Thousands of Enthusiastic Citizens of Ohlo Gather in the City to Take Part in an Old-Fashioned Jollification.

This was cen-trally located, and the whole block, as well as the streets for blocks around, was crowded with a surging throng in every direction during the afternoon, while speaking was going on. Each delegation had its band. The Tippecanoe club, which took such a prominent part in the St. Louis convention, was most marked in its manifestations and its glee club was conspicuous. The most significant feature of the occasion was the predominating sentiment in all the speeches and on nearly all the banners which indi-cated the tariff was the leading issue in the estimation of the assembled hosts, and while the party did not propose to shift responsibility or evade the currency question, it was not intended in the least to allow the tariff issue to be overshadowed as the principal one of the campaign.

Ponight Governor McKinley reviewed the largest and most enthusiastic parade that has ever been witnessed here. The citizens' committee had erected an elevated platform on his front lawn for use on this occasion. The first speaker today was Hon. Henry W. Harter, a prominent lawyer and brother of the late Congressman M. D. Harter. He presented Judge William R. Day, a son of the late Ohlo supreme court judge, Luther Day, as chairman of the Market Square meeting. Judge Day has always been a very close friend and advisor of Governor McKinley, and it was some time before the enthusiasm which greeted him subsided.

CALLED OF THE PEOPLE. Judge W. R. Day, a neighbor of Major McKinley, and a prominent attorney, in behalf of Canton thanked the Tippecanoe club for the work done for Major McKinley. He complimented the members and paid a glow-ing tribute to the leadership of Mark Hanna In referring to Governor McKinley he used these words: "No great leader of the republican party of late years has had such a hearty call from the people. Why is it the men who contested his leadership now turn with one accord to William McKinley? The wer is in one word—the American people believe in him He concluded by introducing the president of the Tippecanoe club, who was greeted with the club yell.

Herbert W. Wolcott, president of the Tippecanoe club of Cleveland, made an address which was congratulatory and at the same time became prophetic. In closing he said: "He will be an inspiration to the young men of the nation, both those now living and those who shall read the story of his They will find him a good and uprigh i in every-day life, a careful, faithful. industrious man, a loyal soldier in times o war, a profound statesman in times of peace devoted to principle, a believer in America for Americans and a champion of protec tion more persevering and successful tha any of our great leaders living or dead."

The chairman presented Congressman Grosvenor as the leader of the national house of representatives, and he was greeted with

Hon. Charles Grosvenor said: "The re publican convention at St. Louis did not abandon any of the tenets of its ancient political faith, nor did it announce any new doctrine. It stands today, as shown by its platform, where it stood from 1861 all along the shining pathway it has journeyed. Bear in mind it was the republican party which enacted the law authorizing the issue or the greenback dollar and proclaimed as the soloun purpose of the country that the greenback should be a demand upon the treasury for a dollar as good as the dollar of the best and richest country on earth. It was the republican party which redeemed that promise and gave a dollar in gold to the holder of each dollar of this money. There s not one dollar which today passes current the United States and is respected the world over which does not owe its value and parity to the wisdom and the patriotism of the republican party. The silver question, now so soon to be a national issue be men of the sound money idea, and the populistic 50-cent dollar advocates tries in a convenient mask to hide behind by the party which, coming into power in 1893, proceeded to destroy the industries of the country and plunge the treasury into insolvency. What is the real issue of this campaign, and who will answer that question? The answer will come from the mer who demanded and seconded the nomination of McKinley and Hobart. The people always settle the real issues in which they feel the deepest interest. This year the peo-ple decree that the Wilson-Gorman bill. with all its train of calamities, shall be re pealed, and by a like decree they have said that the nation will go back to protection and reciprocity with their train of beneficial results, and they shall again become the practice and policy of the United States. To guard against any contingency abou all this these same people, by decrees which have come from the primaries of nearly all the states, decided that William McKinle shail administer the government and execut the laws they have decided shall be enacted in their interest."

The Tippscance Wolcott Glee club had found it impossible to get through the great throng to the flag decorated restrum and the "Depew of Ohio." Hon. James Hoyt of Cleve-and, was the next speaker. Hon. James H. Hoyt spoke as follows: "The city of St. Louis has been visited by two cyclones lately. Both were irresistible in power and left behind them lasting but different results. One was born of disorder and the other was been of an enlightened public opinion. One was malevolent and the other magnificent. One was terrible and the other was grand. The first cyclone was typical of democracy, for the reason that it devolished in moments the labor of years for the reason that death and destruction were ruthlessly wrought by it, and sorrow and pain were caused by it. The only dif-ference that a thoughtful man can discover between the first of these cyclones and democracy is rather in favor of the cyclone, for it confined its ravages to a comparatively small region and exhausted its dealth energy in a few hours. We should be glad because we are members of a party which always rises to an emergency with which the interests and the credit people and the government of the United Siates are safe. We are to be congratulated on the magnificent plutform adopted at St. Louis. In unmistakable language it announce that the republican party proposes to see to it in the future, as it always has In the past, that a dollar of American mone shall be worth 100 cents, not only in this courtry, but in every quarter of the earth.

BRAZIL IS READY TO ARBITRATE.

Dispute Between that Republic and Itnly to Be Referred to Uncle Sam. RIO DE JANEIRO June 3 - (Special Cor. respondence.)-Since the revolution of 1893 94 the republic of Brazil has had a great number of diplomatic difficulties with Italy, in many instances arising from claims made ween Italy and Brazil were at a certain period of last year upon the point of being interrupted.

In February last, however, an understand ing was reached between the two powers by which it was decided to submit the claims of from Tacoma on April 28 for Port Pirie, has Italy to the arbitration of the president of been totally wrecked near Valoa. All the the United States. The points in the cas were communicated June 1 by the Brazilian minister of foreign affairs to the congress of Brazil. This agreement was approved by th Italian government on May 15, and will be accepted by the national congress of Brazil within the first week of June, so that it may even now be considered as in force.

The Brazilian government has been asked by the minister of the United States if it is disposed to accord the necessary facilities to delegates of the principal chambers of commerce of the United States who are de sirous of going to Brazil in order to study the question of improving the commercia relations between the United States and Brazil. The minister of foreign affairs of Brazil answered this question today, saying that the Brazilian government would be among them and that the Brazilian government will do all in its power to facilitate the accomplishment of their mission. The Brazilian minister of foreign affairs has notified the chamber of deputies that Brazil, connected with nearly all the South Amer can republics by the tributary streams of the Amazon and La Plata rivers, has with them many commercial interests which cannot be controlled by an autonomical regime. If these reasons, he added, are not sufficient for the defense of the treaties of commerce and of navigation, the direcion which their products have taken in the ifferent republies of the southern continent rould suggest a commercial agreement which will secure to them the best conditions of trade and consumption. As Brazil and the Argentine Republic dominate the coasts of the South Atlantic ocean and Chili dominates those of the Southern Pacific, an alliance of a commercial nature between these three republics is proposed for the development of the maritime commerce of South America.

SCANDAL IN QUEEN'S OWN REGIMENT Two Young Men Forced to Resign or

Account of Social Standing. (Copyright, 1896, by the Associated Press.) LONDON, June 27.—The Fourth Hussars (queen's own) are being raked by the press and frowned upon by the public in general. Some time ago, it appears, the officers of the Fourth Hussars bullied a subaltern named Hodge to such an extent that he resigned and went to Africa. This caused some comment is to Africa. This caused some comment in the press, but the matter was allowed to drop. Later it transpired that when a young man named Bruce Price was gazetted to the Fourth Hussars, he was invited to dine at the Nimrod club by five subalterns who, after making inquires as to his means, told him he was not wanted in the regiment i and that unless he retired gracefully he would be made to retire in disgrace. The young lieutenant declined to resign and reported the matter to the adjutant. But, it seems, all the officers of the regiment, from Colonel Brebazon down, boycotted and bullied him until he was finally compelled to resign, on the ground that he was too familiar with privates. The affair is causing the greatest excitement in the service, especially as it is claimed that there is a deliberate conspiracy among the officers of that regiment to allow none but those who are able to keep hunters and race horses o remain in the regiment.

The father of the latest victim of the Fourth Hussars scandal intimates that his on was driven from that regiment in order to make a vacancy for Lieutenant Winson . S. Churchill, son of the late Lord Randolph Churchill.

What is most excellent and admirable in the Copeland & Shepard system is that it represents the improved treatment of chronic maladies. And thus it happens that so many among the best classes of Omaha when in suffering or in peril of life, from deadly waste or deadly blight or other chronic malady, seek this inexpensive system, not from any unwillingness to pay like princes for an ending of their danger and distress, but because, under the Copeland & Shepard treatment, though the fee were but a farthing, they feel that recovery is more assured and more speedy than by other methods.

So that this light fee system can not properly be termed a benevolence—a charity—constitution.
