Advertising Contract Arbitrarily Awarded to Highest Bidder.

MAJORITY REPORT IN THE MATTER IGNORED for Sec. YARD WIDE WHITE JAP SILK, 39C. HAYDEN BROS.

Appointment of Dr. Blythin as Com missioner of Health Referred-Action on Market House Petitions.

The city council had a remarkably light grist of business on hand last night, but by the introduction of a little surplus oratory the members prolonged the session to about the usual length. Nearly all the business that was transacted was of a routine charac The matter of city advertising, which was laid over at the last meeting, was settled without discussion. The majority report of the committee recommended that the contract be let to the lowest bidder, according to the tabulated statement of the bids, which showed The Morning Bee to be the lowest bidder. Axford as one member of the committee had presented a minority report, recommending that the contract be awarded to the Evening World-Herald, When the reports were called up last night Hascall immediately moved that the minority report be adopted. This was seconded by Bing-ham and adopted. Ayes—Allan, Axford Bingham, Burmester, Christie, Hascall, Prince, Taylor, Wheeler, President Saunders Nays-Burkley, Kennard, Kment,

By the provision of the minority report the city attorney was directed to draw u contract with the Evening World-Herald, but this proved to be altogether superfluous, as the contract was already on the clerk's desk and was immediately submitted and approved. The surctics were G. M. Hitchcock and W. H. Wilbur. In the meantime Private Secretary Wertz had been sent out to summon Mayor Broatch, who went into the president's private office. Clerk Higby brought him the contract, which was immediately signed. By way of making it a clinch Wheeler submitted a resolution by which the aforesaid publication was declared which the aforesaid publication was declared the official paper of the city. It passed. The mayor's appointment of Dr. J. Biythin as commissioner of health was referred to the committee on judiciary.

A committee of the bondsmen of Henry the reports presented by the experts and documents bearing on the treasury The communication was referred to the finance committee and the city attorney, with power to act. The bondsmen intimated that their examination of the records was in pursuance of their purpose to settle with the city.

The same action was taken on a petition from Rocco Bros, and others, protesting against the proposed change in the location of the market district. The market gardeners also presented a long petition, asking that a market place be established on Capitol avenue, from Eleventh to Fifteenth streets, and stated in detail the regulations which they desired to have established. There was a long controversy as to whether the market place petitions should go to the committee on police or to a special committee. Wheeler read a personal com-munication from W. S. Poppleton, in which the idea of leasing the Exposition hall propfor a market house was suggested members, who were in favor of the Capitol avenue plan fought for a special committee, but they were outvoted, the whole subject was turned over to the nittee on police. The city meat inspector recommended amendments to the present ordinance, by which more cleanliness was made necessary in the dressing of chickens for the market

Kennard was the progenitor of a resolu tion, instructing the comptroller that when any claim was presented by a person of corporation for any services rendered, or material furnished to the city, he should deduct all personal taxes due the city from the person or corporation.

Prince objected on the allegation that the supreme court had decided that personal taxes could not be collected from a corporation in any such manner. After some further discussion, the resolution went to the committee on judiclary.

They were also to take steps to have prosecution instituted in each case.

Wheeler stated that there was a state lay that covered all that was contemplated by that covered all that was contemplated by the resolution, and more too. The council had enough to do without attending to a matter which was a subject for the consider-ation of the county attorney. Hascall sug-gested that the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners had charge of all such matters, and with these preliminary hunches, the resolution was referred to the committee of

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE

Meeting of Local Association Addressed by Dr. Byles.

DESCRIPTION OF THE ENGLISH SYSTEM

Important Differences Between it and the American Plan-Much Larger Percentage of Attendance -Some Omaha Figures.

The fifth conference of the Omaha Sunday School association was held last night at broughout the length and breadth of the the First Congregational schurch. There was a good attendance. The meeting was opened by Silas Cobb, who explained that President Wallace was confined to his bed and unable to be present. Rev. A. Helden Byles, D. D., of England was the first speaker, his topic being "The Senday School from an English Point of View. He said it was about fifty years since he first became a Sunday school scholar in England and he had been actively identified don't know anything about the trunks?"

with the work ever rince. His work in that He in the same manner denied knowledge with the work ever since. His work in that line had been in England, with the exception of two years, which he spent in Berlin while in attendance at the university there, but even there his work in the Sunday school was continued, he having assisted in starting a Sunday school there. He said he used to have a strong interest in the American Sunday school and intended coming to this country several years ago, but was unable to arrange his affairs so as to do so until about a year ago, when he came with the intention of remaining six months, but had addition to two large lecture rooms, and just before I came away it was found necesto build more class rooms. The system of having claspes in separate rooms has been ound to be the best. By having all the classes in one large room the attention of one class is attracted to what is going on in another class, and it is impossible to ac-complish good results in this way. I find n this country that large class; s are strongly | tache. be the attraction at the Creighton low-priced give him a large class.

GIVE IT MORE TIME. "Another difference I find is this: We give more time to Sunday schools than you do here. We have a morning and an afternoon session. We do not push our Sunday school off into a corner, but give a great deal of attention to that work. In my own church we have a school of 400 young men and woman, besides a class of 100 working-men. Besides that, we have a meeting in men. Besides that, we have a meeting in the afternoon especially for workingmen, at which 1,200 men attend every Sunday. This meeting is managed by the young men of the bible class. Our Sunday schools meet in the mernings from 9:30 to 10:45, and in the afternoons from 2 to 3:30 o'clock. The doors are closed when the time for the meetng arrives and all who are not prompt are We give prizes to all who are ounctual in attendance at every meeting of the year, and just before I came away I distributed 280 such prizes to pupils who had not missed a meeting during the year. "Another very radical difference which I have noticed is that with us at least fourfifths of the scholare are children whose parents never come to church. It is exceptional for the children of Christian parents to come to Sunday school. I have nlways een in favor of the idea of children of Chris-age attend Sunday school. They may not be regular in their attendance, but they are on he books of some Sunday school, "I admit that your system of day schools here in superior to curs, but we have nearly as fine graded schools as you have, and we have a compulsory law which requires that all children of school age shall attend day school, but, notwiths anding that law and its eas nable enforcement, we have found that we have 12,090 more children in our Sunday schools than we have in our day schools. "We also differ from you in that we have the bible taught in our day schools by Chrisian teache's. I had always been in favor of ecular education in the schools and was an arcent supporter of the American system, but since I came here I have changed my mind. If there is no Christian education in the day schools the work of the Sunday school bould be extended. "Another point of difference is that we have quarterly meetings for the teachers in our Sunday schools. These meeting from 6 until 10 p. m., and the pastors These meetings last cons and teachers meet together and have mutual conference and prayer with reference to Sunday school work. We also have weekly meetings for the teachers, for the discussion of Sunday school topics, etc.

CLOSELY ALLIED TO THE CHURCH. "In England we always have the closest connection between the church and the Sun-day school. The Sunday school is the rock which forms the foundation of the church. You might as well attempt to build a house without a foundation as to build a church without a Sunday school. You may get together a congregation by means of a popular preacher, or, what seems a not unusual method in western cities, by means of a popular einger, only to find the whole thing blown to the winds. But I have known a church to be held together without a pastor olely by reason of the Sunday school.

I favor the idea of the teachers nominating the superintendent, but he should be appointed by the church. New teachers should also be named at a church meeting, so that all may know who the teachers are. reachers should be ordained and sent forth with prayers and the sympathy of the church. They should feel that they are called by God and ordained to God's work. Unless the teacher feels that she is teaching as a means of bringing souls to Christ, the teaching is a farce. At the close of the address several ques-At the close of the address several ques-tions were asked Dr. Byles by different ones in the audience, bringing out more clearly some of the points touched upon. Superintendent Gillan of the Walnut Hill Methodist church called attention to the fact that a recent count had shown that there are about 30,000 children of school age in the city, and about 6,000 in attendance at the various Sunday Schools, making about 20 per cent instead of 13 per cent, mentioned

The meeting was then divided into four sections and each assembled in different rooms to discuss topics of particular interest to each section. The section of superintendents was under the leadership of T. C. Wallace of Hillside Congregational church; the bible class section was under Dr. Byles; the intermediate teachers under Miss Irene Simmons of Beth-Eden Baptist, and the primary teachers under Mrs. P. L. Perrine of the First Presbyterian.

At 1:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon Detective Smith, alias Stanley Chaycomb, who will be charged with robbing graves in Mount Hope cemetery. The prisoner insisted that his name was Smith and not Claycomb, despite the fact that he has been positively identified as Clavcomb.

"I have nothing to say," he remarked, and this was all that could be obtained from him, except that he would make a dental when he was arraigned in court. He would confess nothing. Claycomb was taken from the train and about a year ago, when he came with the intention of remaining six months, but had been detained longer than he originally intended.

During his stay here the speaker said he had given a great deal of attention to the Sunday school system and he was struck most forcibly with the broad differences between this country and his native land.

"In Eugland," he said, "we have fewer carpets and more class rooms. In my own school we had twenty-tight class rooms, in addition to two large lecture rooms, and charge of opening a grave and taking a dead body therefrom. This was the charge in the requisition papers, and it was thought pest to put the exact wording opposite his

The gang was suspected of Bruton gang. The gang was suspected of doing a lot of thieving in the city and surrounding country and Claycomb's house was searched for stolen property. The trunk was found in a back room, and contained a number of pairs of shoes, which were identified as having been stolen from a store near Caihoun. C'aycomb then said that the trunk belonged to Steve Hall, one of the other members of the gang. It was allowed to re-beronged to Steve Hall, one of the other mem-bers of the gang. It was allowed to re-main in Claycomb's house after his arrest. Early yesterday the bodles of Mrs. Larsen and Jacob Helin, stolen from Mount Hope cemetery, arrived at the union depot They were encased in the same caskets which contained them when they were in the ground. The coffins had been forwarded to Des Moines. They are consigned to Detec-tive Cox and will be held by the police until the bod'es have been identified and will then be turned over to the cemetery authorities, or to the relatives.

Accompanying the coffins were the two trunks in which the bodies were shipped to Des Moines. These were objects of considerable interest to depot employes and lotterers. Both trunks are small end it appears as if the grave robbers must have had considerable difficulty in stowing the bodies within them. One is a particularly small and narrow box. It is but a few inches tian parents being taught at home.

"I have been told by a minister in Omain that only about 13 per cent of the children of school age attend Sunday school. > Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Utah and Nebraska cattlemen, as it has been the custom of stockmen to visit Texas about this time of the year and purchase feeders. The committee had several conferences with Secretary Morton, who stated that if the people of Texas would guarantse that no cattle afflicted with fever or other disease would be shipped north he was willing to go back to the quarantine line of 1895. A telegram was sent to the governor of Texas stating the case and a reply was received from the governor stating that he and the State Sanitary board had fixed the Texas state quarantine for the current year to agree with the federal quar-antine line of 1895 and had adopted rules and regulations for the maintenance of the same in accordance with the federal regula-tions. Secretary Morton indicated to the committee that upon receipt of documentary evidence confirming the governor's telegram he would change the present quarantine line to conform to the Texas state line, which would place both lines at exactly the same point the federal line occupied during the season of 1895.
> The 1895 line commenced at El Paso and ran in a southeasterly direction along the Rio Grande to the twenty-ninth parallel thence northeasterly to the Arkansas border thus leaving out the Panhandle of Texas and the western part of Oklahoma. This section, which the new orders will leave open, is full of cattle and hundreds of head are shipped north from that locality every year, especially at this time, when the move-ment of westerns is light. The Texas cattle which are not sent to the range for feeder are used by the packing houses as canners The committee also called upon the house ommittee on ways and means and made ome statements concerning the embargoes on American beef placed by Germany and Belgium. Mr. Hake said that the committe ilstened attentively to the statements made and appeared to be interested in the matter. Figures were produced by the live stock men showing the decrease in cattle shipments ence the embargo and also the number of head shipped before the embargo was placed. The senate committee on agriculture is also investigating the embargoes placed by foreign countries on American meat food products and appears to take considerable interest in the question. Senator Gear assured the committee that the senate would do all in its power to remove the embargoes, or in year, to say nothing of other expenses. In event of failure in that line, to bring such foreign countries to time by excluding their exports from this country until such time as they would receive American live stock and meat food products under reasons ble restrictions.

Bee, Feb. 25, '96. All About Hats

Our new styles in bats are now ready.

That means you can now step up to our second floor and buy the same identical shape and the same identical quality of a hat that you get at the swell batters, and save from 50c to $2.00 on any hat you may

This is nothing new with us. We do it every season. We have been doing it for years and we expect to do more of it this year than ever before. Many a man will pay us 75c for a soft or stiff hat this year and save half a dollar then and there. If he wants to pay us one dollar for a hat he will get just as good a hat as if he paid somebody else a two dollar bill, and if he wants to be real swell he will buy our "Nebraska Special" for $1.50. This is the hat that five thousand people bought last year and ten thousand ought to buy this year because it is a $3.00 hat in disguise. If some other name was in place of "Nebraska Special" in the lining you couldn't tell the difference between it and a $3.00 hat.

We will sell hats this season at $2.00 that are marked $3.50 in places where they sell nothing but hats and if you are in the habit of paying $5.00 for your new spring hat somewhere else, buy it here this spring and you will get $2.00 change.

That's our idea of selling hats.

Contrary to expectations, the persons having in charge the petition requesting the city council to divide the First ward did not present it to the city council at Monday night's meeting. A number of First warders are in favor of the division, but declined to sign the petition on account of the extra expense the city. Two additional councilmen speaking about the matter yesterday, Johnston said that if the ward were divided now the new councilmen would of course insist upon having electric street lights, cross walks and fire hydrants and the city is in no condition financially at the present time to incur any more indebtedness. For that mayor and some of the councilmen are in favor of waiting.

United Presbyterians Preparing for the National Convention. A call was issued several days ago by Rev. Edgar MacDill of the Park Avenue United Presbyterian church for a union meeting of the young people's societies of that denomination in the city. Last evening a large number were in attendance to discuss the coming convention of the societies of the denomination in this city August 16. Dr. MacDill said that the eighth annual national convention of the Christian Union societies of the United Presbyterian church had positively been located in this city and that 8,000 visitors from the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and many of the western cities would be in

Very little had been said of the matter outside of the church, but the prospects were that the convention would prove an affair of large proportions. Special rates had been made by all the raircoads centering here and there was now no bar to the suc-cessful execution of the project. The conventions of the unions in the past had brought out almost as large gatherings as the c'al rates to the members. Many speakers of national reputation would be present to address the societies instituted for special instruction, which would be organized at the
