Menacing Evils of Municipal Government Detailed by Mayor Pingree.

The Experience of Detroit's Mayor in Dealing with Franchised Corporations-Uniust Burdens Im-

Mayor Hazen S. Pingree of Detroit adfressed the Law Students' association of Chicago a few evenings ago on the evils menacing municipal governments. He said, in part: "Abraham Lincoln, who was in the broadest and truest sense, the greatest American lawyer, called this a government of the people, by the people and for the people. Within the narrow circle of what might be called the new aristocracy, the Lincoln idea of government would be considered rank heresy. They believe in the government of the many by the few and for the few. They balieve that for the few, city governments especially were ordained among men. The people are permitted to pay taxes and to enjoy the pleasure of being held up from day to day, and compelled to pay watered rates on gas light, electric light, elephone and street car stocks.

A city is a corporation. Each inhabitant of legal age is a member of the corporation and a holder of one share of stock. For convenience it becomes necessary that certain stockholders be chosen as directors, and as such must hold proxies for thousands of those who cannot be present to speak for themselves. It should not be ecessary for the directors of such a cornecessary for the directors of such a cor-peration to have to solve a problem every time they vote. It should be far easier to conduct the affairs of a city than those of a private concern, for there are not earnings of speculation or venture in the business. To be a director in such a cor-poration should be the most honorable po-sition to which any inhabitant of any city can attain can attain. WHAT MIGHT BE. It should be a mark of distinction so great that in future years the children of an lderman or member of the board of directors of the corporation should be able to say without shame and with pride that their father was so true and faithful and honest a man that the people of his own city gave him authority to speak for them in the managenent of the city government. And a man rugal meal for fear their social relations will be strained, or perbaps he may want accommodations at a bank and he feels comaccommodations at a bank and he feels com-pelled to talk beneath his breath for fear a bank director who is interested either in gas or electricity, or telephones or street cars, may hear what he says and throw his paper out the next time he appears as a slave asking for a fayor. It is so much easier and more comfortable to kick your catching than the says and the corner and

There is always, however, one hope. The saving remnant never dies. The people hemselves, the great masses who cannot be frightened nor cowed, nor bought, but are low of movement, will arouse themselves in time and they will see to it that public plunder shall cease even if they have to take ropes in their hands. MUNICIPAL TRANSPORTATION. I shall speak of but one or two of the problems of municipal government. The question of transportation is a vital question. The transportation of people from one part of the country to the other, the transportation of raw material and of merchandise aftion of raw material and of merchandise af-fects every individual, from the president of the United States to the humblest child in the smallest cottage. It has been stated that the amount paid for freight and passage in the United States in one year is an amount equal in value to all the articles of commerce that enter all the ports of the world n the same period of time. If this is true, or half true, how long can the wealth of this country stand such a drain? For what is the noney used? To pay interest upon bonds and nortgages held in foreign countries, which over more than twice the actual value or he property mortgaged. Take the question of rates of fare upon reet cars in the city of Chicago. The man ank and receive 4 per cent interest. The man who saves 1 cent upon every 5 receives 0 per cent interest, and the man who saves cents for each ride invests his own money i his own bank at 40 per cent interest. If is possible that such a saving can be made is the duty of the city authorities to see that it is done. The evils that have grown up in connection with this question are evils for which there is a remedy. It is contrary to the genius of republican government that any evil can exist without a remedy. It is an insult to the intelligence and integrity of the people of this city to say that they cannot and will not find the remedy and apply it. The evil itself has been of slowrowth. It was nurtured and protected by lowerfut influences and laws. In the early days, when the cost of transportation wa greater and the motive power more ex-pensive and slower and the number of passengers fewer, those who embarked in the business were looked upon as public bene-factors and were granted special privileges. A franchise was originally a right to exer-cise some power or do something which the king, by reason of his previous engagements, delegated to others. elegated to others.

CORPORATIONS AWAKENED FIRST. When these special privileges were origi-nally granted the people were asleep and the railway companies seemed to be asleep also. The time came, when the railways awoke and the people slept on. Now the people are awakening and they are rubbing their eyes, and in a dazed condition they are looking around to see, lipw they can best preserve the few rights which they have left. They have discovered that the camel which was permitted to pur time head under the was permitted to put his head under the tent is now sleeping conithe inside and the kind master is lying outside upon the cold ground.

The people turn to the constitution and they find a provision about the obligations of contracts. They turn to the statutes of the state and they find provisions with reference to the life of corporations, and they find authority given to the municipalities to make grants for the occupation of streets, and they find that the railway corporations can mortgage the grants themselves.

I recognize the fact that I am speaking

I recognize the fact that I am speaking to lawyers, fresh from the books, familiar with all legal terms and definitions, and I with all legal terms and definitions, and I beg leave to ask you a few questions. Is the right conferred upon a street railway company to use the streets of a city anything but a license? Can the city confer upon any company a greater right than it has? Does the city have any right in the streets except a license to use them for certain purposes upon grounds of public policy? If this is true, what do we find? We only interest in your city is to see to it that the tax is promptly collected and quickly Fort Omaha is in a state of agitation just ow, and all over a prize fight which ocmitted to put his head under the tent. When authority to mortgage was given there should have been a special declaration that no mort-gage could be executed except upon the roperty actually placed by the company in he city. We would not then have been confronted by the ancient and respectable doctrine of vested rights, which, in this case, simply means rights of which the people were Sivested while they slept and while their servants sold them out. mer is a member of company B and the FOR THE CITIZENS TO SOLVE. The question in which you, as citizens, are interested, is the method by which these diinterested, is the method by which these divergets of the minth round Cavanaugh scored a there was not as much fraud in the weight as two ways by which it can be done. One is two ways by which it can be done. One is the construction of competing lines at lower consisted of a large number of soldier backrates of fare. The idea that those who have received public grants for public uses should have exclusive rights is preposterous. New roads can be built and passengers can be carried at a cost of less than 2 cents each. sports of this city and South Omaha.

2 cent fare is a repronable fare. The only thing that stands between the people and this plan is the fact that a trust has been formed in your city, as there has been in almost every large city, between the owners of the present roads and the alder-men. This trust was formed upon the basis Coloned Bates, who is in command at the fort, says that the men will be court-martialed at once, or as soon as he is in a of mutual self-protection and the charing of profits. Like all trusts, the parties form-ing it claim it is a good thing. They would you believe that trusts are charitable nstitutions. I would not advise any of you who ar I would not advise any of you who are sensitive and easily discouraged to attempt to break the trust, because if you do the new aristocracy to which I have referred will attack you at every point. The first epithets applied to you will be mild ones, such as populists. If this does not answer the purpose you will be called socialists, and if you are not entirely driven from the field of the public domain the final argument against you will be that you are anment against you will be that you are an-archists. The favorite time for calling these names will be just after a public announcement that some rich townsman and well known philanthropist, who is one of the directors of one branch of the trust and has grown wealthy in the trust service, has sent another check to the Poor Man's Re-treat, or has endowed some college or hos-who would betray the trust and confidence of his fellow citizens should be treated with such scorn and contempt that there would be nothing left for him to do but hide himself in the uttermost parts of the earth. It should be a greater honor for a lawyer to occupy such a position than to be the general counselor for the richest private corporation in the lands or to be the hired lobbyist of any individual, corporation or trust.

The struggle for honest municipal government becomes tiresome. It is easier for the business man to say that he will let the private business the amount which is stolen from him as a public eltizen. And then, perhaps, he has a friend whose feet are in the trough, and he does not wish to disturb a frugal meal for fear their social relations will be strained or wishess of any surpose. The struggle or hose that Lincoln called the common people. You can devise all sorts of schemes for reforming your friend, neighbor or cousin, or his man servant or his maid servant or the stranger that is within his gates, but you must not enter the sacred playing a high toned game with marked cards and loaded dice and demand that they show their hands. Unless your health is good and your courage is above par and you come from a stock that has expectation will be strained or wishess to make the man and you come from a stock that has expectation of long life, whatever desire you may have good and your courage is above par and you come from a stock that has expectation of long life, whatever desire you may have for sport, you had better keep near the shores of the duck ponds and fish for min-nows and not venture out where the whales

The people own the streets. The city paves with wood and stone and other material for the use of the ordinary vehicle. No reasonable argument can be urged against the city pav-ing a portion of the streets with fron for the use of street cars, which are the people's careasier and more comfortable to kick your neighbor than to go around the corner and kick yourself for being a coward or a poltroon or a hypocrite, and for this reason the neighbor is kicked, and after being kicked a few times he thinks after all he had better put on his bib and take his bottle and join the clean and respectable babies and let the weathers of the kir said for the care control the rates. The right to operate the weathers of the kir said for the care out to the rates. The right to operate the weathers of the kir said for the corner the city's tracks can be onen the worshipers of the fair god of mammon run the town.

There is always, however, one hope. The leasing should be for a reasonable time, which can be decided upon in each particular case. The question of municipal ownership of tracks was submitted in Detroit to the people and was adopted by a vote of four to one. It has not yet been possible to carry it into effect, because the terms of the existing franchises have not expired, but no new franchis is granted that does not contain a provision for final ownership. POPULAR SUPREMACY POSSIBLE. Are not the people supreme and cannot their epresentatives in the legislature pass the pecessary laws for condemnation and munic-pa! ownership? I do not answer this ques-ion. I merely suggest it. If it is a good thing and ought to be done, it certainly can be done. I recognize the fact that when we go to the legical re we meet the same influences, the same combinations and trusts. But they can be overcome. The power of the few can be broken and the power of the many can be established.

The remedy for all is with the people themselves. And it must be furnished at the caucuses. Heretofore the caucuses have been run in the interests of a few, who have taken upon themselves the burden of government. The salvation of municipal government, and of all government, lies in the people assuming the burden them-selves. The children of the nation attend schools and colleges; millions of dollars are spent in their support. What are these schools worth unless the children are taught the true republican doctrine of self-govern-

We have national codes and state codes and municipal codes by the ton. We need and municipal codes are to the ton. a few more. A practical primary election law is more important than all the rest. The law should provide that no man should vote at a general election who does not vote at the primary election. The days on which elections are held should be legal holidays, and a fine should be imposed upon every citizen who does not have interest enough in the city in which he liver to spend ten minutes once a year to take part in its government.

There is no better proof of the excellence of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup than that it is recommended by leading physicians.

That Depot Out of Sight. Some commercial travelers were yesterday talking about the new St. Louis train on the "Q."

"That St. Louis depot may be a fine depot," said Eli Perkins, "but you ought to see the Omaha depot."
"Is it a good one?" asked a traveling man.
"Good?" remarked Eli. "Why, it's out of sight. You ought to see it. Nothing would give you more pleasure than to see that new depot in Omaha. It's simply wonder-

A New York commercial man looked all around for the depot when the bridge train stopped, and meeting Eli, said: "Why, where is the depot?"
"It's just as I said, replied Eli. "It's out of sight.

"So would everybody in Omaha."

place SEQUEL TO THE FIGHT AT SARPY MILLS

ored at Sarny Mills on last Saturday night. The two principals, conqueror and conquered alike, are lying in the guard house under arrest and awaiting court-martial, while there are about 100 other privates who tremble in their boots every time an officer ooks at them. The two prize fighters and prisoners are Privates Cavanaugh and Murphy. The for-ers, and the two men and a quantity of The champion and his opponent returned to the fort at once, one full of elation and the other weighed down with gloom and defeat. But joy and grief were both dis-turbed by the fact that they no sooner set foot in the fort than they were both ar-rested and marched to the guard house, where they are now confined under lock and key and several well loaded rifles.

If it is possible to discover who of the soldiers were at the fight as speciators, they will also be arrested. It will be difficult to discover the guilty persons, however, as there are about 100 men who were excused from duty over Sunday. This number is given leave of absence every Sunday. An attempt will be made to get from the prisoners the names of some of those present. It has been stated that the two men fought for a purse which was furnished by the officers at the fort. This is most emphatisally denied by Colonel Bates. While he has no doubt that there was a purse in eight, he mays that he is sure that it was not made up by the officers. That is another point ossible from the two prisoners It is stated by the officers that there need be no surprise if the guard house is stored full of prisoners in a short time. A very determined effort is being made to learn who were present at the mill, and if the discovery is made, all of the soldier specta-tors will be arrested. The United States ntends, the commanding officer says, to frown own upon anything in the way of a prize fight by soldiers.

The privates look upon the interference of their officers as something uncalled for They say that they attended the mill while off duty and that if they are liable to anyone, it is to the state authorities and not their officers. The two prisoners are looked upon as martyrs. Neither Cavanaugh nor Murphy is dis-figured, or injured as a result of their fight. Both appeared for duty nothing the worse

READY FOR THE WHEEL SHOW

Bicycle Men Have Now Captured the Guards' Armory. Omaha has had a dog show, a poultry show nd society circus already this season, and today will witness the opening of the bicycle show at the Guards' armory on Capitol avenue. A large force of carpenters, bicycle mer and electricians are rapidly transforming the old rink into a thing of beauty in anticipation of the crowds which are sure to attend.

Not many years ago the first exhibition of this kind was held, and the promotera trembled lest it should prove a failure. A few weeks ago, in Chicago, the largest covered inclosure in the United States was filled with exhibits, and many exhibitors had to seek spaces in adjoining buildings. Messrs. Pixley and Lund are experiencing the same difficulties here, and all the space was taken so quickly that they wished that they had twice as much at their disposal.

Many of the large eastern houses are going to put their exhibits up just as they had them at the Chicago show, while many interesting side features will be put in by the local dealers.

One firm has a giraffe bicycle, which is twelve feet high, although the wheels are of the ordinary size and the same distance apart. Another has an automatic track, which registers the distance the rider travels. The different racing men of the city will ride against time on this, and it is also said that Johnny Johnson will try it. A large delegation from the Capital City Cycle club, as well as representatives from many other neighboring towns, have signified their intention of being present.

It will be an agreeable surprise to person subject to attacks of billous colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoen Remedy. Vegetables Took a Tumble. Barney Leverton, a vegetable peddier, met with a streak of hard luck yesterday. His horses were hitched to a telegraph post at Fifteenth and Jackson streets and be-came frightened at a piece of paper. They broke the hitching strap and started off. They ran only a bleck, but that block was literally strewn with apples, potatoes and other vegstables. When the team was other vegetables. When the team was brought to a standstill the wagon was empty. While Leverton was stopping his horses people from houses and shops along the street picked the vegetables off the pavement, so that when Leverton turned around his stock had vanished.

RESULT OF CAPTAIN RUSTIN'S SUIT.

Furnishes a Sure Tip for Accident Insurance Policy Holders. The result of the suit brought by Captain Locked Up in Guard House for Violating C. B. Rustin against the Standard Life and Accident Insurance company, is a warning to these persons of an investigating turn of mind who allow that particular faculty to be exercised only at long intervals. Captain Rustin carries an accident policy in the Standard, one of the clauses of which recites that the insured shall not engage in athletic exercises of a sportive character, except as a means of exercise, Last summer Captain Rustin was a visitor Last summer Captain Rustin was a vistor to Courtland beach and was a spectator at the exhibitions given by an alleged "strong man." This individual toyed with great weights which were represented to weigh 225 and 450 pounds, respectively. Captain Rustin watched the exhibition for some time and noticed that the young boys who were acting as assistants handled the heavy weights with considerable case. He finally concluded that there was a fake in the performance and determined to investigate a little. He took a firm hold of the larger of the two weights, and, after bracing his feet firmly, gave it a yank that he learned during the old days when running a steamboat on the river. Something had to come, but in-stend of being the weight it was one of the ligaments in the captain's back, and after cogliating on the subject during the two weeks he spent in bed, he concluded that against the insurance company, by a flat refusal, based on the clause referred to herstofore. He commenced suit against the company and the case was taken up for hearing in Judge Scott's court. When the evidence in support of the claim had been introduced yesterday, the defense made a motion for a dismissal on the ground that sufficient ground for a suit had not been shown. The motion was sustained and the jury instructed to bring in a verdict for the defendant.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR FEEL HURT. Expulsion from American Federation of Labor Was Unexpected. Knights of Labor have been discussing with considerable indignation the action of the lodge of unskilled labor of the American Federation of Labor in expelling all knights from that body. The breach between act that they were warned not to engage in them and the Federation and the Contral he fight. Both had applied for, and received Labor union is thus still further widened orloughs for several days. After the leaves and the bitter feeling begotten by the controversy respecting the organization of the musicians' assembly and the expulsion of the knights from the Central Labor union has been much intensified.

The unskilled labor lodge is the largest of fore the fight. The furloughs were at once cancelled and the men were warned not to engage in the mill. Despite this, they took their usual leaves of Saturday and Sunday, and the fight came off.

If it is possible to discover who of the soldiers were at the fight as spectators, they will also be arrested. It will be difficult to discover the guilty persons, however, as there are about 100 men who were excussed from are about 100 men who were excussed from the knights. It was their plan, so members of the majority say, to get through a motion declaring all the offices in the lodge vacant, and then fill them with men more to their and then fill them with men more to their liking. Before they got ready to spring the matter others got wind of their plan through their solicitations for support, and then the motion to exper was made, and after a bitter discussion, carried by a good majority. It is stated by the Federation that the Knights' members were only there at the instigation of the Knights of Labor leaders to cause discord in the lodge and seek to to cause discord in the lodge and seek to bring about its disruption, and the leaders are further charged with continually trying to be investigated and it will be obtained if to use their connection with organized labor for political purposes. The members who went out under ban declare that they had no unworthy reasons for sesking a change of officers, the only aim being to secure such as would act fairly toward all parties and elements concerned.
