ail the lines of regular civilized warfare. In other words, war with them is more anarchy. If we had had plenty of Spanish cavalry, they would have resorted to ambush surprises and other like tricks. They would have waited for the cavalry to come up and then destroy them. Whenever we have an encounter there never is any doubt of the Spanish defeating the insurgents, even if the olds are 4 to 1 in their favor. The insurgents run away. That is their strength. There was an illustration of this day before yesterday in the encounter we had with them near San Cristobal, where 600 our men were attacked by 4,000 or 5,000 insurgents and our men defeated them."

tobal. trocha along the railroad line from here to the south coast?"

"I never placed much reliance on the trocha as a means of preventing the in-surgents crossing in either direction. I have regarded it only as an observatory of movements of insurgents, valuable chiefly as a strategic line of the rapid concentra-tion of treeps at any point on it. Of course, it is useful, as it is an inconvenience to the passing of insurgents. Their crossing is always attended with more or less loss." "Do you think the revolution is losing or gaining strength?" "It is looing. We are conquering little by little. The great defect of the insurgents has been shown by their attacks upon our weak little. places. That betrays their wetkness."

COSTA RICA AND NICARAGUA CLASH.

Boundary Trouble May Lead to a Trial at Arms Between Them. pyright, 1896, by Press Publishing Company. MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 9 .-- (New York World Cablegram-Special Telegrum ! -This government has requested Costa Rica to appoint another commission on boundary, it is said, as Nicaragua cannot continue to treat with the persons constituting the present commission. Nicaragua proposes to cede to Costa Rica a piece of land along the boundary a mile wide, and desires that all further differences regarding the boundary shall be submitted to the arbitration of the United States. This proposition, it is stated, is pre-sented as an ultimatum, but it is not believed that Costa Rica will accept it without further modification.
