Special Meeting Will Be Held This Evening to Further Arrange the Details Looking to Improvements.

All of the property owners on First street were at the council meeting last night to talk over the question of paving and sewering on that thoroughfare, made necessary by the recent washouts on the street.

The property owners have agreed that paving is a necessity and the council adopted the paving specifications agreed upon at the meeting of the whole last week. The sewer question was not so easily disposed of. Some of the property owners wanted a sewer and others were opposed. Those who wanted a sewer were not agreed as to its size and the question was finally postponed until this evening, when a spe-

He has addressed a letter to the press directed to the commissioners, which reads as follows:

COUNCIL BLUFFS, June 1.—Hon. A. C. Harding, President Park Commissioners:

Dear Sr.—Will you please explain to the public, and especially the citizens in the northwestern portion of the city, who supported you in your election for the position of park commissioner, why you have redecimed your less than it was last year.

The total ascessment for cattle in 1895 were $248,392, against $215,342 in 1896. The assessment for horses last year was $400,690, and this year it is only $284,665. The mules of the county were taxed $38,630 last year, while this year the assessors placed their taxable value at $23,495. On these three in 1896 than it was last year.

Are you not advised of the fact that this is the most valuable park property owned by the city and that the United States government in granting it to the city gave it upwards of 500 acres of valuable land; that this grant was made for park purposes and that one of the conditions of the grant is that all revenue Irawn from the priperty shall be expended by the city in improving this property? Your park commissioners have never at any time lived up to the spirit and intent of this grant. You have certainly (simues) neglected this, the mest beautiful and valuable park property owned by the city. Last year your commissioners leased a portion of the property to the Gibbert Bros., who have expended large sums of money in making what was upposed to be a valuable improvement to this park, and the public had expected that your body would finally pay some attention to this long uncared for park property. In view of these facts please explain why you have discharged the park policeman who was receiving the small sum of $15 per min h, and that when the revenues derived from this property is sufficient to pay him. EGBERT WAS NOT KILLED.

Reported Council Bluffs Victim of the St. Louis Cyclone All Right. The press reports published on Sunday morning contained the name of Harold Egbert among the killed whose bodies had been recovered. The list fell under the eye of Mrs. Annie D. Egbert, 712 Garden street, Eghert's body was found in the ruins of a obacco factory, where he had been employed. Harold Egbert left Council Bluffs last fall and went to St. Louis, where he found employment in a tobacco factory. The name and the fact that the body had been recovered with many others in the ruins of the tobacco factory left no doubt in the mind of the mother that it was ber son who had met a terrible death in the storm, and she took the first train for St. Louis, the 5:15 passenger on the Wa-bash, Sunday evening. Young Egbert reached this city on the late Wabash train last evening, and passed his mother on the road without knowing it. Telegrams were immediately sent to her at St. Louis, but with small hope of the telegraph people finding her. Some other unfortunate was taken out of the wrecked tobacco factory and identified as young Egbert. He says he was standing on the opposite side of the street from the factory when it was torn to pieces by the cyclone, killing twenty-five of the employes. He had been excused from work at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, had gone to a res-taurant and eaten a hearty dinner and had completed the errands for which he had secured a lay off and was on his way to work when the storm struck. He was picked up when the storm struck. He was picked up and carried across the street and thrown into a street car, which was struck by lightning and the roof smashed in by a falling telegraph pole a fraction of a second before he struck it. A man was killed at his side by being struck in the head by a flying board, and others were killed and injured all around him, but he escaped without a service. He says when the storm and injured all around him, but he escaped without a scratch. He says when the storm was at its worst it was so dark and the air was so densely filled with flying debris and rain that it was impossible to see an inch into surrounding space. When the inch into surrounding space. When the storm was over he found himself down among the freight cars near the bridge. He left the city as soon as he could after the catastrophe, which led to his being reported among the missing and subreported among the missing and subrequently among the dead. Last evening while the mother was in St. Louis with strangets searching among the dead for the mangled remains of her son the young man was here anxiously waiting to hear that his telegram had been delivered to the distracted mother.

FIND THE REVENUE FALLING OFF Supervisors Considering Knotty Problem.

The members of the Board of Supervisors are in session and have a problem before them. The returns of the township assessore have been made on the personal property in the county and the totals show a falling off of $160,000 and more from the figures of his year, and the supervisors are looking for a way out of the trouble that will come meeting the deficit in the necessary funds for the regular county expenses that come out of the taxes levied on property found by the issessors.

With the showing in front of them the members of the board have been looking for the cause of the trouble, and it looks now as though it might all be laid to the drop in of 3-year-old colts and other live stock it age. Hog cholera cut a figure in the assessore returns also. In 1895 there were 51,485 porkers in the county, against 40,745 in 1896. The crop this yer is of young hogs, and as they are assessed by weight the showing will fall far chort of last year's figures. The turns have not yet been acted upon, and the board is looking for a way to bring the as sessment up to last year's figures.

EXPOSITION AT NASHVILLE OPENS

Exercises of the Day Peculiarly Fit for the Commemoration of an Important Event in the State's History.

NASHVILLE, June 1 .- The anniversary day to which Tennesseeans have long looked for with such emotions of pride and with such delightful anticipations, dawned gloomily. The sky was overcast with clouds which lingered after the heavy rains of the day before, and as the day advanced the rain once more began to fall. The city's gay decorations were drenched and the prospect for the splendid and elaborate paarde was disappointing. However, at the booming of cannon, g ving what was intended to be the sunrise salute of sixteen guns, the multitudes assembed, and despite the clouded skies and the showers of rain, the streets were alive with hurrying couriers and cavalcades of marshals and aides who were preparing for the parade. The great procession was to start at 9:30 o'clock, but so forbidding was the weather the committee dec ded to postpone the parade through the city and out to the expositon grounds until 11:30.

The trains since Saturday have been bring-ing crowds of people into the city and many thousands of strangers are here to enjoy the demonstrations in honor of the hundredth anniversary of the state.

The driving rain with all its depressing effects could not dampen the fervor of the centennial occasion. While the rain poured down and there was no apparent prospect of favorable weather the order was issued to murch at 11 o'clock, rain or no rain. As oon as the announcement was made ringing cheers were heard and were taken the streets. General Thurman, at the appointed time, set the parade in motion. First were the bcycle brigades, headed by eight mounted policemen, then came the calef marshal and staff with an honorary staff of 100, composed of leading citizens of the state, the military organizations, federal and state, next the state and feleral officials present and distinguished guests, followed by the State H storical society and exposition ommittee.

Gladness Comes With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physieal ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual dis ease, but simply to a constipated condi-tion of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs. promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you pur chase, that you have the genuine arti-cle, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists. If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely and gives most general satisfaction

A Methodist Minister on the Practical Benefactions Copeland & Shepard Treatment -- Advises Invalids to Profit by the Great Advantages it Affords to all.

Copeland and Shepard System to the

It is not upon single hearsay that Rev. E. E. Hunt, Methodist paster, Eigin, Neb. now commends the Copeland and Shepard system to the sick, but as the result of his own experience of that system

"After realizing the excellence of my reatment by Drs. Copeland and Shepard and the manifold general advantages that their cystem extends to the sick and suffering of yery class, I would feel that I was falling duty to others if I neglected to acknowl edge, however briefly, the inestimable bene its which I myself have received from that system.

"I had practically been an invalid from catarrh of the head, throat and lungs for wenty years. My nose was tightly stopped and my sense of smell about destroyed. My eyes were inflamed, watery and weak, giving me constant annoyance and suffering.

My voice was greatly impaired by the catarrhal inflammation spreading from the head into the larynx and wind pipe. I also had frequent and severe attacks of headache, which would come on by taking the least cold.

"Though I began the mal, treatment with had frequent and severe attacks of headache, which would come on by taking the least cold.

"Though I began the mall treatment with little hope of benefit, I very soon realized that I was getting well. Perhaps the best comment I could make on the treatment is to say that it has been of untold benefit to me. The distressing symptoms I have listed above are practically gone. I find myself in re-established health. Under the old methods of treatment nothing seemed to give me any relief, but there is no doubt in my mind that the new treatment of Drs.
Cope and and Shepard justifies all the praise
it has received."
