To the Senate: I herewith return without approval senate bill No. 139, entitled, "An act granting a pension to Helen M. Jacobs."
The purpose of this bill is to grant a pension of $12 per month to "Helen M. Jacobs of Rochester, Ind., widow of Ben Oden West."
It appears from the records of the War department that Benjamin O. West served in the Mexican war from January to November in the year 1847. The beneficiary named in this bill was married to him in 1859, and he died in 1856. She was pensioned as his widow and received ruop pension from the date of her husband's death until April 17, 1861. On that day she was married to Will am Jacobs, whereupon her pension ceased.

the river and harbor bill over the president's veto. There was no difference of opinion between the democrats and republicans. The only point of discussion was whether the report to the house should be in the nature of a reply to President Cleveland's objections to the bill and the contract system, and an affirmative conclusion was reached.

There was an attempt in the committee to have the bill brought up in the house today, but the assurance given by Represen-tative Herman that the bill would be called up Tuesday prevented such action. It was decided to ask the committee on rules to allow a day or two to debate the affair. Only two hours' debate was had on the passage of the bill by the house.

The entire absence of any fixed or reason-able principle or rule regulating private pen-sion legislation at this time suggests the danger of its near approach, in many cases, to caprice and favoritism. Though I have in a number of instances deferred to the judgment of congress and refrained from interposing objections to bills of this character which seemed to me to be of doubtful merit, I am unwilling to follow such a wide departure from a palpably just pension theory and assent to the establish-ment of such an unfortunate precedent as this bill involves. spoke in opposition to the bill. He spoke at considerable length and among other things he said: Mr. Cullom of Illinois spoke at consider-able length in the senate against the pending bill to prohibit the issue of bonds. He said in part: "No one on this floor deplores the issue of interest-bearing obligations by this govern-ment in time of peace more than I do; but does any senator imagine that the causes which made the issue of bonds necessary and which may require further issues, can be removed by simply passing a bill prohibiting it?

The consequences of the passage of the bill, if it shall become a law, to my mind are so far-reaching as to be simply appalling. In my opinion, it would be the undoing of all that has been accomplished since the passage of the resumption act. It would mean the repudiation of our obligations. Its tendency would be to place this country at once upon a silver basis. It would seriously injure every business concern in the country which has weathered thus far the terrible financial storm of the past three years. It would throw out of employment hundreds of thousinds of laboring men and women who had begun to hope that the dawn of brighter days was here. It is wholly wanting in common honesty and would for-ever be a bot upon the page of American
