Commissioners Decide to Proceed with the Grading of Thirteenth Street.

POOR FARM JUDGMENTS ARE UP AGAIN

Proposal to Call a Bond Election Re-Terred to the Judiciary Committee_Soldiers' Relief Fund Report.

stood that a sum not to exceed $5,000 for said work shall be paid out of the road fund." The foregoing preamble and resolution was introduced at the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners yesterday morning by Mr. Kierstead and was adopted.

Williams objected to the adoption of the resolution and wanted it referred to the road committee for investigation. He also op-posed any action being taken until the bond provided for by the resolution had been presented to the board.

OPPOSES FURTHER DELAY. Stenberg opposed any further delay. said the matter had been before the board for the past three years and was thoroughly understood by all of the members. It was proposed to put the round to a 6 per cent grade, he said, and this would require the removal of about 100,000 yards of earth, which would be done for about 6 or 7 cents per yard, making the togal cost about $6,000 or $7,000.

Williams contended that the levy for the road fund would amount $5 about $20,000 and the work proposed to be done on this road would take about one-baif of that amount. He was willing, he said, to vote for a resolution to do one-half of the work this year and complete the grading next year, but would never vote for a resolution to do the work contemplated by the resolution at this time. After considerable discussion, in which all the members of the board participated, the resolution was amended to provide that not more than $5,000 should be taken from the road fund, it being understood that the remainder of the cost was to be taken from the mainder of the cost was to be taken from the bridge fund for the construction of culverts and approaches thereto.

A large delegation from the South Side Improvement club was present during this discussion, and took a lively interest in all that was transpiring. In the course of the arguments John Rush, representing the arguments John Rush, representing the committee, said a satisfactory bond would be furnished whenever the county required it, and more signatures of lien holders could be secured if it was thought necessary. When the resolution was adopted the lobby manifested great satisfaction and pressed about the members of the board to pressed about the members of the board to express their appreciation of the importance of the action which had been taken.

SOUTHSIDERS GAIN A POINT farm judgment and whether a special election can be held for the purpose of voting on such bonds. Another resolution by Jenkins instructed Another resolution by Jenkins instructed the county clerk to prepare a list of the names of purchasers of the lots or their agents, together with amounts paid, acrued interest, taxes, etc., such list to show the total amount of money required to pay the total amount of money required to pay such judgments.

A third resolution by Jenkins was referred to the judiciary committee. It directed the judiciary committee, as soon as information had been secured as to whether bonds can be issued to pay the poor farm judgments to prepare a call for a special election for the purpose of voting upon the issuing of bonds for such indebtedness, said bonds to bear not to exceed 4½ per cent

Kierstcad introduced a resolution declar ing it necessary to open a road along the cast side of the new fair grounds, from the Murray and eight others; and.

"Whereas, The grading of this street is a matter of great public interest, and is made necessary by the prospective occuwould be a great accommodation to trave from the north, and the directors of the Speed association were ready to dedicate thirty-three feet for one-half of the road The owner of the property abutting on the other side of the proposed road, he said, had not yet signified his willingness to dedicate the other half of the road. The resolution was referred to the committee on roads, with instructions to secure a petition from property owners, asking that the road be opened. INSIST ON AN ACCOUNTING. The finance committee reported on the annual report of the Soldiers Relief com-mission, stating that there were no vouchers or receipted bills returned with the report and no way of auditing ex penditures. The report continued: "In view of the fact that loose methods have been adopted by the commission in the transaction of its business your committee recommends that the county clerk be in-structed to notify the Soldiers Relief com-mission that in the future this board will insist upon a more thorough accounting for the money entrusted to and disbursed by it, in order that this board may prop erly check up the same and to the end that taxpayers may have an opportunity to as-certain the manner in which this money is being expended." The summary of the report rendered by the relief commission showed the following expenditures for the year ending February 1, 1896: Transportation, $92.90; groceries, $2.104.50; fuel, $660.35; medical attendance and drugs, $228.60; funeral expenses, $511; shoes, $29 clothing, $25.50; boarding, $144.15; sundry incidentals, $33.15; office rent and clerk hire, $220; total expenditures, $4.049:15; bal-ance on hand, $31.35. The board accepted an invitation from a committee of the South Side Improvement club to attend the Fourth of July celebration at Riverview park.

The committee on roads reported back the communication of the Union Veteran Republican club, asking that old soldlers be em-ployed by the board whenever possible. The ommittee recommended that it be authorized to employ J. B. Sedgwick to superintend the repairing of said roads, and also that he be empowered to hire such teams and laborers as in his judgment may be necessary. Sedg-wick to be paid $3.50 per day, teams $3 per day and laborers $1.50 per day, the work to be under the supervision of the committee on

DO NOT BURN THE NIGHT THROUGH

Complaints Filed Against the Gaso line Street Lights. Many complaints have been received that the gasoline lights in the suburban parts of the city go out early in the night. Instances are cited where whole streets are in darkness after 10 and 11 o'clock at night. These complaints have been made by citizens.

It is the duty of police officers to report whenever they find a lamp on their beats not in running order, but they have made no such reports recently, despite these complaints. This is explained by the statement that there are no patrolmen in the suburban parts where the gasoline lamps are placed. The police authorities have referred the com

WILL ASK DR. BUTLER TO REMAIN.

Members of the Church Meet and Take Action. The resignation of Dr. Butler, pas tor of St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church, was considered at a largely attended meeting of the members of the church and congregation Monday evening. A. S. Stiger presided, and the letter of resignation, which had been in his possession, was read for the information of possession, was read to the industrial the meeting. It was very brief, merely stating that since through "inability or indifference" the finances of the church were n an unsatisfactory condition, he deemed best to present his resignation.

The matter was discussed at much length but for a long time it was handled very circumspectly. First the treasurer was called on for a statement of the financial condition of the society. His report showed that there had been a falling off of about $60 a month in pew rentals, and a cor-responding decrease in the proceeds of the Sunday collections. The pastor's salary was behind to the extent of about $400, and he estimated the probable deficiency, July I, at The question of definite action on the resignation was approached very cautiously. It was the general expression of the speak-

It was the general expression of the speakers that they were very anxious that Dr.
Butler should stay if the financial part of the matter could be attended to. Here there was a difference of opinion. Some insisted that the trouble could easily be settled, but others contended that even if the present deficit was paid up it would soon reappear. They thought that in justice to Dr. Butler they should accept his resignation and allow him to seek a new field at this time, which would be opportune for this time, which would be opportune for Finally a vote was taken as an informal expression of the sentiment of the meeting. Nearly every one present signified that they were in favor of retaining Dr. Butler if it could be done. After some further discus-sion a motion to accept his resignation, in view of the financial condition of the church, was withdrawn, and after another motion declaring it to be the sense of the meeting that he should remain had been passed, a that he should remain had been passed, a committee of ten was appointed to confer with Dr. Butler and request him to recon-sider his resignation. The committee con-sists of Samuel Burns, F. A. Dawes, George H. Payne, C. T. Morris, W. H. Manning, J. W. Griffith, T. W. Blackburn, Kennard, C. F. Betes and Lea B. Manes.

E. Bates and Ira B. Mapes.
A committee of twenty was then appointed to devise ways and means to meet the finan-cial problem involved. This committee included: F. H. Gaines, G. M. Nattinger, Silas Cobb, H. H. Harder, Chase, J. M. Richards, John Steel, C. S. Hayward, N. C. Peters, J. A. Shields, W. H. Thomas, and the members of the committee previously

Will Be Out in Full Force Next Fri dny Night.
The Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben have deter mined to signify their approbation of the manner in which the June races are con lucted by indulging in a parade on Friday evening, in which the full force of the organ zation will appear. The proclamation calling the Knights to gether for this purpose was issued by Samson lord high chamberlain, at the den Monday vening. The knights will congregate at th den in time to start the parade at 7 o'clock. The procession will be headed by a band, which will be followed by the knights in their full regalia. The large float which rep resents the process of inducting prospective knights into the mysteries of the order and which attracted so much attention in the parades last fall will again appear and other floats will probably be included. The knights will parade through the principal streets of the city with the usual accompaniment o

colored lights and Roman candles. ZELLER HAS AN ORIGINAL IDEA

Thinks It Will Prevent Boys from Leaving Their Homes. Jake C. Zeller of Ottawa, Ill., has a new and peculiar system for making lads sick of running away from home. He has asked the chief of police to work it upon two boys who recently ran away from their home in Ottawa. One is his son, E. H. Zeller, more commonly known as "Dick."
The other is a companion, William Riordian, who travels under the name of "Plink." Both are 18 years of age, although they look to be 21.

Zeller informs the police that he does not wish the boys returned to him, or even imprisoned, for running away. He believes the best thing to be done with them is to give them three minutes to get out of the city as soon as they are discovered. He thinks that if they get the same reception in every city they strike, they will soon be heartily sick of running from home.

Zeller thinks that the boys will hang about the race track this week, as they are traveling with a horseman.

Last Sunday the patrolmen of the city were notified to look in the right direction and report the saloon keepers who were violating the Sunday closing law by selling liquor on that day. In consequence the fol-lowing were reported: Berg & Neburg, 111 North Sixteenth street; Cackley, Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue; Dolman, Sixteenth and Leavenworth; T. H. Located the Glass Throwers It has been learned that a part at least of the broken glass on the streets which annoys bioycle riders is not placed there by mischief makers. According to the reports of a number of officers, it is due to the street lamp cleaners, who are in the habit of throwing broken glass into the streets. This is in violation of the city ordinances and in consequence police officers have been notified to arrest any cleaner who persists in the habit. Pitcher's Castoria.

WILL WHEEL TO CHICAGO

Detail of Army Officers to Start on the Trip This Morning.

DONE UNDER GENERAL MILES' ORDERS

Interesting Data Concerning the Ronds and Natural Conditions to Be Collected_No Effort to Make Speed.

A movement has been started by General Miles which promises to be of considerable importance to wheelmen.

Orders were received from headquarters a few days ago by General Coppinger to detail three men for an experimental bicycle trip from this city to Chicago and return. General Coppinger selected Lieutenant W. R. Abercrombie, Sergeant George Scofield and Corporal John Lundquist for the work. The men have been in readiness to start on the journey since the first of the month, but owing to the rains which have made the roads impassable, the time of departure has been postponed until this afternoon, when, weather permitting, the trio will bid their friends adieu for a period of probably a month. The order issued by General Miles is, it is understood, the result of considerable thought and research by him on the growing utility of the bicycle in military service Bicycle corps have been organized in many of the older countries, notably in Germany and England, and have proved a signal success. A late competitive trip between horses and bicycles from Hamburg, Germany, to Vienna, Austria, a distance of over 800 miles, demonstrated the superiority of man over the animal, both as to endurance and the ease with which the journey was accomplished. The distance was traversed in a third less time by the wheelmen than by the cavalry, and with much less fatigue. Many of the horses used were completely exhausted at the end of the trip, while the bicycle riders came out as fresh as at the start.

The present order by General Miles is based upon the future adoption of the bicycle, to be used in the engineering corps. The question as to its utilization by troops is still an open problem which has not been solved. Lieutenant Abercromble and com-panions are detailed on duty known as "officers patrol." They are instructed to make a complete report of the condition of roads traversed, elevations surmounted, and number and strength of bridges crossed. Each man will be equipped with a prismatic compass and cyclometer on each wheel, by which the bearings and distances traveled on each stretch of road may be noted. In addition to this, a theodolite or simplified surveyor's instrument will be carried, that the correct elevation of the hills may be made.

The value of measurements will be of great assistance to touring wheelmen if the government decides in the future to publish the results of the observations of Lieutenant Abercromble in connection with others which may follow. The men expect to travel but fifty miles per day, completing their reports each evening from notes made during the day. No choice of roads is to be made, but as near a direct line as possible from this city to the lake port will be pursued. The estimated distance is 562 miles and the men expect, weather permitting, to cover it in eleven days. The number of miles per day as figured is a low estimate of the blcycle's capabilities, but on account of the other work to be formed, fifty miles is thought to be a conformed, fifty miles is thought to be a con-servative figure.

The men will report at the Chicago end of the journey to General Merritt, and will then retrace the same roads homeward for the purpose of perfecting their observations. Considerable interest is being manifested in army circles as to the outcome of the trial, not only among late devotees to the wheel, but also by others, who view it from a scientific standpoint. Many short trips have been made by officers in connection with field work, but the one about to take place is the first of any practical value or natural obstacles which an army on the march would have to overcome. Many water courses must be crossed, among them the two largest on the North American continent, the Missouri and the Mississippi, and every inequality of the road in the shape of clay mire and loam in a territory of many geological formations will figure

TROUBLE FOLLOWS DR. HARSHA

Former Omaha Pastor Pursued by His Creditors. According to the New York papers the pastoral relations of Rev. W. J. Harsha, formerly of this city, are not altogether free from snarls. Rev. Dr. Harsha left Omaha about four years ago to become the pastor of the Reformed Dutch church at Harlem. More recently his path was beset by his creditors, who went into court to obtain satisfaction. I is stated that the Philadelphia Board of Sabbath School Work secured judgment against Rev. Dr. Harsha for nearly $5,000. An execution against his property was returned unsatisfied and a receiver was ap-pointed. It was then ascertained that he had assigned $2,000 of his salary of $5,000 a year to an attorney who was one of the committee appointed by his church to investigate his financial troubles. The receiver has now gone into the supreme court to have the assignment set aside on the ground that it was made for the purpose of interfering with the rights of the creditors. If you would always be healthy keep your lood pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla, the One

Hoffman Gets Out of Jail Only to Get in Again. Joe Hoffman has found himself considerably entangled in the meshes of the law. He has just finished serving a sentence of thirty days in the county jail for stealing a bleycle, and yesterday morning he was removed to the city jail once more, where He prosecuted for stealing the bicycle. while he was serving a sentence for that offense it was discovered that the tobacco had been stelen from a freight car last winter.
