He said: "If I told you of the work we had done, it would take but Maryland and the appointment of a legis-lative committee, of which he was made chairman. "We did considerable work," he said, "throughout the state, and the resul consider both good and bad. Through our work we roused up the opposition of the politicians, and they have been against us wherever possible, but the agitation has at length compelled these same politicians and county commissioners to make slight concessions to public opinion, and we have the pleasure of seeing a slight improvement in he general road system of the state. have now prepared a bill which we expect before the legislature for the appoint o get ment of a permanent road committee, to oversee in general the road improvements throughout the state. An expert engineer is to be made a member of the commission and his knowledge is to be put at the disnosal of the county road commissioners We expect a bright future for the move ment in Maryland." D. P. Miller, chairman of the board of commissioners of Alleghany county, delivered a short address, telling of the work accomplished by his commission in western Maryland. He approves of good roads, and said that if the farmers were enlightened as to the benefits to be derived from improved highways all opposition that exists would be wiped away. Both President Willison and Mr. Sterling Elliott delivered brief addresses and put themselves firmly on the good roads plank. The principal speaker at the afternoon session was General Roystone of the United States Bureau of Road Inquiry, who said, in part: "The wheelmen should help to encourage the farmers who are in hard luck by job ing them in securing good roads. Make farmers see that good roads will make ity people want to live in the country and will make them live there. The governm 'when have a national highway commission. MEETING OF THE PUGILISTS.

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 10.-Dan Stuart and representatives of the pugilists to take part n the big fight, held a meeting today in Stuart's office to arrange further details for the fight. Julian wanted an agreement that the official timekeeper should call off seconds in the event of a knockdown. Connelly Maher's representative, objected, and the matter was finally dropped. It was agreed however, that the timekeeper should blow whistle as "get ready" signals five seconds before the time for each round.

Captain McDonald, with half a dozen Rangers, arrived this morning from Amarillo and joined the dozen that arrived yesterday with Adjutant General Mabry. Others ar expected tomorrow.

the Mexico strip. There have been lively times between Dan Stuart, Martin Julian, Bob Fitzsimmons, the Maher party, and the parties who are representing the kinetoscope company. The trouble began early this morning. Julian came over from Juarez and "Buck" Connelly representing Maher and his backer, J. J. Quinn, came down from Las Cruces to hav a conference with Dan Stuart. The article of agreement with Fitzsimmons and Mahe stipulated that they were to fight for $10,000 and if Stuart failed to bring the fight off on February 14, he was to forfeit to them the stake of $5,000. Of this amount $3,000 is in the hands of Sam Austin of New York, the temporary stakeholder. The conference today was at Stuart's suggestion to consider proposition he has to make. He asked th men, because there were so few people here, to agree to divide only the $3,000 now up in case the fight did not come off, instead of demanding the full $10,000. Julian was in-clined to let Stuart have his own way, but the conference broke up with all hands in an under the conference broke up with all hands in an ugly mood and the question as to what the fighters would get were they not to fight re mained unsettled.

Later in the day Stuart notified the man-agers of the men that he would withdraw his request and the full $10,000 would be divided between them whether they fought or not.

MAY BREAK UP THE FIGHT.

Another squabble has come up which threatens to break up the whole business. Julian this afternoon met E. Rector, the kinetoscope representative here, and asked him if he expected to photograph the fight. Ric-tor admitted that he did. Then Julian said: "I will not allow Fitz-

Ellis Ward, who has just been engaged as coach. The contract with Ward has been made for one year, with the privilege of extension. The announcement that he had been engaged as coach caused a great deal of favorable comment among the under-graduates as well as alumni. It is thought that he is the one man who can develop a crew that will be worthy to rank alongside of the foot ball teams that have been turned out in recent years by the Univer-sity of Pennsylvania. Ellis Ward is one of the best known oars-man in the world today. His record is an excellent one. He was stroke of the once famous Ward brothers' crew, of which five were brothers, the sixth member being a man by the name of Graham. This crew at tained international reputation, defeating almost every crew with which it rowed. His work with Pennsylvania crews has been very successful. He coached the Red and Bius crews from 187 to 1891, with one ex-ception-1887. During the time Pennsylvania crews were under his instruction they won forty-six races, being second in fourteen and six times broke all previous records. Of the fourteen times that Pennsylvania rowed second she forced the victors to lower the record each time. Of his later successes, last year's record of the Bohemian Rowing club is considered remarkable. This crew won eight straight victories, the crowning one being at Saratoga in the national re-gatta.
