Being Tried for Wife Poisoning.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Feb. 11.-(Special.) -A murder case that is attracting attention all over the state is on trial in the district court of Chickasaw county at New Hampton. It is that of L. R. Van Tassel, who is charged with the murder of his wife, and if the state succeeds in proving what it claims it will be able to, he is one of the worst villains of the day. A little less than five years ago Van Tassel, who had always borne an excellent reputation, was married to a beautiful young lady of New Hampton, who had been a leading school teacher of that near been a testing school teacher of that county. She was suddenly taken ill, and on June 5, 1895, after a few days' illness, died. Van Tassell and his wife had, as far as known, always lived a happy life. He was very devoted to her and she thought the world of him. Yet he showed little or no grief at her death, and in about two weeks began making violent protestations of love to a sister of his late wife. This lead the people to become suspicious, and some of the neighbors set on foot a series of in-vestigations. They found that Van Tassel had purchased poison at three different places only a short time before the death of his wife. A detective was employed, who claims to have secured a confession that the prisoner killed his wife. It was upon the strength of this confession thut an indictment was returned against Van Tassel for murder in the first degree. The case was continued from time to time until ment in the senate in favor of resubmission is on the increase, though the most sanguine friends of the measure do not clain to have the necessary number of votes to insure its passage. The senators who have all along been regarded as favorable to re-submission are Bell, Berry, Byers, Carney Cheshire, Druet, Eaton, Ericson, Gilbertson, Gorrell Harriman, Henderson, Hotchkiss, Junkin, Kilbura, Mitchell, Palmer, Perrin, Phelps and Rowen-20. The "hopefuls" are Senators Allyn, Blanchard, Carroll, Carpen-ter, Ellison, Healy, Penrose, Sargeant and Young, Of these Allyn, Blanchard, Carroll Young. Of these Allyn, Blanchard, Carroll and Ellison are now thought to be reasonably certain to support resubmission, which would leave the resubmissionists only two votes short. Strong influences are being Strong influences are brought to bear upon Senators Carpenter, Heaiy, Penrose and Young to bring them over to the support of the resolution, but so far none of these senators have given any indications as to their final action There is a suspicion among the more cautious resubmissionists that they are being led into a trap. They fear that if the re-submission resolution is held in committee too long to get a position high enough up on the general files to be reached in regu-iar order that it may be left "dangling in mid air" when the legislature adjourns, is no secret that if this important resolution s subjected to the tender mercies of Matt Parrott's "sifting committee" it will be cru-cified without any computction. The knowledge of this fact may put the friends of re submission on guard against any unneces-sary delay. As the situation now stands, they have control of things and can choose their own time to take up the matter in committee. committee. While the senate has declined to give the code revision the right of way on the floor, yet the standing committees in many instances have practically set aside the new bills introduced and are bending their energies to a consideration of the code, hoping to get the report in proper shape to be reported back to the senate and placed on the general files by the 1st of March. The action of the standing committee, which is usually conclusive, affords little indication of what final disposition of the code report will be made by the senate itself, or what changes may be approved, as each member reserved the right to antagonize any bill that may come up, though no opposition was offered to it in committee. This course is taken merely for the purpose of facilitating the work of the session, for if factious opposition were made in the committee, bills could be hung up for weeks, and the disputes and wrangles engendered in committee rooms would be intensified when the bill comes up for action in the senate. Senator Pusey, in examining the new code, discovered that the railway bridges at Coun-cil Bluffs, Sloux City, Burlington, Keokuk, linton, Davenport and Dubuque were simply texed as part of the mileage of the rail-ways, instead of separately, as now provided. The ways and means committee re-stored the old law. Had the discovery not been made the cities named would have lost a large amount of revenue. We The senate committee on cities and towns reported favorably on the Harper bill, authorizing cities of the first clars to lay sidewalks through agricultural lands and tax the cost to abutting property by a vote of three-fourths of the city council.

BLOW AT THE DRUG STORES. BLOW AT THE DRUG STORES. Representative M. J. Davis of Cass, him-self a druggist, is an earnest supporter of a bill to prohibit sales of lager beer by drug stores. He says physicians seldom or never prescribe lager beer as a medicine, and it can easily be procured at the saloons, or by the keg if needed in quantities. Represen-tative Early says be has no objection to druggists selling beer, but he insists on their raying the $6 mulct tax, assessed against saloon keepers.

Special Rates on Wheat. CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Western roads took radical action today in regard to rates rom Chicago to the Missouri river. Repfrom Chicago to the Missouri river. Rep-resentations have been made to them that there is no wheat in either Kansas or Nebraska. The people there are in dire need of this cereal, but the high tariff rate of 24 cents from Chicago to the Mis-souri river is prohibitive. It was therefore decided to put an emergency rate of 12 cents per 100 pounds into effect immediately on wheat shioments from Chicago to the Missouri river, until the present wheat famine in the two state is relieved.
