SIGUX FALLS, S. D., May 1 .- (Special.) Hitherto the attention of politicians in this issue will be sound money. state has been largely directed toward the republican candidates for positions on the republican candidates for positions on the enough votes to be nominated, but I am no state ticket. At present interest is turning propared to disprove the figures of McKinto the plans of the populiers. The best observers bolieve that notwithstanding the fact that in a presidential year the republicans have a natural advantage, the race this fall for state offices will be anybody's fight. The the race, and to stay. He is not going to be various scandals in state affairs, the reopen-withdrawn. And we are not 'giving up ing of the Brookings scrap, the division of the anything. republicans on the giver, railroad and Pettigrew questions, will, it is believed, reduce the republican vote and increase that of the populists, while it is considered certain that several thousand democrats will vote with the populists on the silver question.

Thus the coming populist state convention commands close interest and the probable outcome of that convention is arousing considerable speculation. One of the prominent leaders of the party who was in this city a day or two ago said:

"We hope to win this year, and we have the figures to back our expectation. A change of 1,200 votes two years ago would have given us the legislature if properly dis tributed, and in the close counties we are undoubtedly stronger now than then. But we also expect to elect the state ticket. The republicans are counting on the presidential contest to drag them through, but in my judgment it will do the opposite. The national republican convention is going to enrepublicans to the number of several thou and will vote for principle instead of party and will go with us. Then we shall make our campaign largely, if not wholly, on state issues, and there they cannot successfully

"I have been pretty well over the state and have been in communication with populists in all parts and in my julyment it is for four years, he was one of the earliest set tiers in the state, is one of the most successful merchants in South Dakota, left the republican party not because he was a business failure, but because he wanted to see reforms instituted, and made up his mind that he could not get them in the old party. He is a Scandinavian and is exceedingly popular throughout the state and particularly in the southern part, where he is well known.

"For the office of lieutenant governor only one name is prominently mentioned, that of Senator J. F. Kelley of Day county. Senator Kelley was one of the most prominen members of the last legislature and repeat edly carried the senate with him on disputed questions, notwithstanding the three-fourths republican majority. He is one of the ablest and most conservative of the papulists, a first class speaker, sound business man and a skillful leader

For treasurer it is conceded that Harry Wynn of Yankton will be named. Mr. Wynn was on the ticket two years ago and it seems to be the universal wish that he make the race again. He is a successful banker in Cement City, a man of first rate financial ability and is highly popular. His capacity for the place is conceded by the republicans. and he would add greatly to the strength the ticket in the southern part of the state "The office of attorney general is a mos

"The office of attorney general is a most important one and one which will have a great deal of business, particularly that which grows out of the Taylor business. We believe that we should put up as able a lawyer as we passess and I think we shall do it. Two men have been mentioned in this connection. S. H. Cranmer of Aberdeen and Senator McGee of Rapid City. The former will hardly be able to win. Hi name is practically synonymous with pro-hibition and we are not going to take sides in that fight this year. On the other hand, Mr. McGee is as able as any man the re-publicans can find. He made a most conapicuous record in the legislature, is re-garded in the Hills as one of the leaders the bar there, is conservative in hi-ews. Two years ago he carried his county though for the other offices the republicans won, and he is an ex-dem crat, which is also an advantags. McGee would go far toward carrying the Hills and so far as his personality became known on this side of the river he would add greatly to the atrength of the teket.

FOR CONGRESSIONAL RACE, "There are several men who would take the nomination for congress. Among them are: F. M. Goodykoontz of Mitchell, R. E. Dowell of Sinborn, Ferman Knowles and Judge Plowman of Deadwood. It now seems likely that the men named will be the first and last. Mr. Knowles has twice run on the populist ticket and been twice defeated. While he is as popular among the populists as ever, and while his ability is undisputed, seems good pelicy at this time to try as man. Mr. Dowdell is one of the younge men, and while his record in the last legicle ture was an admirable one, it is more likely that he will be nominated for auditor that for congress. Mr. Goodykoontz has until re-cently been a republican, and has a strong following among the republican rank and file. He is one of the ablest men in the state, and probably his name is connected with the silver question in more minds than that of any other man in the state. Months ago he declared that if the republican party refused to endorse the free coin age of ellver he would leave his party He has at his own expense been stumping th state during the past year for silver and has converted a very large number of the people to that view. Mr. Goodykoentz is not a candidate for the place, but it is believed that emulidate for the place, but it is believed that he can be induced to accept, and there will be a strong pressure brought to bear on him. Judge Piowman will probably be the other candidate. He has made a more conspicuous record for ability, fairness and popularity than any other judge on the bench. He ran away ahead of his ticket and is immessely popular in the Hills. Men of all parties recognize his fitness of the place and all concede that he would make an admirable canthat he would make an admirable can

"For auditor the populists have not se-lected in their own minds a candidate, but I think that Mr. Dowdell is more spoken of than any other map. "Another office which is commanding con siderable interest is that of United States sensiter. An effort will be made to force nomination at the state convention, but de not expect to see it succeed. Sensite Senato Kyle is, of course, a candidate for re-election, and there is no doubt that he stands very and there is no doubt that he stands very high with populists and democrats. It is generally conceded that he has made an able and pure record. H. L. Loucks will also make an effort for the place, and he has a strong following throughout the state, while his ability is universally conceded. J. F. Kelley, editor of the Flandreau Horald, the concession of the ficket two years Who ran for congress on the ticket two years ago and who is one of the most forceful and polished speakers in the state, is a canlidate, and so are Melvin Grigsby and

1. The time is again at hand when inclination and auty call the Grand Army of the Republic to prepare for the solemn services of Memorial day. In accordance with our rules and resulations, the 20th day of May is set apart for its reverent observance. This day is consecrated to the memory of our dead. It will be short and compact. It will demand free collage of silver, the government ownership of railroads, and until that can be accomplished the adoption of the lowa railroad law, and honor and decency in state affairs. I do not believe that any other issue will be raised, and these three will win.

"On this platform it is intended to nominate as strong a ticket as possible. It is certainly a case of the office seeking the man and the leaders and rank and file of the party are simply seeking to find the ablest men in the party, regardless of personal ambitions.

So let us, in harmony with the past, on the 30th of May, close our depleted ranks and commemorate with the appropriate exercises the valor of our comrades and the orinciples that actuated them in sacrificing business interests, the comforts of home and association for the bivouac, the march and the field of carnage.

All post commanders will at once confer by committee or otherwise with the teachers of public schools, the pastors of churches, civic authorities of cities and towns, auxiliary associations of the Grand Army of the Republic, and all patriotic and be novolent associations of their community with a view to arranging suitable programs for religious exercises on Sunday and preparatory instructions in the public schools on Friday preceding the 39th, to the end that the lessons of Memorial day shall be complete and lasting.

Max Pracht Discourses Entertaingly on Protection and Oregon.

Missed His Opportunity to Make Fortune When He Failed to Invest Here, as He Was Advised to Do.

Mr. Max Pracht, traveling secretary of the American Protective Tariff league, with headquarters at 155 West Twenty-third street New York, is in Omaha on official business. Mr. Pracht is a resident of Oregon and manages to get home about once a year to vote and to attend republican conventions. He expects to see his family twice this year, for after having helped secure an instructed and sound money delegation to St. Louis, he will return, D. When our working people are compelled to economize and send their children to bed hungry, those of us who till the soil are the first to feel the ill effects of a restricted market and falling prices."

SURPRISE AT OMAHA. Mr. Pracht expressed astonishment at the giant growth of Omaha. "I have not stopped off here since 1878, the year I moved to the my regular run. I was then in the Cordage business in New York. When I first visited Omaha the Metropolitan was your leading hotel. Now, among so many first-class hotels, it is difficult to pick out the best. I was urged by business friends to invest her done so I would have made a fortune, but the condition of my health prevented that-the mild climate of southern Oregon was needful to bring me around. I don't look sick? Well, I guess not; my bronchial troubles are gone. I have gained forty pounds in weight and hold it, though I must credit Alaska with a portion of the gain.

AMUSEMENTS.

The constantly increasing popularity of the oncerts of the Swedish musical societies was again in evidence at the May festival which was given at Creighton hall last night. The large auditorium was completely filled with an audience which gave enthusiastic approbation to every number and demanded encores which could not be denied. It was a distinctively Swedish audience, and the entertainment naturally savored of their national character. But, together with the Swedish songs were rendered some of the more familiar melodies from modern which gave a cosmopolitan finish to the per

The address of the evening was delivered by Hon. Charles F. Manderson, who was introduced by C. A. Jacobsen, and received a flattering reception. After expressing his pleasure at being afforded the opportunity to share in the occasion, Senator Manderson spoke of a visit that he had paid to Hampton Roads during his recent trip to Washington. Here he was reminded of that great Swedish Here he was reminded of that great Swedininventor, John Ericsson, without whom we would still have been ploughing the seas in the fashion of half a century ago. The speaker continued to dwell on the names speaker continued to dwell on the names which Sweden had furnished in the list of famous men and women, by mentioning those of Jenny Lind and Christine Nillson, whose oices had made Sweden famous the world

Referring to the fact that the present casion was one of music and song, and not speechmaking, General Manderson brought out the important part which the national songs had played in the history of nations. There was much of truth in the theory of the philosopher, who has said that he did not care who made the laws of a nation, as long as he could write their songs. The influence of our own songs had been marvelous and the notes of the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Tenting on the Old Camp Ground" had nerved the souls of the soldiers of the re-public on many a stubborn field.

The remainder of the entertainment was entirely inusical. It began with an overture very acceptably rendered by the orchestra under the direction of Mr. Ernest Nordin, an ended with singing "Horr Oas, Svea," the national air of Sweden by the full chorus In the interval the Singing society, and the Ladies' Chorus rendered selection which were warmly encored. Miss Emma Moeller and C. A. Jacobsen contributed solos, Olaf Peterson a flute solo, Mr. Jacobsen and Mr. Edgren a duet, and Misse Moeller and Ethel Seaver, and Mesers.
