WITNESS A GREAT SPECTACLE

Thousands Turn Out to See the Last Days of Pompeii.

OVERFLOW THE SEATING CAPACITY

Fine Athletic Performance and Brilliant Scenic Effects Concluded with an Exceptional Display of Fireworks.

The first of Payne's summer night carnivals, the "Last Days of Pompeii," was held at University park last evening in the presence of a tremendous crowd of spectators.

The sun had hardly sunk before the throngs were pouring parkward, and long before the hour scheduled for the commencement of this grand spectacle almost every seat within the vast arena was taken.

As it was the long and commodious reserved amphitheater was crowded to its full capacity with the most distinguished of Omaha's citizenship.

As darkness enveloped the earth and the numerous big arc lights, suspended in a circle about the vast arena, were taken, the scene was a most magnificent one.

The innocent girls in their height, the golden hair brought in and Arbacenes commands its worship, when suddenly all halt in instinctive dismay.

Preceding this grand spectacular creation for the Chicago convention of attractions from the Roman hippodrome of centuries ago, chariot races, wild horse and hurdle races, feasting songs and dances, athletic feats of skill and daring living tableaux, wire and trapeze performances and other features of remarkable superiority and merit.

Left with the Soldiers. Emma Schuster, a 15-year-old girl, is supposed to have run away with one of the soldiers of the second infantry who were transferred yesterday to Fort Knosh.

Reduced Rate. On July 4, 5 & 6, the Milwaukee R. R. will reduce the present fare on all tickets to Chicago and the east to $15.50.
