TICKET SCALPERS HIT HARD

Western Roads Not Inclined to Allow Them a Profit.

Action Taken that is Intended to Prevent lilegal Use of Return Tickets Sold to Convention Visitors.

The ticket scalpers who expected to do a flourishing business with unused portions of tickets sold at reduced rates for the St. Louis and the Chicago national conventions have been foiled by the action of the Western Passenger association. In addition to the rate of one-fare for the round trip from Omaha to both Chicago and St. Louis that had already been granted, the association has declared a rate of $7 from Council Bluffs and of $7.25 from Omaha and Sloux City to Chicago. The same rates will hold good from Chicago to Council Bluffs, Omaha These tickets will be sold

While no advices concerning reduced rates one way to and from St. Louis have been received, it is altogether probable that they will be put in. Reduced one-way rates from Kansas City to St. Louis and from St. Louis to Kansas City, have already been de-

General Manderson returned from the east yesterday and found much good news on his return. To a Bee reporter he expressed great delight at the passage of the exposition bill. Shortly after the announcement of this fact came the news that the United States had formally declared its abandonment of the land grant suits agains purchasers of property from the Burlington road. The abandonment of the suits is in accord with the stipulation en-tered into some time ago between the officials at Washington and General Man-

VOTE AGAINST BORROWING MONEY.

Matters of Interest Before the Luthernn Synod. The greater portion of the session of the Lutheran Augustana synod yesterday morning was occupied in a discussion of the mission overtion. The debate was heated from the fact that there is a clash between HAVE PUT IN A LOW ONE-WAY RATE the synod and the various conferences in the mission work, which covers the entire area of North America.

The result of the discussion was the adoption of a resolution, in which an appeal was made to the individual congregations throughout the country for financial means to carry on the synod missions. Another resolution was passed, requesting the various conferences to collect and turn over to the synod the amounts allotted to them for mission work before September 1.

There was an amount of heated discussion before these resolutions were adopted. as there were many champions of the conferences. A resolution authorizing the synod to borrow money for the purpose of carrying on and extending the mission work was voted down, the apparent sentiment of the body being unfavorable to a borrowing

Another portion of the morning's work consisted in the election of members of the board of missions. The voting resulted in the selection of the following: Rev. F. N. the selection of the following: Rev. F. N.
Swanberg of Oakland, president of the Nebraska conference; Rev. E. A. Fogelstrom of Omaha, Rev. Feren of Sioux City, Rev. J.
Torell of Swedeberg, Neb., J. F. Helin of Omaha, C. A. Falk of Council Bluffs, G. A.
Ossian of Stanton, Ia., Prof. S. M. Hill of the college at Wahoo.

The work of the afternoon consisted largely of a discussion of the advisability of making.

of a discussion of the advisability of making the deaconess institute of this city the mother house of the deaconesses in the synod. The institute is run in connection with the Immanuel hospital.

The proposition excited a considerable amount of discussion, inasmuch as it was an old one. At the meeting of the synod in 1894 Rev. E. A. Fogelstrom first presented it, as many members of the body were even at that time desirous of bringing the institute into official relation with the synod. It was finally decided not to adopt the plan for two reasons, as shown by the discussions. One was that the body did not care to shoulder the responsibility that would be necessary in case the institute was officially connected. The second reason was that it was feared that it might be injurious to the institute to be connected. The discussion, however, resulted in the passage of the following resolution:

passage of the following resolution:

In grateful recognition of the hand of God and man the synod rejoices over the success of the institute at Omaha and expects, hopes and prays that the blessed work will continue. The typod recommends that a free will offering be made by every congregation in the synod on the thirteenth Sunday after Trinity, for the benefit of the institute.

The remainder of the afternoon was oc cupied in discussing an appeal from the Kansas conference, where Rev. Seleen of Fremont, Kan., had been charged with and found guilty of acting as an agent for a real estate firm of Chicago. The Kansas onference had investigated the brough a committee and had accepted the findings of that committee as final, before it had made its investigation.

The case being in this condition Dr. P.

Sjoblom held that the conference had not proceeded according to its constitution in delegating its judicial powers to a committee and that that therefore the case should be returned back to the conference for a legal decision. The Kansas delegation contended that its conference had acted legally. The discussion over the point was very animated, but was brought to a sud-den close by the discovery that there was no quorum present on the convention floor. til today.

The charges against the preacher are grave ones in the eyes of the synod, as that body positively refuses to allow any minis-ter to engage in business pursuits of any description.

Among the other matters discussed by the members of the synod yesterday after-noon was a proposition from E. A. Fogelstorm of the Swedish Emmanuel hospital. Mr. Fogelstrom is the founder of the in-stitution and has conducted it successfully number of years. He requested that it be admitted to the synod and be hereafter placed under the direction of the Augustana officials. It was decided not to accept Mr. Fogelstrom's offer for the present, but courage the work of the hospital by giving it their individual support.

The evening was taken up by two sermons. The first was delivered by Rev. N. J. Johnon of Brooklyn, N. Y., who preached upon he "Redemption of Souls." The second speaker of the evening was Rev. E. J. Werner. He discussed the question "Is the School System in Accordance with the

On fine afternoons like yesterday there is a continuous string of bicycles and carriages passing on the boulevard and the attraction was great enough to induce all who came along to

The troops were divided into two divisions and each put through the skirmish drill separately and then the entire command made an attack on an imaginary enemy. They gave a very realistic exhibition of just how fast trained men could pump Just how fast trained men could pump into an enemy should occasion require it. Work Too Great for the Means at Its Command. OMAHA, June 10 .- To the Editor of The Bee: Would you please publish a few of the marvelous results accomplished since we established our gospel mission in this city? Several times during the winter months it has been brought before the public by those who were rescued from want and suffering and ministered to both for body and soul. While our rooms were on Capitol avenue, for want of proper support, we had to move to cheaper quarters at 320 South Thirteenth street, where meetings are held every evening at 8 o'clock, and where we feed destitute men and women. Some of the incidents, which are of great occurrence, are worth recording. Two weeks ago we picked up on the street a man from the country, who had fallen in bad company; had been robbed of all his money and was wandering on the streets delirious through drink. When we found him he had not as cent. We took him to We took him to our home and cared for him until he re covered, and was sent home. One week ago we picked up a minister of the gospel from the country, who had ran away from his family and charge in a fit of despondency; took to drink, and would have ended his life (as he said himself), only God, in His providence, sent us his way. We paid his hotel bills, brought him home, cared for him for a week; when his wife and a member of his church came after him. All this, and much more could be told of cases turning up nearly every day. Will not some of our wealthy citizens, who believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and His work on earth
