

PLANS FOR A MASS MEETING

To Be Held in Honor of the Passage of the Exposition Bill.

COMMERCIAL CLUB IS TO TAKE CHARGE

Effort to Be Made to Induce the City to Extend the Pavement on the Road to the Fair Grounds to Connect with the Macdonald.

At the regular meeting of the directors of the Commercial club, held at noon yesterday, it was decided that the organization will assume charge of the mass meeting to be held some time next week in honor of the passage of the exposition bill and will see that the celebration is in keeping with the importance of the occasion.

President G. W. Wattles of the Exposition association was present at the meeting and was called upon by Chairman Dumont to address the directors. He explained that it had been thought best to ask the Commercial club to take charge of the celebration. He dwelt at some length upon the importance of the exposition to this entire section of country. It was necessary, he said, for every person in the city to cooperate with those having the exposition matter in charge in order that it may be made a success. A mass meeting had been deemed the best means of bringing the great importance of this co-operation directly home to the consciousness of every resident of the city.

At the conclusion of the address, E. C. Price moved the appointment of a committee to carry out the suggestions of Mr. Wattles. At the suggestion of G. W. Wattles the committee was made to consist of three and was given full power to appoint necessary sub-committees and carry out any plan they may formulate. The chair appointed as its members C. F. Weller, H. J. Penfold and J. E. Utz. It was also decided that Chairman Dumont should act in conjunction with the committee.

BUSINESS MEN TO MEET

Mr. Wattles then explained to those present the nature of the meeting of business men to be held at the Commercial club rooms next Thursday evening for the purpose of discussing the exposition and invited every member of the Commercial club to be present.

E. C. Price called attention to the dusty condition of the two roads leading to the fair grounds, Leavenworth and Center streets, and suggested that a committee be appointed to see if some means could be devised to have those streets paved inside the city limits to connect with the paving to be laid on Leavenworth street by the county commissioners up to the city limits, and with the paving on Center street, which now commences at the City limits. After some discussion it was decided that a motion to this effect was passed, and the chair appointed Messrs. E. C. Price, John Steel and Edgar Allen as such committee.

SCRATCH AND SCREAM

My baby broke out with a rash. He would scratch and scream. It would take two to hold him, and one to put medicine on him. We had to hold him sometimes an hour before we could get him quieted down. All said that they never saw such a face of baby as my baby's on him. I had to tie his hands tight in a cloth, night and day, for five months. My sister had used CUT-IT-OUT, and I began to use it. After only one application, he lay down and slept as he had not for a month, poor little fellow. He has not a scratch on him now, and he is as fat and his flesh is so soft as any baby. While he had this disease I had to cut the sleeves out of his clothes, and put gauze underwear on him to keep him cool. I had to keep pieces of soft cloth around his neck. It was weeks with medicine from the stores, and I had to change the clothes sometimes ten or twelve times a day. Mrs. A. H. KYLE, Laborer, D. S. NEBRASKA CURE TREATMENT FOR BABY HEADS. RELIGION FOR LITTLE ONES

Opening Session of the Presbyterian Sunday School Institute.

FORMALLY WELCOMED TO THE CITY

Rev. J. A. Worden of Philadelphia Delivers the Principal Address of the Evening on Patriotism and Christianity.

The first Interstate Sabbath School Institute of the Presbyterian synods of Iowa and Nebraska opened at the First Presbyterian church at Seventeenth and Dodge streets last night. Every seat on the lower floor of the large church was occupied when Rev. R. T. Bell of Falls City, Neb., opened the meeting with devotional service. The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. S. B. McCormick, pastor of the First church of this city, who said there was no gathering more welcome than the one he had the pleasure of addressing, which he compared with the national republican convention in session in St. Louis. He said the St. Louis gathering was for the purpose of discussing matters of great temporal import, while this had to do with man's spiritual welfare, and was, therefore, the more important. He spoke at some length upon the importance of Sabbath school work and the importance of the discussion which would form a part of the program.

Rev. Scott W. Smith of Boone, Ia., reported on the address of welcome, and he half of the visiting delegates. One of the most interesting moments in a pleasing strain and warned the chairman that the visitors should expect a spiritual and intellectual treat.

Mr. McCormick announced that a telegram had been received in the afternoon, announcing the illness of Chancellor McLean at Lincoln, which prevented him from being present and delivering one of the principal addresses of the evening. Rev. J. A. Worden of Philadelphia was then introduced and delivered an entertaining address, which occupied about half an hour, speaking substantially as follows:

"In this country we are a people of many nations, but we are a people of one God, and we are a people of one Christ. The first duty of every Christian is to evangelize the United States. It will not be denied that the work of evangelizing America is attended with difficulties. DIFFICULTIES TO OVERCOME. "First among these is the great number of nationalities composing our population. It is not simply the fact of these nationalities, but the great difficulty of combining all of them into one body politic. The next difficulty is the different religions. There are not only the different denominations, but the different phases of these various religions. Next we have every variety of form of opposition to religion. This country is the resting place of all the wrongs of the world. They look upon America as the battle ground of the world, and the battle must be fought on a just and noble basis. As America goes in religion, so goes the world. Besides all these difficulties we have those impending perils, illiteracy, crime and poverty. Mr. William E. Gladstone calls attention to our great territory. This very vastness, combined with the sparsity of our population, is a great hindrance to our work. It is of great importance that the Christian church take hold for Christ the great strategic points in this warfare, the cities. The average American citizen does not work out a great string of cities along the railroads, but beyond the sight of the passenger upon the trains are millions of people who are miles from any place of worship. The great question is, how are we going to reach these thousands of people? In the first place, I will say that we cannot reach them if we depend upon the ordained ministers. There is a dearth of ministers already, and ministers are an expensive luxury. There is a great need of a theological seminary, which has been established in this city, and I predict a great success for it. But these people are not going to wait for us. They are coming to us. More than that, the home board is heavily in debt and cannot supply ministers to all the points where they are needed. We must send it to reach these people when we have neither the money nor the ministers? The gospel of Christ must be taken to them from the outside; we must send it to them. "The cities depend upon the country for the new blood which keeps the cities alive and vigorous, and if we don't keep the blood pure and vigorous in the country, the cities in a healthy state. The Sabbath school affords the solution of this great question. The world will never be won to Christ by the work of the ordained ministers. Not until all the gifts and graces and goods and talents of God's people are utilized will the gospel be preached to all the people. The laymen in the Sabbath school have the faculty of getting close to the people and winning their hearts. There have been 45,000 men and women organized in Sabbath schools in the last eight years, and there are only 7,000 ministers; if we can't give them ministers, we can give them mission Sabbath schools. These mission schools win the children, and when you have won the children, you have won the parents. By this, I do not mean union schools, as we have tried them, and we found that they do not make Presbyterian churches. I mean Presbyterian mission schools. PROGRESS IN EIGHT YEARS. "This Sabbath school work is closely identified with Omaha. At the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, held in Omaha in 1887, a committee was appointed to investigate the question of Sabbath schools. It closely investigated the matter in all its phases, including union schools, and it recommended the work which is now being carried on. At the general assembly of that year, we started in debt, but in one year this debt had been cleared away. In the eight years since this work was established, we have opened 1,150 schools, with 365,000 members, besides reorganizing 1,700 schools. You should remember that these eight years have covered a period of awful depression. "Our greatest trial is that we can do so little. There are over 12,000,000 boys and girls on the outside, waiting for the Sabbath school. We have not man in Arizona,

TEXAS or INDIAN TERRITORY, and only one in Montana. We want you all to help us push this work along by contributing to it.

The Institute will hold morning, afternoon and evening sessions today and tomorrow at the First church at which subjects of special interest to Sunday school workers will be discussed by various delegates.

THE CYCLONE PHOTOGRAPHED

A Graphic Portrayal of the St. Louis Cyclone's Deadly Work.

THE BEE HAS EXCLUSIVE RIGHT

Only Authentic Edition Published Quick Work of Pen and Camera and The Bee Secures the Work for its Subscribers.

Four hundred killed and 1,200 injured in the record of the cyclone which struck St. Louis and East St. Louis on the afternoon of May 27. Within half an hour thousands of families were rendered homeless and property to the value of $50,000,000 was destroyed. It was the most disastrous storm of modern times, far more appalling than any earthquake or hurricane that has occurred in this generation. Hundreds of miles of electric wires and thousands of telephone and telegraph poles were dashed to the ground like so many alpenstocks. Trees were uprooted and hurled a distance of several blocks. Heavy iron fences were twisted as though they were so much tin. The masonry at the approaches of the great Eads bridge was blown away, steamboats were dashed across the river, broken into shreds and hurled high upon the opposite banks. There was nothing either on land or afloat to withstand the pitiless fury of the awful wind, which attained a velocity of 100 miles an hour and brought with it havoc, ruin and death.

Right upon the heels of the storm came Straus, St. Louis leading photographer, who made perfect views of all the most important ruins, which included some of the city's most substantial buildings and churches. These views, together with a graphic description of the wreck from the pen of one of St. Louis' most noted newspaper men, have been handsomely engraved and printed on superlative and calendared paper and bound in book form, after the style of the World's Fair Views, which The Bee scattered broadcast in 1894, making it the only publication of the kind in the world. It is almost priceless, as it is the only authentic edition photographed direct from actual life or death, that will be published. The Bee has exclusive control of the production and offers this complete work of fifty pages, including forty-three full page illustrations, for $1.25 to $1.50, depending on the insignificant sum of 25 cents and one coupon cut out of the advertisement on another page.

BAD HABITS

Strange how easily folks acquire bad habits. Strangest of all how they don't know they are bad habits. Many of the brightest men in Omaha have acquired the bad habit of paying too much for their neckwear. They seem to like to. They go into a store and cheerfully hand over 35c for a little silk bow that they could buy at "The Nebraska" for 15c. They go into another store and pay 50c for exactly the same four-in-hand we sell here for a quarter. They see a tie in a window labeled "Ascot" or "De Joinville," or "Dunraven" and they draw out their seal pocket-books and pay 75c for it without a murmur while another man, at "The Nebraska," goes down in his jeans for half a dollar and gets a nickel change and the same tie exactly. We are not reformers. We are not in the Salvation Army business. We are in the business of selling neckwear and other things to people who want to save money and who like to go where they are sure to find it. We sell fancy colored Bows 5c each. White string ties 10c a dozen. Colored lawn ties 5c each to 25c a dozen and a magnificent, unequalled, and unmatched array of Kai-Kai and Pongee Silk ties at very nearly half what proud stores get for them. They are "hot stuff" these cool ties of ours and they are making some stores feel weary.
