aisles and completely filled the back of the church. The chancel was prettily decorated with palms and white roses. The boy choir entered singing "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," and also the Lohengrin bridal chorus. The five little flower girls, Phoeble Smith,

Emily McKell, Rose and Marie Coffman and Julia Mcikle, were the first of the bridal party to appear, then followed Mesers, Ganparty to appear, then followed Mesers, Gan-nett and Hall, who led in seventeen society girls, who were preceded by two of last year's charming brides in their wedding gowns, Mrs. Edward C. About 100 women, progressive as to intel-lectual development and willing to advance as well in a knowledge of the proper care and training of the body, were attracted to Creighton hall yesterday afternoon by the announcement that Mabel Jenness Venter would speak on "Artistic Dress and Social Graces," under the patronage of the Woman's Christian association. Mrs. Venter, becomingly clad in a dark cloth dress, fur trimmed, with green velvet yoke and sleeves, and wearing a fine Amer-ican beauty rose in her corsage, talked en-tertainingly and instructively for an hour on the proper carriage of the body in sit-ting, standing and walking on the level or on an incline, up stairs or down, the correct method of breathing, and the siyles of dress most nearly in accord with common sense and the known rules of hygiene. The nonarrival of her trunk preventing a prac-tical demonstration of many of her sugges-tions. Mrs. Venter announced that she would exhibit her costumes tomorrow (Mon-day) afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Woman's club rooms, where further information will be given respecting the classes which she will organize during her week's stay in Omaha. Mrs. Coffman and Mrs. Lange will sing duet "Quis est Homo," Captain Kinzie will sing the "Cujus Animam," and C. E. Jacobson the "Pro Peccatis."
