Tory Ministers Seem Not Willing to Follow Their Chief Implicitly.

NILE CAMPAIGN WAS A SURPRISE

Premier Had Not Conferred with His Colleagues on the Matter.

WANT HIM TO GIVE UP THE FOREIGN OFFICE

Report to the Effect that He Will Be Asked to Resign in Favor of Lord Lansdowne—A Safe Man.

LONDON, March 21.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Persistent rumors of dissensions in the British cabinet over the Sudan advance are current in well informed political circles.

That any serious cabinet disruption is impending is not probable, as Tories never risk their hold on office by breaking up no matter what essential differences may exist among them on matters of policy.

It is stated on the best authority that the majority of the cabinet know nothing of the intended Nile campaign until they saw it announced by the Times' Cairo correspondent.

It is an exaggeration to say that the premier's series of diplomatic blunders since he assumed office has put the future of the government in doubt.

A movement is on foot in influential circles, it is understood, to induce him to resign the foreign secretaryship in favor of Lord Lansdowne, ex-viceroy of India, who would be amenable to the influence of his colleagues.

It is understood that the French government is desirous of buying the concession to avoid a suit at law.

Ambassador Bayard says he will make no statement in regard to the resolution of censure adopted by the house of representatives at Washington.

By some strange fatality all the London newspapers say this morning that ex-Consul Waller was only released yesterday from the French prison at Nimel.

PARIS, March 21.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—O'Brien, the noted New York bunco man, sentenced this week to penal servitude for life for the murder of Waddell, has appealed.

BEELIN, March 21.—A conflict between the Bundersath, Reichstag, Count von Podawsky, secretary of the imperial treasury, and Dr. Miquel, Prussian minister of finance, has arisen out of the motion of Dr. Lieber, the clerical party leader, to set aside half of the imperial surplus for 1896-97 in order to pay off that much of the national debt.

It became known today that France, through M. Herbetie, the French ambassador, has sounded Germany during the week as to whether the idea of a European conference to regulate Egyptian affairs would be acceptable.

It is generally believed that Emperor William's visit to Italy is connected with the renewal of the Dreihund and the suggested modifications thereof.

Reichstag Members Hold a Banquet and Ignore the Press.

BERLIN, March 21.—Nearly all of the present members of the Reichstag were in attendance at the Reichstag banquet tonight.

Baron von Hugel-Borenberg, president of the Reichstag, in responding to the toast "The Emperor," recalled the enthusiasm which marked the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the empire.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

William Hartman Shoots His Wife and Then Himself.

THEY WERE ALONE IN THE HOUSE

Bodies Found by a Little Son Returned from Play.

THAT OF THE WIFE IN CLOSED CLOSET

Husband in Adjoining Room with Revolver by His Side.

CAUSE OF DEED NOT PLAINLY APPARENT

Some Evidence that the Man Was Insane or Jealous—Young People Who First Met in Germany.

William Hartman, 1338 South Sixteenth street, shot and killed his wife yesterday some time between the hours of 2 and 9 o'clock p. m.

Shortly after 9 o'clock last evening the two little children of Hartman, Walter and Clara, aged 7 and 5, respectively, returned to their home.

A few moments later he rushed back to his companions on the lower floor and said that there was something the matter with his papa.

The children hurried back to the house of Mr. Eden and informed him of the matter and he telephoned the police station.

Mr. Eden and in company with George Brunning, entered the house. Hartman was found lying in the middle room of the cottage, which contained but three rooms, near a door that leads into a small room.

In a small closet that opened off the room in which Hartman was found, the officer discovered what he first took to be a bundle of dark clothes.

When Coroner Burkett arrived the body of the woman was taken from the closet and it was seen that she had been killed by a shot fired close behind the right ear.

The hands of the dead woman were before her eyes, as if they had been held up to ward off a blow, and they had stiffened in that position.

Little which threw any light upon the tragedy. In the room next one of the children's cot, the black bodice of Mrs. Hartman's dress was found, as if it had been dropped there while dressing.

Hartman was found clothed in a dark blue shirt, black vest and pants, with his feet encased in slippers.

Walter Hartman said: "I did not have to go to school today, so mamma told Clara and I a little after breakfast that we might go out and play with the other children."
