MAY ASK MACKAY TO RESIGN

Governor Holcomb's Probable Action in the Norfolk Asylum Matter.

ONLY COURSE OPEN TO SECURE HARMONY

Findings Based on the Investigation Expected in a Few Days—New Turn in a Mosher Note Suit.

LINCOLN, April 27.—(Special.)—Having concluded his investigation of the Norfolk Hospital for the Insane Governor Holcomb returned home yesterday. He will likely give out his findings within a few days. It is believed that he will still adhere to his former opinion, and ask for the resignation of Dr. Mackay, basing the request on the ground that the removal of the latter is necessary to the restoration of harmony at the institution and to maintain discipline among the employes.

The annual report of the State Banking board has been completed by Secretary Towsley for 1895. During that year there were 447 commercial and savings banks doing business in the state, with an aggregate authorized capital of $9,216,525, giving an average of capital stock of $20,842. During the past year eleven new banks were organized, and forty-six discontinued business from various causes. The latter had an aggregate capital of $1,069,700, and total deposits of $1,305,334.82. The sixteen insolvent banks which were placed in the hands of receivers had an aggregate capital stock of $431,000 and deposits in the sum of $584,665.

Five horses and a cow were burned to death at 10:20 this morning at the corner of Second and F streets. The store and adjacent storehouse and sheds belonging to Conrad H. Bauer were in flames and owing to a high prevailing wind it was some time before the firemen could make much headway. The cow and three of the horses were the property of Mr. Bauer. The other team belonged to a farmer named Ray Horseberger. The total loss is $2,200, which will be covered by insurance, with the exception of the live stock. Cause of the fire is unknown.

One of the important cases set for trial at the May term of district court is that of the Farmers' and Merchants' bank of Galva, Ill., in the nature of a creditor's bill against Charles A. Mosher and R. C. Outcalt, and the various persons and corporations that are supposed to have some of the property of those men. This morning the Bank of Galva filed a motion in which it asked the court to compel C. O. Whedon and C. E. Magoon, Mosher's attorneys, to make more definite and certain their answer. This answer, filed several weeks ago, denies that they hold now, or ever held, large sums or any of the capital stock of the Lincoln Gas company, which is the property of or belongs to Mosher and Outcalt. Over $10,000 worth of this stock has, as yet, never shown up, and several creditors have voiced a belief that a considerable portion of it has been given to Mosher's attorneys in payment for services.

The State Banking board today granted a charter to the German bank of Murdock, a new corporation recently organized in Cass county, with a capital stock of $5,000. Frank H. Stander is president, C. E. Mockenkaupt, vice president and H. R. Neitzel, cashier.

Governor Holcomb today issued a parole to Charles J. Carlsten, who was sent up from Tekamah for forgery. He will be taken by a farmer residing near that place. It is alleged in the petition for his parole that Carlsten offered a forged order on a certain firm, not knowing at the time that it was a forgery.

IN MEMORY OF A. J. CROPSEY.

At a meeting of Farragut post No. 25, Grand Army of the Republic, held Saturday evening, April 25, a resolution was passed asking The Omaha Bee to give place in its columns to the following resolutions on the death of Andrew J. Cropsey:

Whereas, We have heard with sincere sorrow and regrets of the death of our comrade, Andrew J. Cropsey, who departed this life at his home in Ogden, Utah, March 25, 1896; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in taking final leave of our late comrade we do so fully realizing the great and irreparable loss that our post, our city, our state and nation has suffered. And be it further

Resolved, That it is our pleasure to testify of him that in his early manhood and all through life he was a manly man in every sense of the word; that he was a friend to the poor, a defender of the weak, a vigorous and fearless advocate of the right as he saw it, through his keen perception of justice, in the highest sense of that word. As a defender of his beloved country he recruited and took into the field company G of the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth volunteers, and commanded that company until, by his faithful and brilliant services, he won his way to the command of the regiment, where he served until near the end of the war, when on account of failing health, he was reluctantly compelled to return to civil life, where he again became the good citizen that he always was. As a lawyer he gained distinction, but his religious zeal caused him to enter largely into the work of his master, where he worked for years, preaching the doctrine of peace, instead of war, between man and man and between man and his God, that so earnest was he in the advocacy of his master's work that his own interests suffered while he labored without hope of reward, saving an approving conscience for the good of others. And, be it further

Resolved, That, as one of the founders of our beloved city, he was broad, liberal, far-seeing and active, and totally unselfish, and that to him, perhaps, more than any other one man, is due the credit for the comprehensive plan upon which our city and many of its beneficent institutions are founded and built up, until now they have become lasting monuments to his far-seeing ideas and efforts. And, be it further

Resolved, That in taking final leave of our loved comrade, we do so fully aware that he was one who "sowed while others reaped;" that his life was a continual struggle for the benefit of others, without adequate compensation for himself, but that in spite of cruel adverses and insurmountable obstacles, he was always cheerful, always hopeful, fully imbued with the idea that his mission was to work, work until the end, trusting in the promise of his God that he would not be called upon to work and suffer in vain. And, be it further

Resolved, That we fully realize that in his death our post has suffered an irreparable loss, those who knew him a friend indeed, our nation has lost a brilliant and patriotic defender, his state a good citizen, his family a kind and indulgent husband and father. And, be it further

Resolved, That we commend his pure and unselfish life as an example worthy of emulation of all ambitious, patriotic young men; we commend his spirit to the God whom he so faithfully served, hoping and trusting that in the great "unknown beyond" our comrade may reap the unspeakable reward so richly due him for his long years of unrequited toil in this life in which he bore so conspicuous a part.

ENDEAVORERS CONTINUE WORK.

Convention of the Second District at Wahoo.

WAHOO Neb., April 27.—(Special.)—The Christian Endeavor convention of the Second district continued its regular program yesterday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock, at which hour the junior rally was held at the Reformed Presbyterian church. The Junior Endeavor showed a remarkable gain during the past year, and the meeting was very interesting. At 4 o'clock Rev. J. F. Kempes of the Methodist church at this place, talked on the subject of "Citizenship Here and Hereafter" at the Presbyterian church. He made a very strong talk. The convention was closed at the opera house last night, where Rev. George Dell of Nebraska City talked to over 1,200 people on the subject, "Essentials for Soul Winning."

The following is a list of the resolutions adopted:

Be it resolved, That recognizing the blessings which God has bestowed upon the Second district in our work of the past year, that we hereby pledge our united aid and support to the officers of our district and pray God's blessing upon them. And further, be it

Resolved, That we heartily commend the work of the Red Cross society in Armenia and deeply deplore the attitude of the United States government and other powers on the Armenian question. We endorse, as a convention, most heartily the work in missions, as outlined by the missionary speakers on our program, and urge upon our societies the practical value of missionary extension and monthly missionary meetings. We adopt the suggestion of our district secretary, in regard to the efficient work on the part of the district secretaries and congratulate the Juniors upon the remarkable growth during the past year; we recommend to our societies the good citizenship movement, as advocated by the United Societies of Christian Endeavor. The thanks of this convention are due to the Presbyterian, Congregational and Reformed Presbyterian churches for the use of their church buildings; to the Christian Endeavor societies of Wahoo; to those who had kindly rendered special music for the convention; to the reception and entertainment committees for their efficient services; to the citizens of Wahoo, who so hospitably and splendidly entertained the convention; to the business men for their financial aid; to the speakers on the program; to those who so kindly filled vacancies, and especially to Mr. and Mrs. George A. Raymer, for their personal aid and active interest. Our watchwords for the coming year shall be "consecration" and "personality," the two ideas most strongly brought out in the meetings. And be it

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed in the hands of the district press.

Osceola Odd Fellows Celebrate.

OSCEOLA, Neb., April 27.—(Special.)—Rising Star lodge No. 75, Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah, had an old-time entertainment, with feasting, music and speaking Saturday. This was on the afternoon and evening of the seventy-seventh anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America, and this lodge has a few members that are about as old as the order in the United States. One of them, A. N. Jay, is always present when there is anything good going on. The feasting began at 6 p. m., and before finishing over 200 sat down to the well loaded tables that were prepared by the Rebekah lodge. After the supper they went to the hall where they were entertained by a very nice program. The welcoming address was delivered by Judge T. H. Saunders, and very interesting remarks were made by Messrs. Henderson, Conkling, Courtney and Moffett. The little people rendered some very nice pieces. Quite a number were present from Silver Creek.

BEATRICE, Neb., April 27.—(Special.)—The seventy-seventh anniversary of the organization of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows' fraternity was observed in this city yesterday by the attendance of the membership of the two lodges upon divine services at the First Congregational church. The Odd Fellows were accompanied by a large delegation of the Daughters of Rebekah, wearing fraternity badges. An excellent sermon was delivered by Rev. George W. Crofts.

Horse Thief Gives Officers the Slip.

GRETNA, Neb., April 27.—(Special.)—About ten days ago a horse, buggy and harness were stolen from Ben Bancroft, living east of town, and immediately a reward was offered for the apprehension of the thief and property. Friday the village marshal received a dispatch from Bancroft that the thief had been arrested and a part of the property secured. Zibe Jones, local detective, was deputized as constable and armed with a warrant, started in company with the owner of the property for Bancroft, where the thief, who gave his name as Edward Wyle, and the buggy and harness were secured. The prisoner had traded the horse off near Tekamah and started for Gretna. They arrived here last night about 6 o'clock, and the detective, out of sympathy for the prisoner, did not confine him in the jail, but put a guard over him and went to bed. The guard went to sleep during the night and the thief took advantage of the situation and skipped. The detectives were put on the trail again early this morning, but there is little hope for his being recaptured.

Thrown from a Horse and Killed.

PLAINVIEW, Neb., April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Robert E. Bradshaw, a native of Liverpool, England, was thrown from a running horse yesterday and sustained injuries from which he died this morning. Bradshaw was about 18 years of age and had made a business of riding running horses for different turf men in this vicinity. He was riding in a race yesterday near town, and, losing his balance, was thrown from the horse with great force against a tree, breaking an arm in two places. When picked up he was unconscious and remained so during the greater part of the night until he died. His relatives in England have been notified.

Educators' Convention Adjourned.

OGALALLA, Neb., April 27.—(Special.)—Saturday evening at the session of the Western Nebraska Educational society the main feature was the lecture by Prof. H. B. Ward of the university, on "Recollections of German Student Life." The opera house was full to overflowing, for besides the attraction of so many pretty schoolmams, was the added attraction of the program, which consisted of music, songs, speaking, etc. Thus ended the fourth annual convention of the association. It is pronounced the most interesting and successful meeting that has ever been held in the state. Great praise was given to the people of Ogalalla for their generous hospitality in entertaining and caring for such a large number of guests.

MRS. FARLEY'S LEASE ARRIVES.

Authority for Farming 11,000 Acres of Omaha Indian Land Granted.

BANCROFT, Neb., April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—The lease to Mrs. Farley of 10,000 acres of land for farm purposes arrived here yesterday and a large number of teams left here this morning for the place on the reservation. Work will be pushed rapidly, and the result will be a boon to Bancroft and vicinity.

DECATUR, Neb., April 27.—(Special.)—Omaha Indians who opposed Captain Beck in his method of conducting the affairs of the agency hitherto, are greatly worked up over the leasing of 11,000 acres of unallotted land to Mrs. Rosalie Farley. Henry Fontanelle, who heads the opposition to the agent, has prepared a remonstrance, to which he is securing signatures, and intends to forward it to Washington at once. Fontanelle asserts that Captain Beck ousted the regular Omaha council and installed one of his own, that he might secure the council's endorsement to anything he desired to put through. It was in this way the consent of the Indians to the Farley lease was secured. Fontanelle also insists that the leasing of the lands for five years will put off that much further the allotment and partition of the same.

This land is that which was leased before as grazing land. It is now leased for agricultural purposes, and will be broken up and planted to crops this year for the first time. Many white men, who had hoped to get a chance at the land themselves, are energetically denouncing the interior department for countenancing the lease. Instead of leasing from the Indians, these men will now have to sublease from Mrs. Farley. They express great disappointment at the turn affairs have taken. Many rumors are afloat, one to the effect that an injunction has been secured to prevent the consummation of the Farley lease.

Several councils of the Omahas have been held lately and the matter discussed in all its phases by the Indians. There is a strong sentiment among the tribe in favor of ignoring the agent and the lease. Henry Fontanelle says the Indians knew nothing of the negotiations until the lease was made, and now they do not understand it. He also says a payment of $30,000 is due his people from the government, and this is held back. He has written to Commissioner Browning, asking that an inspector be sent here at once.

Instantly Killed His Brother.

HASTINGS, Neb., April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—John, a youth of 17, son of Thomas Trausch, a well known farmer residing near Roseland, accidentally shot and instantly killed his brother Edward, a boy of 10 years of age, yesterday afternoon as the latter stood at a table washing the dinner dishes. The elder boy had started to go hunting and as he tossed his gun to his shoulder the weapon was discharged. The charge entered the little fellow's head and he expired immediately.

The Raphael, who seriously stabbed a young Mapes during a quarrel last evening, will have his preliminary trial tomorrow afternoon. Several who witnessed the affray claim the boy acted in self-defense, and it is thought he will not be held. His victim rested easy today and the chances are good for his recovery.
