Where They Come From Where They Come

Butterick patterns.

We fill column after column of the newspapers with news of "Bargains." What's wrong? This! Holders of large lots of goods uneasy as to further market conditions and their chance of marketing present stock, are willing to make liberal concessions to us if we will take lots in a lump. Such chances they do not offer to small dealers. From these opportunities and from inventory stock adjustment come these bargains. There are echoes—empty echoes—from imitators, Goods are not necessarily cheap because the prices are reduced-in the newspapers. We've told how bargrins come and where they come to.
