Chunk of Nemaha Gounty Set Across the River by a Cut-Off. CLAIMS THE LAND

> cullar Transfer and Prepare to Resist the Sale as Swamp Lands.

LINCOLN, March 26 .- (Special.)-A controversy has arisen between the residents of Nemaha county, this state, and those of Atchison county, Missouri, regarding the ownership of about 1,500 acres of land which was originally, and probably now is, a portion of the state of Nebraska. A portion of Island precinct, Nemaha county, is bounded by the Missouri river, which makes a large horse-shoe curve at this point some fifteen miles in length. Included in this curve is the disputed territory. It appears that the river has opened a new channel by shooting across the narrow portion of the neck of this land, and, in fact, cutting off a large portion of the bottom lands, leaving the residents to be taxed by two states. Where the old in the middle of the Missouri, all is now dry land. The latter state is claiming all the territory east of the new channel, cut since 1859, as property of that state. It is being claimed as swamp land and offered for sale by Missouri. Nemaha county people today filed a protest with Governor Holcomb, and ask that proper steps be taken to adjust the difference of opinion existing regarding this territory. The county attorney of Nemaha county has advised the governor of the condi-tion of affairs. The governor has not yet signified what course he will pursue in the promises, but he thinks that a boundary commission may be appointed to settle th controversy. TRANSFER SWITCH MATTER.

Secretary Sutherland of the State Board of Transportation was engaged today in drafting a plot of the lots immediately adforming the depot property of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley rair ad property at O'Neill, Holt county. Under a recent de-claion of the supreme court of the state this road refuses to put in a transfer switch a O'Nell, although the Sloux City, O'Nell & Western railroad, which forms a junction with the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Val-ley road at this point is willing to do so. Tomorrow a portion of the Board of Trans-portation will go to Chicago to see the officials of the Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley read in regard to the matter. though the supreme court has declared the transfer switch law unconstitutional and void, Attorney General Churchill is of the opinion that the roads can be compelled to put in transfer switches under the common law, and on the ground that they are not providing proper depet facilities. The attorney general will accompany the board members to Chicago. The board desires to make a test case of this, as it was argued by counsel for the corporations when the trans-fer switch case was before the court that the board had its redress in the common law. Secretary Sutherland said that the board desired to secure the opinion of the court as to whether or not it had any redress under the common law before the session of the next legislature. Should the court hold that it had further legislation in the way of a new transfer switch law would be a colded. Governor Holcomb today issued a requisi tion on the governor of Oklahoma for Ban-jamin Robertson, who is wanted in Nemaha county on a statutory charge. The com-plainant is William, Speis, whose daughter front foot, $0.113618. artist in a role more worthy of her ability. "Men and Women" will be repeated to WAHOO, Neb., March 26 .- (Special.)-Willlam Swan, Charles Burnett and George Doles night, and at the Saturday matinee, on which started last night for an extended trip in the south. The principal place of interest to be visited is Venezuela. They will go to New

end of the week's engagement the Frawley company was perhaps actuated by a desire t leave the best possible impression behind against its second coming, which, it is pleasure to announce, is assured for next season. The Creighton last night was the scene of the shedding of more tears than have been wept at one sitting hereabouts for a long time, and was the theater as well of a drama so well constructed, well written and well played, that there is no seriou fault to be found with it from first to last, "Men and Women" is characterized in the bill as "a drama of our times," which is a misnomer in that the play has to do with emotions and interests which are not passing phases of the existence of mankind, but be iong to all times and all peoples. Hence it is that "Men and Women" and others like it will keep on striking deep and solemn. chords which will vibrate long after the labor question and other vexatious problems have been solved; and hence it was that the company was able to send its audience home last night more genuinely and intelligently pleased than any audience which it has yet dismissed in Omaha. As a whole, Mr. Frawley's group of players Was seen to the best possible advantage in "Men and Women." Several of the mem-bers, whose light had been hid under a bushel in the other plays of the repertory, had their first real opportunity to shine, notably, Mr. King, who offered an admirably restrained performance of Governor Rodman, the Jean Valjean from Arizona. His two long speeches-that in which he confesses his ong explated crime to the young man who would marry his daughter, and that other, where he acknowledges the truth of the ac cusation brought against him by Stedman at the directors' meeting-were delivered with a dignity and a depth of feeling which eserved a share in the applause which was heartily bestowed upon the noble utterances but seldom upon the excellent acting, of others, Mr. Bosworth also mide friends by his clever work in the small eccentric role of Pendleton, who knew every one's father and did good deeds accordingly; incomuch that one was glad to see the honest gentleman responding to a curtain call with the rest after he had put on his tippet and mittens and started for home to get a night's rest efore he saved the bank in the morning t rate of a million a day. Mr. Osbourne's stael Cohen was a thoroughly fine and con istent study of a character more complex ban those to which he has been cast hitherto, and Mr. Encs added another to his list f successes in the heavy-villainous role of tedman. Mr. Frawley was once more in his lement in the lighter passages of a juvenile over's part, Mr. Blakemore was genuinely amusing as a political colonel, and Mr. Leslie, in a blonde wig, was another youthful over. Mr. Arbucklo, as the erring and reventant cashier, did by all odds the best work he has shown here, and that is very high praise, when one remembers his Sen-ator Rivers. It may perhaps be said that he does not altogether look the part, but in the face of his masterly performance, particularly at the strong close of the third act would be silly to weigh any possible hysical deficiencies in the balance. It is ot believed that bank cashiers are of uniform habit and stature, or that good women stow their affection exclusively upon men ither stout or thin. The ladies, except Miss Kennark and Miss Bates, have little to do in "Men and allow Bates, have little to do in "Men and Women;" in fact, were it not for the char-acter of Agnes, the play might as well be called "Men." Miss Kennark played that gracious role with the fine intelligence which has remembed her accent accented by a second has remarked her every appearance here, and which leads the friendly observer to for yet greater achievements from he he future. Miss Bates' merry and infectious laugh was conspicuously in evidence in a part which gave its owner reason to be almost constantly amused. Miss Ross and Miss Rowan had not much to do, and Miss McAllieter fulfilled so admirably the little requirements of her part as to cause one to hope that an opportunity may be afforded at some future time to see this accomplished

SERVICES TO BE HELD AT TEMPLE ISRAEL

How the Festival is Observed by the Orthodox and the Reformed Jews-The Scriptural Directions.

At sundown tomororw evening will begin he Feast of the Passover, or the feast of unleavened bread, the Jewish easter. Among the orthodox Jews it will be observed for eight days, and among the reformed Hebrews for only seven days. The latter are not so strict as the former in abstaining from all but unleavened bread during the feast.

The Feast of the Passover is one of the nost important of the many feasts on the Hebrew calendar, but as to when it had its beginning-before or after the exodus-is one of the unsettled points in Jewish history. The story of the Passover is one of the most complicated subjects in Hebrew history, and has been the great subject of all Pentateuch criticism.

The date of the event in the Hebrew calndar this year agrees with the modern date March 29, but as all Jewish holidays begin the evening before, it will be ushered in at sundown on the 28th.

The occasion is more observed by family The latter are preliminary to the family festivals than by worship in the synagogues. The latter are preliminary to the family festival services, which are observed in re-membrance of the deliverance of the Jewish matter from the deliverance of the Jewish nation from their bondage in Egypt. These preliminary services will be held in Temple oracl tomorrow evening at 7:15 o'clock. The pervices will be brief, the sermon being omitted. Sunday morning at 10 o'clock Rev. Leo Franklin will preach on "The Modern Moses.

The unleavened bread, which is known as matzoths, is composed only of flour and water, and is made into a large, thin wafer. In most countries matzeths are baked ovens, but in Jerusalem they are baked by the heat of the sun.

During the holidays rice is the only seed that may be used as food, and it only in case the supply of matzoths should be insufficient. Green vegetables, meats and fresh fruits are not prohibited, but no liquors, only when are drunk during the festival week. When the time for the celebration of the commemorative feast draws near the family gathers around a large table. The head of the family sees that there is no leavened bread in the house, and then places the matzoths before him on the table. The meal is placed upon the board, and a thorough demo-cratic spirit prevails, servants and employers alike sharing the ceremonies which fol-

Each person present at the opening service is required to drink four glasses of wine dur-ing the rites. The wine is drunk in commemoration of the expressions used in the Old Testament at the redemption of the lisraelites. The entire family joins in the hagodah, or service, which begins: "Because we were slaves to Pharaoh in Egypt and God took us out from thence with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm." This recital consumes over an hour, after which the head of the family blesses the unleavened bread and eats some of it with bitter herbs (horse raddish root), in commemoration of the manner in which Hillel, one of the sages of Israel, ate bitter herbs while the Temple stood. After this the family has supper. Then psalms are recited, hymns are sung, and other ceremonies follow, all symbolical of the deliverance from Egypt.

The expectation of the coming of Elijah, who is to foretell the advent of the Messiah,
