On Friday and Saturday of next week Alexander Salvini will be the attraction at Boyd's theater, and will be seen for the first time in Omaha in the character of "Hamlet."

"Darkest America" is what Al G. Fields calls his unique production, which will be the attraction at the Creighton this evening and for two performances tomorrow. The aggregation is composed of fifty genuine colored people, who are said to excel in presenting to the public a performance entirely different from the average burnt cork performances, yclept minstrels. A typical representation of plantation pas-times wil be offered, the eccentric humor times will be onered, the eccentric numor of the negro being shown in scenes peculiar to these people, introducing camp meeting shouters, buck and wing dancing and a com-pany of singers, dancers and comedians. The usual matinee will be given tomorrow,

John Dillon will endeavor to please Creighton patrons with his successful com-edy, "Wanted, the Earth," during the four nights commencing Sunday matinee, February 16. Mr. Dillon is said to have scored a decided hit with this production. The play is described as giving this popular player ample opportunities for that display of character acting, which has made his name familiar to playgoers.

Men for the Street Work.

While the snow has put a temporary stop to street cleaning operations, there is no cessation in the demand for work from the unemployed. At least 200 laboring men were at the city hall yesterday demanding em-ployment. The most deserving were selected and a list of their names and addresses prepared for future reference. Chairman Munro estimates that two shifts of thirty men for three days each will be sufficient to do al! the work there is in sight, so the majority of the applicants will have to be disappointed.
