Was a Stolen Bicycle. On Sunday evening a stranger asked permission of a saloon keeper on Broadway near Eighth street to leave a bleycle in his place until this morning. There was something about the appearance and action of the man that created the impression that he was a thief and had stalen the wheel, and the saloon man did not desire the pres-ence of either a thief or stolen property about his premises. He was told to get out and take his wheel with him, and did so, The matter was reported to the police, but they did not run across the fellow during the night. Yesterday morning the blcycle was found leaning up against a fence on North Eighth street where the fellow had evidently left it in his hurry to get away. The wheel was taken to the poice court and is being held awaiting its owner. It is a Victor with one red and one black tire.

EXECUTOR SOLD THE PROPERTY ONCE

Transaction of Long Ago Recalled by a Suit Commenced in the District Court to Upset the Deal.

The growth in value of the lands on the Missouri river bottom near Honey Creek is at the bottom of a suit tried yesterday the district court before Judge Smith.

Martin Ittner was guardian of the heirs of Benjamin Ittner in Omaha ten years ago. As such administrator he sold to W. C. Thompson several hundred acres of willow land on the Iowa side of the river and took his pay in cordwood. He credited the heirs in his report to the county judge in Omaha with $500 as the proceeds of the sale. Thompson afterward sold the land to D. C. Redmond. It appears that Ittner never secured authority from any court to sell the Iowa land and never filed letters of administration in Iowa. Now Ernest Ittner, son of Benjamin Ittner, claims the lands, which have since become valuable, and has brought an action in the district court to have his title quieted. His case is against Martin Ittner, although Redmond is, by the nature of the case, the real defendant. Redmond's defense is that the heirs, by having used the $500 paid for the property, are estopped from bringing the action in question.

Judge Smith spent the forenoon yesterday in calling the law docket and making a slashing among the cases that have been hanging fire for a year or more without any action looking to a trial. Heating Apparatus for Eighth Street

Building Settled Upon.
The Board of Education held a brief special session last evening for the purpose of discussing the heating apparatus of the Eighth street school building after the new addition is constructed. Heretofore the building had been heated by stoves in a menner very unsatisfactory to the teachers and ouplis and expensive to the board. Members Robertson and Spruit were absent. In the absence of the president and secretary Member Thomas presided and Prof. H. W. Sawyer acted as secretary.

The question of heating and ventilation was thoroughly gone over. It was shown that the old system of heating with stoves could no longer be followed when the four new rooms were added, and it was also learly shown that with stove heat perfect ventilation was impossible.

Chairman Fonda, from the committee on fuel and heating, made a report recommending a steam plant with two upright boilers. After some discussion the board decided to follow his suggestions and voted unanimously to adopt his report. Bids for the heating plant will be advertised for at the same time estimates are asked of contractors for the erection of the building.

Celly Hough in Trouble Again. From the police court yesterday morning Celly Hough was sent to jail to lay out a fine of $31.30. Celly went to sleep in the gallery of the opera house Sunday night and was not discovered until the watchman went the rounds before locking up. Celly was comfortable and did not want to be disturbed. The controversy speedily led to a disturb-ance between Hough and Watchman Shields. Shields used his club to advantage and with the assistance of Manager Alton, Hough was gotten out of the building and Watchman Shields started to take him to the station. It was a fight all the way to the Inman house. At that point Officers Slead and Peterson took a hand in the fray. It required all three officers to hold Hough until the patrol wagen arrived. Before he could be landed in the wagen by the combined efforts of the three officers, assisted by the colored driver, Andy Neally, he was severely clubbed. A great crowd collected during the fray and followed the wagon to the station.

At 4 o'clock yesterday morning Lee For-man was found asleep on a doorstep on Upper Broadway. He was fined $15 for his drunk and will spend an equivalent amount of days in the city jail. Ed Slade, Ben Johnson and Dan Donegan, a trio of suspicious toughs, were given ten days each upon a charge of vagrancy.

Shepard's House Robbed. The police were looking yesterday morning for a couple of negroes whom they believed were guilty of a very bold and successful burglary at the residence of E. C. Shepard, 227 Bluff street. Mr. Shepard and his family were away from home for a short time during the early evening, and when they returned they quickly discovered that some intruders had been in their home during their absence. absence. Every room in the house had been ransacked and a rear window was found to have been forced. An inventory of the articles of value left in the house showed that a diamond brooch, a revolver, a small amount of money and some clothing had been taken, all amounting to about $125.

Members of Workingmen's Friendly

Cinb Push Several Schemes. The Workingmen's Friendly club held a well attended meeting at the court house last night and discussed a number of matters that promise to prove a benefit to the members of the organization. The question of securing employment in the grading of streets, the chance of home labor in the re-paying of Pearl street and the prospect of work in putting the telephone wires under ground or building a new system according to the plan of A. T. Hazen of Sioux City, were among the topics considered.

Prior to the regular business of the evening the club was favored by a solo sung ty Masier A. T. Headley, a sweet-voiced lad, whose effort was greatly appreciated.

The committee appointed to present the club's request to the council for work on public improvements reported the council's favorable action in the appropriation of money for the improvement of the Indian creek sewer outlet. The pecition of the club received and the control of the council of the club case o money for the improvement of the Indian received some streets was referred to the grading of certain streets was referred to the committee of the whole. The committee was continued in whole. The committee was continued in power and instructed to attend the council meeting next Monday night and see if some action could not be secured looking to the prosecution of the work on the streets.

pany reported that the committee had done some work and would make a final report after the city engineer had tested the hy-drants of the company for pressure. Further time was granted.

The Pingree plan for utilizing the vacant lots of the city for gardening purposes was taken up and discussed at some length. The committee in charge of the work of securing lots reported that already thirty-seven lots John T. Kelly and Gus Williams divided had been secured and that others were prom- honors in the dialect humor department. had been secured and that others were prom-leed. Chairman Tyrrell of the club offered Everybody in the house recognized Gus Wila suggestion to the effect that the club should liams the moment the curtain went up or ascertain how many persons there were on the second act and disclosed the plane sitwho were able to do some gardening and would be willing to take a lot under the proposed plan. On this suggestion a committee was appointed to confer with the overseer of the county poor for the purpose of se-curing the information suggested. The secretary was instructed to make a request upon the secretary of agriculture for seed, and the distribution of lets for the gardens was deferred until next Monday night.

The ordinance pending before the council providing for the placing of telephone wires under ground was brought up by Mr. Breezee. He thought it was a scheme to shut out competition, and was epposed to having the ordinance passed. Chairman Tyrrell suggested that not many members of the club would use telephoner at any price, and he thought there would be more work for the members of the club in building the con-duits for the underground system than there would be in setting up poles and stringing wires for a new system. The matter was referred to a committee to report at the next meeting. The committee will also confer with the Business Men's association on the proposition offered by the Sioux City pro-
