DILKE SAYS IT'S NOT RIGHT. There is an immediate, specific and impertant point of this subject in the present tour of Li Hung Chang in Europe. His forthcoming visit to England is of almost as much interest to America's far eastern trade as to that of England. Its most inexplicable development is that the great Chinese envoy has been given in Russia and considerate than was given to Marshal Yamagata of Japan, and that Yamagata will not come to England at all, although Engiand has been hitherto supposed to favor Japan even in opposition to Ching.
