ATTORNEY WEST GOES FREE

Last Official Act in the Bolla Jury Bribery

THREE JUDGES AGREE ON THE VERDICT

Opinion of Judge Baker, However, is in the Nature of a Scotch Verdiet-Goes Into Matters Outside the Record.

Judge Baker yesterday morning handed down the verdict in the case in which Joel W. West, a member of the Douglas county bar, was tried on the charge of contempt of court, the accusation being that he had procured the bribing of a juror in the first trial of Henry Bolin, the ex-city treasurer, who was afterward convicted of embezzling $105.500 of public funds.

A few attorneys and the usual number of attaches of the court comprised the audience when Judge Baker ascended the bench. accompanied by Judges Keysor and Powell of the equity court, whom he had invited to sit with him and assist in passing upon the facts in the case. Henry Bolin was an interested spectator, sitting beside West, and listening intently to the opinions expressed by the judges. Two of West's counsel, At torneys Greene and Baldwin, were in court, and the remainder of the spectators com prised attorneys who happened into the

As the bailiff concluded his "Hear ye! hear ye!" Judge Baker announced that a decision would be rendered in the case against Joel W. West, and asked Judge Bewell to the case against Joel W. West, and asked Judge Powell to speak first.

Judge Powell gave his opinion, speaking substantially as follows:

"After the evidence in this case was submitted Judge Keysor and myself were invited to read the testimony and confer with Judge Baker in regard to a finding. We have not had the advantage of seeing the witnesses on the stand and of hearing them testify, but I heard a portion of the arguments. The offense, in its nature, is criminal find the rules of criminal procedure should be applied to the evidence.

It is admitted that one of the jurors in the first trial of Henry Bolin was bribed. If the defendant in this case, a man of superior intelligence and an officer of this court, is guilty no punishment could be too severe On the other hand, he is entitled to the presumption of innocence. In my opinion the evidence in this case is not sufficient to remove the presumption of innocence. Judge Keysor and myself sit in this case in the attitude of jurors. We can only pass upon the facts and have no power to render a judgment or pass upon the law." OPINION BY JUDGE KEYSOR.

Judge Keysor then gave his opinion, substantially in the following language:
"In a case of this kind the proof should be the same as in a criminal case; where the act is a crime as well as contempt of court, the evidence should be sufficient to establish the guilt of the defendant beyonreasonable doubt. I have not heard the arguments in this case, but I have gone over the evidence carefully and have studied

It in the light of a juror.
"There is one point which, if proven, would, in my mind, be sufficient to establish the guilt of the defendant-if it was proven that West sent the note to Fitzpatrick's house after the jury was empaneled it would be proof of the guilt of the defendant Fitzpatrick testified that the note was sent to his house after the jury had been em paneled; West's stenographer also testified that she delivered the note at Fitzpatrick's house during the trial of the case, but I d not believe her testimony is entitled to credence for the reason that she was mis-taken in her testimony on another material point and she is not entitled to credence on this point, unless her testimony was supported by corroborative evidence. I do not mean to say that she testified falsely with the intention to do so, but I think she might have been mistake on this point the same as she was on This leaves the point er tirely between Ficapatrick and West. West denies that the note was sent to Fitzpat rick's house during the progress of the case. In a case like this, where one witness is self-convicted and the defendant is of previous good character, I should take the testimony of the defendant rather than of Fitzpatrick. Therefore, I find that on this material point the testimony of West should be taken and that he is not guilty o

JUDGE BAKER HAS HIS VIEWS.

I called in my associates to sit with me in this case to pass upon the facts because I am familiar with a number of outside facts which could not be brought into the case so as to appear as a part of the record. On the record of the case as it stands I concur with my associates, but or

"I have learned from good authority great many facts in connection with this case which could not possibly have guilt of the defendant. This case was worked up very carefully, and I must say most creditably, by Captain Mostyn. He worked on Sweeney and Gump and got in their good graces. It is true he may have told them some lies, but the circumstances warranted him in doing this. However that may be he met Gump and Sweeney several times and they refused to talk to him about the case. He told them that Fitzpatrick had received $5,000 for his work in the case and had given them but $50. He also told them uld see Fitzpatrick and try to make him disgorge, and finally he succeeded in getting an order on Fitzpatrick directing him to pay Mostyn money for their share of the transaction. He saw them later and represented that he had seen Fitzpatrick, but that Fitzpatrick said he did not recognize the handwriting in the order and pre-terded to know nothing about the matter. Mostyn then persuaded them to make an affidavit setting forth the facts, which were afterwards testified to on the stand by Fitz-patrick himself. Mostyn represented that he wanted this paper to use it to induce Fitz-patrick to give up some more of the money. All of this time Mostyn had not seen Fitz-patrick at all, but he made Gump and Sweeney believe that he saw him every day. They made the addavit and it was intro-duced in evidence in another case. The statements contained in that affidavit were testified to on the stand by Fitzpatrick. All these things go to prove, to my mind, that

"Another thing: It was current about the court house during the time the jury was out that the jury stood nine to three for conviction, West came to me and wanted the jury kept out until it agreed. This is evidence to me that he had some ulterior motive—that he must have been confident

THE THIRD VICTORY FOR MOORES. Wins Again in the Suit Brought by Bates,

Judge Slabaugh handed down a decision in the case of C. E. Hates against Frank E. Moores, ex-clerk of the district court, deciding in favor of Moores, making the third victory for Moores in this particular case. This was an action brought by Bates to recover about $500 alleged to have been wrongfully taxed as costs in twenty-two mortgage foreclesure cases in which Bates was interested. The case was first brough a demurrer, it being decided that the county court did not have jurisdiction. Suit was then brought in the district court against Moores and his bondsmen, but upon a hearing before Judge Fawcett the case was dismissed as to the bondsmen. The matter finally came up before Judge Siabaugh, the point being raised by the at-torneys of Moores that the case had not been brought in the proper manner, in that it attacked the records of the cases in which it was alleged that the costs had been wrongfully taxed. Judge Slabaugh heard the case some time ago and in his decision. ruled that the records of the cases in which it was alleged the costs had been wrongully taxed imported verity of themselves and that the proper course to have pursued would have been to have filed a motion in the case in which the judgment was entered to retax the costs and have the judg cent altered before proceeding in an action o recover the alleged overcharg herefore decided against the plaintiff and dismissed the action. The attorneys for Bates say they intend appealing the case

Everybody agrees that for value they are waist and shoulders over any ever seen in Omaha, and the styles are such as the most particular women can pick no fault with. They are handsome, stylish, washable, wearable and perfect fitting, and even the suits have taped seams on the pants, which does not add to the beauty of them but adds to the wear of them and the value of them. The next step from a quarter is 35c, and after that comes 50c, 65c, 75c and $1.00, and for every dime and quarter in the price you get more than a dime or quarter in the value. It is no unusual thing for women to remark of the dollar suits: "Why, these are better than we saw up street for $2.00." We will have on sale

Again Saturday

a fresh lot of the boys' fancy straw hats from 15c to 35c which were cleaned up so quickly on account of their big value. The wash pants with taped seams at 100 are also big values. Big values are what the people want these days. Big values are what "The Nebras-
