CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Jobbers Report a Fair Average Business for Last of June.

MANUFACTURERS TALK HOME INDUSTRY

Situation at South Omaha Shows Unmistakable Signs of Improvement ... Deficit in Live Stock Receipts Being Rapidly Reduced.

Reports from leading local jobbing houses all agree that business the past week has been in very fair condition and fully up to the expectations for this season. The dullest season of the year in most lines is now near at hand and no one could expect a very active demand for merchandle. at the present time is of a satisfactory tharacter and goods being sent out are for the most part going into tolerably strong hands and very little complaint is heard on the score of poor collection The people who are buying appear to have the money to meet obligations incurred,

In all sections of tributary territory farmers are very bury in the fields and are siting the towns only on rare occasion when compelled and hence the retail trac merchants so far as can be learned from interviews with those who have been in merchants so far as can be learned from interviews with those who have been in the city during the past few days, and from letters received by Jobbers, is thist the situation in the country is all that could be expected and that they are not at all worried by present light trade, as they figure that the fail trade will more than make up for it. In Omaha business continues rather quiet, but no more so than it has been the greater portion of the past two months or more. Local retail merchants, like their brothers in the country, are also looking for a good fall trade.

The manufacturers are talking home patronage at every opportunity and are doing all that is possible to get their goods into the market. Luring the past week the secretury of the Manufacturers association called upon the merchants located in the different towns between Norfolk and O'Neill and argued the home patronage question with them. The most of them carry full lines and few of them push home manufactured goods with the energy or enthusiasm that they might. On the contrary, many merchants allow the jobbers to load them up with goods made in other states, to the neglect of their own manufacturers. The jobbers always say when approached on the subject that they handle the goods that their customers, the retail merchants of the state, want and that if there is a demand for home-made goods they would just as soon carry them as not. On the other hand, the retail merchants say, "Weell, way don't you get the jobbers to put in home-made goods and then we would handle them."

Mr. Holmes says that the home industry theory is like religion, every one believes put in home-made goods and then we would mandle them."

Mr. Holmes says that the home industry theory is like religion, every one believes in it, but a good many do not practice it with as much enthusiasm as they might.

The merchants in that portion of the state where sugar and chicory are produced are reporting a better business than are the merchants in a good many other localities. The growing of beets and chicory gives employment to a much larger population than corn growing and the more people there are to be fed and provided for scople there are to be fed and provided for the more business there is for the retail nerchants. Mrs. Pugh and Mrs. McMurphay are most all the great staples are declining the market on shoes is assuming a stronger tone. The hide market is in really a stronger position than it was a year ago, and to that fact must be ascribed any firmness that may be developed in the market for the manufactured products of leather. The cry of scarcity was so alarming last summer that all the reserves of both hides and leather in all parts of the world were brought out. Since that time the consumption of leather has been increased and the output has been decreased. creased and the output has been decreased. It is noteworthy as showing the inherent statistical strength of leather that it has advanced two or three times within a short time, while all sorts and conditions of commodities in other lines of trade have been on the down grade. The recent advances in leather have compelled the shoe manu-factures to pay some attention to the ques-tion of raising shoe prices for the coming

MOVEMENT IN LIVE STOCK.
Business at South Omaha shows unmistakable signs of improvement that are most graiffying to all who are interested in the prosperity of the great live stock interests centered at that point. During the early portion of the year receipts of all kinds of live stock were very limited, owing to the fact that the failure of the corn crop in 1894 has compelled the farmers of the state to market all their surplus, and in many cases their breeding stock as well. For a time the state was almost bare of live stock, and business in consequence was at a very low ebb at South Omaha. Since the failure of 1814 a new crop has been grown, and during the fee months it is just commencing to come forward to market, with the result that receipts are now heavier by considerable, than was the case a year ago. For the six months of the year now passed here were received at South Omaha 11,555 cattle and 42,579 more sheep than arrived during the corresponding period of 1825—not a large gain, by any means, but a gain all the same, that proves beyond question that the tide has turned.

In the matter of hog receipts there has been a failing off for the six months pass amounting to 56,414 head, but a month ago there was a deficit of 187,731, showing that during the past thirty days there has been a failing off for the six months pass above a failing off for the six months pass amounting to 56,414 head, but a month ago there was a deficit of 187,731, showing that during the past thirty days there has been a failing of five the six months possible of linerease it will not be long before 1856 and show gains in all kinds of live stock.

Prices, as a matter of fact, are very low for all kinds of live stock.

Prices, as a matter of fact, are very low for all kinds of live stock.

Prices, as a matter of fact, are very low for all kinds of live stock, but probably no lower in proportion than other leading farm products. Aside from the lower prices the sondition of the trade is of a very satisfactory character. tactory character.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The day closed very quiet, as the demand stimulated for bleached cottons by reduced prices having been supplied, both local and out of town merchants are indisposed to do anything till semi-annual accounts are closed. The best feature of the situation is that many cotton mills will shut down today and that a shutdown of more than 5.00, 500 spindles for four weeks during July and Angust has been announced. The reduced production resulting therefrom must have a good effect on values. Printing cloths duil at 27-léc. FALL, RIVER, Mass. June 27.—The print cloth market has been quiet all the week with a very moderate demand and light sales. The buyers have shown no increase in interest, even with the certainty of a shut down before them. The very large stock on hand makes them safe in holding off till bushess at their end improves. Triess cannot increase to any material extent while this stock remains unmoved. The sales were about equally divided between spots and futures. The futures were sold for delivery through July, August and September, 6,000 pieces a week being the largest weekly sale. With July at hand, the advance sales were only 56,000 pieces. The market is steady at 27-16c and the demand is light.

London Market Review.

LONDON, June 27.—There is a prospect for a marked improvement in crops. The wheat is doing well and in the early districts the harvest is expected in the middle of July. Wheat in the market has been quiet, especially forward wheat. Frices were fully 5d worse. Russian offers were light on massage and faures were reduced, but the demand was poor. American quotations were weak and general supplies were rety moderate. California wheat, prompt delivery, was quoted at 28s. Parcels were quiet. Duluth wheat, July delivery, was quoted at 24s ed. Flour was dull. Bakers flour was quoted at 17s. Marke was quet and task of the same cels were quoted at 18s. Oats were dull. American clipped oats, August delivery, were quoted at 12s.

Decline in Wall Street Securities Responsible for Wheat's Decline.

MODERATE TRADE IN CORN ALL DAY

There Was an Easier Tone to the Market, a Good Deal of July Liquidation Taking Place.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The decline in Wall Eric is 19ft ...

CHICAGO, June 27.—The decline in Wall street securities was largely responsible for a further decline in wheat today. September closed easy at 55%, or about by below yesterday. Corn and oats each surfered another 3¢ decline and pork dropped 1%.

There was only a moderate speculative trade in wheat and that was chiefly local, the range of the day being from 3¢ to 3¢. The feeling displayed at the start was a little steadler, and for awhile the market held fairly firm, but a weak spell soon set in and prices made a new record for this week, July selling off to 54½c. Final figures showed a decline of from 3¢c to 4¢c. The feeling the came from the fair showing of the exports for the week. Northwestern of the exports for the week. Northwestern of the exports for the week. Northwestern factors that had a like tendency on the market. Argentine shipments were small, Cables, too, were fairly stendy in tone, Liv-Cables, too, were fairly stendy in tone, Liv-Cables southwest had more rain, which were also factors that had a like tendency on the market. Argentine shipments were small. Cables, too, were fairly stendy in tone, Liverpool being quoted unchanged, which, in the lace of the decline on this side, was taken as an indication of more confidence. There was a moderate trade in corn and an easier tone to the market, a good deal of July liquidation taking place. Slightly lower prices were established, July seiting to 26% early, and September to 28¢, final figures showing ½¢ decline. The spread between July and September was from 1¢ to 1½¢. Receipts were liberal, the weather good and they were the principal factors.

Outs were active, weaker and lower, especially for July, which declined ½¢ and closed at the bottom, while the other months were only ½¢ lower, making another low record for the crop. There was heavy realizing by longs, several large lots being soid. A good many shorts also covered and some investment buying was indulged in owing to the low prices, and shippers bought July to close their spreads. A fair business was transacted in the way of changing from July to September, at from 3½¢ to ½¢, and September to May at 2½¢ difference.

The provision market repeated its old nce. The provision market repeated its ol-tory of declining values. It opened a shad lower.

It opened a shade lower than it closed yester-day and suffered a further decline in the course of the day. July lard closed at its record breaking for, price of $3.87½ and September at $4.00. Ribs closed at the same price as on the day left., but pork lost 7½c. Closing quotations for the September delivery were Pork, $7.10; and $4.00, and ribs, $3.80.

Estimated receipts for Monday are: Wheat, 66 cars; corp. 505 cars; oats, 35.00 head.

securities Developed Wenkness Under

n Renewed Liquidation.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The stock market tolay developed pronounced weakness under a renewal of liquidation and heavy short offerings. There appeared to be a widespread distribution of step loss orders and in the street generally a degree of nervous tension prevailed that was not satisfactorily explained as due to specific reports or rumors. A prominent operator, who is generally identified with efforts on the build side of the market, was today considered mainly responsible for the attacks on several of the leading railway properties. One factor in the depression was the gratuitous assumption of some of the bear traders that the traffic returns of a number of the leading properties to be submitted next week will be unfavorable. The market was indifferent to improvement in London prices of American securities based on the more cassuring turn in the Venezuelan imbroglio, and the more important concessions in the railway list were scored in the international stocks. The bear contingent redoubled its efforts on the discovery of the attempts to unload long stocks. The first appearance of weakness occurred in the industrial shares, with Sugar the main point of attack. Leather preferred and Tobacco were also hammered, but the lesses were less serious. The market, as a whole, appeared to be unsupported and yielded réadily to pressure. Dealings in Sugar were on a smaller scale than recently, but a decline of 2½ per cent to 18% occurred. Laclede Gas preferred was a notable exception to the general drift and rold up 2 per cent to 80. Houses with loston connections were conspicuous sellers of harlington, and St. Paul and Rock Island were sympathetically depressed. Louisville & Nashville fell 1½ per cent and important declines were properticallies. Pacific Mail exceptionally losing 1½ per cent to 18 market closed weak at about the lowest points generally, although in a few instances sharp fractional railies from the extreme declines were noted. In the week's operation there was declided irregularity of movement, with however, a drooping tendency well defined. The predominant factor was the sliver agitation, in the product by European dealers. This cendition resulted in a break of importance in domestic sugar. degree of nervous tension prevailed that was of satisfactorily explained as due to specific in the product by European dealers. This cendition resulted in a break of importance in domestic sugars.

Heavy lines of long stock were thrown on the market by insiders who usually are not satisfied with a narrow range after changing their market position. It would not be surprising, however, in any event, if the shorts were compelled to cover their lines. The extreme decline was by per cent to 112, subsequently a recovery in the foreign product and a renewal of inside support caused a raily to 1164. From that figure fresh liquidation effected a recession to within a fraction of the low point. The movement in the stock appeared to dominate the course of the speculation in the general market, i. qui dail in was pacity general and material losses were scored, despite occasional purchases for foreign account. The grangers and southwesterns were the greatest sufferers and closed with the week at about the lowest point. The market was decidedly nervous throughout. The ecolet's rose sharply on the official announcement of the advance in antiractic coal prices, but even in this group the reactionary tendency in the general speculation prevented the retention of the full improvement. The principal losses were: Leather prefetred, 45 per cent; Burlington, 45 per cent; Tokacco, 25 per cent; Euclie Mai, 35 per cent; Northwest, Kansas & Texas preferred and Tennessee Coal, 25 per cent; Euclie Mai, 35 per cent; Rock Island and General Electric, 25 per cent, Rock Island and General Electric, 25 per cent, Rock Island and General Electric, 25 per cent, Book Island and General Electric, 26 per cent, Book Island an

with the heaviness of the stock market. The sales were $70.00. The week's trading displayed tregularity, with prices tending toward a lower level. There were few features of interest saide from acute weakness in a few issues, which were depressed by specific causes. Gregon improvement late fell off $1.5 per cent to $2.5, mainly on the opposition to the reorganization plan. The transactions were $1.585.000. Sliver certificates were prominent in the week's dealings and ruse its per cent to 10, with a subsequent reaction to $2.5, The gainmatton was largely attributed to speculative purchases. The dealings were $1.386. Governments were quiet with an easier tentency, and especially to the new 4s, which yielded per cent to 115%. The gates were $85,080. tications of the jury. An imported attorney rushed in just as the jury was sworn and went at the trial of the case. The battle was a vigorous one, and when the time came for argument the town lawyer began it with fervor. He talked five men to sleep, two were excused by the judge to go and get their horses shod, and the other four went $7.1162 3.85 over to the sheriff's office to play poker Only the twelfth seemed interested, and the lawyer, who had been surprised at such court laxity, knew that he had to get that attentive man, and so argued at him alone ignoring the others. After some hours he quit; the other side said a word or two and the case rested. The city man next day was grieved to hear of an adverse verdict. He said he had expected different things from the man who had seemed to listen so attentievly Then it came out that the interested juror was dead and dumb. Cowin says the way speakers here talk to the unhearing as semblage is a good deal like that attorney's vigorous address.

"Casually, it may be mentioned that he was the imported lawyer."

Old timers at the Illinois bar recall that gallant and genial Irishman, James Shields, lawyer and jurist, but better known as a United States senator. He was elected to the senate in 1848, defeating his predecessor Senator Breese, who was a candidate for Shields had distinguished himself as brave soldier in the Mexican war, and at the battle of Cerro Gordo he was shot through the lungs, the ball passing out at his back. His recovery was one of the marvels of the day. Shields' war record is believed to have secured to him his triumph over Breese, who had a strong following and was generally esteemed. When the news of Shields' elec-tion was received it caused considerable surprise and many regrets were expressed over the defeat of Judge Breese. A lawyer named Butterfield was speaking of it to a group of friends, when one of them remarked was that Mexican bullet that did the busi-

"Yes," retorted Butterfield, "that was great shot. The ball went clear through Shields without burting him and killed Breese 1,000 miles away."

CATTLE—The principal markets of the country were poorly supplied with cattle, as usual on a Saturday. Omaha had only 1,093 head, but that was more than any other market had.

The most of the cattle here were corn fed beeves of good average quality, and some of them were very prime. In addition to the fat cattle there was a considerable sprinkling of butchers' stock, feeders, etc.

The market did not show much change as compared with yesterday, values being just about stationary on all grades. The demand was good and the market fairly active so that a reasonably carly clearance was effected. Owing to the good quality of the cattle the sales showed up well on paper, $4.10 and $4.15 being paid for some, and one bunch going as high as $4.30, the best price so far this season.

Only about five loads of cows and heifers were on sale, and while the offerings were small they were larger than on a good many days. The market was just about steady, with no new feature of any importance. Everything in the line of butchers' stock changed hands early.

There were a few stockers and feeders in the yards which went at just about steady prices. Some operators on the market are looking for a much better demand for stock cattle after the western range season opens. Those who have canvassed the country, both east and west, find that there are no young cattle of any consequence on hand, and all feeders are wanting them. It is predicted that there will be a large demand on a soon as enough cattle of this class come several hundred noble red men were camped in the woods when the crust broke through and that the most of them perished in the rushing waters. A young woman of Bessemer, Mich., of the tender age of 2 years, has developed extraordinary fondness for iron ore, and the alert correspondent who chronicles the fact asserts her parents have great difficulty in keeping her from devouring the product of the near-by mines. While ordinary children are clamoring for candy this one cries for ore and apparently thrives on the somewhat unusual diet. Price List of Chamberlain's Medicines. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diar-hoea Remedy, the most successful medicine the world for bowel complaints, 25 and 0 cents per bottle.
