Three Delegates to the County Convention.

The individual or organization that wants to get a particularly fetching attraction for immediate exhibition should take steps to catch Joe Shea's smile and get it copyrighted. Just now it's worth going or coming miles to see.

Joe Shea is a democrat with white wings and a face that was designed for smilling purposes, but it hasn't been in working order for some time until last night. Joe has been a free silver democrat and has harvested several crops of woe within the last few years. Last fall the gentlemen who have the car of the "stuffed phophet," as Judge James delights to call the nation's executive, took Joe out and had some fun with him in the Fourth afternoon and word home thoroughly de-ward. Joe thought he had the pins lighted and greatly benefited by the day's set all right, but he lost control of the cuball, and was beaten to a standstill. He was to make a goldbug holiday, and had other less calamities befall him. But though he less calamities befall him. But though he was killed, to all political appearances, Shea, did not give up. He simply locked sad, and said, "just wait." Last night he smiled, and his example was followed by other free siver democrats, until the policeman rapped on the front door and told the fellow in the white arrow that the relieved chestara the white apron that the polished glassware needed a rest, and, for another reason, the people were going out to early mass, and that there was such a thing as too much of a good thing.

The democratic primaries were held last night to select de egates to the county con-vention, which will be held Wednesday. There has been a lot of talk about this conflict of opposing forces to the ranke of the Pottawattamic county democrats. Goldbugs have been active and free silverites have hald caucurees and consultations, i.i.d an un-biased observer would be led to suppose that there would be a hand to hand conflict, and that the side that conquered would have scars to show and nothing to boast of in the way of numbers. Well, after the returns were in last night it was found that two men known to be in sympathy with G. Cleveland were elected, and another delegate had been chosen whose financial views were not known. All the rest were whoopingly in favor of free silver. That's why Joe Shea smiled.

That's why Joe Shea smilled. The news was received with many kinds of demonstrations of Joy. Cite man spent 10 cents to telephone the result to Bryan, and another fellow spent more than 10 cents to patronize a frothy home industry. The lights were out early in the federal building. The fight of the day was in the First pre-cluct of the Fourth ward. This is the silk stocking ward of the city and the anti-free stocking ward of the city and the anti-free stocking ward of the city and the anti-free silver men made a brave fight to carry the caucus, but failed signally, being defeated by nearly two to one. The result was the same in every precinct of the city, with the exception of the Second precinct of the First ward, where two administration democrats and one whose financial views are not here and one whose financial views are not known were elected. It was a clean walkaway for the free silver advocates, and they will have almost the unanimous control of the county convention, plans for which will be decided

Mr. and Mrs. DeLong Bluffs High school. This means that pupils them some time ago that they graduating from the High school here and wishing to enter the State university will be admitted to any of the departments with-out a question being asked them. They have been admitted heretofore without the full examination, but were delayed and annoyed more or less by the inquiries deemed neces sary to ascertain their educational qual fications. Duncan Has His Shoes Again. In the district court yesterday Receiver Hughes made his report of present status of the shoe business he has been conducting in the interest of the creditors of B. M. Duncan, under the direction of the dis-

the park for a time. There were no signs bidding them keep off the grass, and they intercourt. The report made a very sat-isfactory showing. The sales had amounted fountain, the lake the swings, the curiosities of the zoo and all the attractive features of the park were drawn upon for all they nection with the business, for the creditors announced the acceptance of a proposition from Duncan or some one representing him to take the stock as it now stands and pay erough for it to make up the full amount of the highest price offered for it after th failure. The proposition was made som time ago, but it was only after the sales began to look smaller than was anticipated that they agreed to accept it. The final disposition of the stock was not determined. but it is understood that Mr. Duncan wil resume business at the old stand. After the matter was apparently settled t the satisfaction of all another little lipple was caused on the surface by County Treas urer Arnd, who intervened to secure the collection of something over $100 due and unpaid personal taxes.

Avoca Pioneers Remain.

To have once lived in Avoca was a consideration that conferred especial privileges yesterday afternoon. A scheme was started several weeks ago to have a picnic of as many of the old settlers as could be gotten together in Fairmount park, and yesterday was the day decided upon. Invitations had been sent to every man and woman whose address could be obtained who lived in Avoca twenty years ago. They are now scat-tered over many states. Responses were numerous, but the attendance was not as great as was expected. The delegation that was coming down from Avoca became frightened at the aspect of the weather, and backed out at the last minute. Each old settler had been expressly bidden to bring his famwere enough of them to fill several motor cars, and they brought well laden baskets The afternoon was passed very pleasantly renewing old acquaintances and recalling old times.

Among those present from Omaha were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waterman and two daughters, Austin Hake, wife and two daughters, J. G. Tipton, wife and boys, Mrs. Epe-neter and Mrs. Charles Shaw. Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGivern of Fremont were the only others from abroad. Among the old settlers of the little village now living in Council Bluffs were: W. H. Van Brunt, wife and four daughters, Mrs. Fred Myers and nine daughters and one . Mrs. John Norton and three daughters, W. Bryant and four daughters, Mrs. S. S. St. John and daughter, Mrs. Ostrander, O. E. Beswick and wife, Mrs. Nate Philips, James Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Matthews, A. J. St. John and H. Grout.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 9 .- (Special Telegram)-George Smith, 19 years old, fell in an epileptic fit in front of a moving street car this morning and was instantly killed. Southwestern Portion of the City Visited Last Night by a Gang of Expert Porch Climbers.

Burglars descended Friday night upon that part of the city which lies west of Hanscom park and made a night of it, although finan--Governor Drake announces today that he cially their rewards were hardly comwill issue in a short time the call for an mensurate with the amount of efforts put forth

One of the residences entered was that of Captain Palmer of the Fire and Police Commission. Entrance was effected through a high pantry window which was reached by means of chairs left out on the front porch The burglars ransacked the house, but took nothing aside from a pair of the captain's trousers and the contents of the pockets. When Captain Palmer awoke yesterday morning he found his trousers missing from the chair on which he had placed them when he retired. A search was made for them through the house, but no sign of them was discovered until the captain took an accidental peck out of a window and saw them dental peek out of a window and saw them adorning the back yard. He found that about $5 in money and a $50 gold charm had been stolen. The burglars made an oversight by leaving behind an apparently worthless nickel case watch, but which contained works valued at $50. They also left behind the police detail for the present month. The latter, however, informed informed them that there was no patrolmen on that beat.

Another place entered was the residence of Mrs. Patterson, northwest corner of Thirty-second street and Woolworth avenue. Here the burglars climbed up a porch and entered a second-story window leading into a bedroom cocupied by Lacey Patterson. They appropriated h s trousers and went down to the sitting room. When the young man got up yesterday morning he found the clething divested of a $100 gold watch and $5 in money, a $10 bill having been over-looked.

Judge Baldwin's residence, 3222 South Thirty-second street, was also entered, but the burglars failed to go through the house. They effected an entrance through a rear pantry window. When they got in they pantry window. When they got in they found the doors from the pantry into the other rooms locked, and after unsuccessfully trying one of them they departed through the kitchen door, taking the key with them. A half-dozen burnt matches on the floor was evidence of their visit.

MAKE ANOTHER GOOD HAUL. A good haul was made at the residence of Charles S. Barnes in Windsor Place. The burglars climbed up the porch and entered a second-story window which opened into a bedroom occupied by Mr. Barnes. They picked up his trousers, carried them into an adjoining room and stripped them of a $100 and stripped them of a $100 gold watch, a diamond ring valued at $75 and $42 in money. The pocketbook was left behind. They also made a tour of the house and carried away a mug and a couple of other pieces of sliverware, but took nothing that was marked.

The indications are that these jobs were The indications are that these jobs while committed by crooks who in police circles are denominated as "good men." In every case they left behind articles that were marked except in such cases as the value would warrant them in taking the chances of would warrant them in taking the chances of disposing of them without discovery. It is a certain indication that experts are com-mitting the jobs when articles casily identi-fied are left behind. Moreover, the bur-glaries of Friday night were so smoothly handled that in no case were the occupants of the house disturbed, although the very bedrooms in which they were sleeping, were bedrooms in which they were sleeping, were entered.

The police are of the opinion that a gang of experts have landed in the city. A con-siderable number of burglaries have a ready slarm before they had taken any of the been previously reported, all of which have been committed in masterly fashion. It is chickens. Fire and Police Commissioner Foster has also been bothered by chicken thieves. They have made a number of visits to his son's estimated that so far this month over $1,660 has been netted by the crocks, although the exact amount is not known, as the police re-fuse to give information regarding the jobs.
