HAGER'S FOLLOWERS STICK CLOSELY

Strength of the Opposition Divided Among Three and the Work of Nominating Seems to Be Interminable.

Pottawattamie county is in the nine hole The republicans of the Ninth congress onal district are In a deadlock.

When the local primaries and convention were held some time ago to select delegates to the congressional convention the astute managers of the party in Pottawattamie county decided that it would be a cute thing to fix up a neutral delegation for the convention and so be in a position to do just as they pleased at the right time and make or break candidates at their pleasure. The republicans in other countles took the cue and the result of the two sessions of the convention yesterday shows that the outside delegates appreciate the fix the local leaders have got themselves in and propose to keep them there. Here is the situation: Hager, the present congressman, has forty-nine votes in the showing. Hager's losses being usually di-convention and knows where he can get two vided up between the other candidates or three more. McPherson, Byers and Curtis each has twenty or twenty-one votes. The Pottawattamie county delegation is divided and doesn't dare do a thing. Pottawattmie county is against Hager in a fair field and Hager has about all of his strength on each ballot. But let Pottawattamie county make a break for any candidate and votes enough will go to Hager at the drop of the hat to make his nomination certain. As long as Pottawattamie county keeps good and divides its vote impartially there is little chance of Hager or either of the other gentlemen named being nominated. Pottawattamie can't name a man of her choice and can do nothing but keep on the back seat and kill the strength of her deleby passing it around to prevent making a Hager holiday.

After the adjournment last night a number of conferences were held, but nothing was decided upon, and there is little prospect that anything will come of the session this morning, unless Pottawattamie precipitates a bull to Hares. The solice has been to the session that the ses tates a bolt to Hager. The action that has been taken by the local statesman has ar-rayed the district against this county and there is no immediate prospect of getting out of the tangle. The delegates all stand firm for the candidates they have been supporting and there is nothing to indicate any immediate change of heart in any part of the district. A number of outside candidates were mentioned last night, but their names did not arouse any enthusiasm. It seems now that the only thing to do is to fight it out in the convention and await developments.

CALLED TO ORDER. The republican convention for the Ninth congressional district was called to order shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning by Chairman J. H. Wilson, who read the call. Rev. Victor Charles Rocho of the First Baptist church of Council Bluffs invoked divine blessing upon the conventions and then the delegates got ready for the worldly part of the work.

J. M. Stotzel of Audubon county was named for temporary chairman, and J. C. Milliman of Harrison county for temporary secretary. Chairman Stotzel delivered a brief address, in which he reviewed the democratic misrule of the last four years and asserted that the money question was not troubling the republicans as much as it had troubled the democrats the last four of McKinley as president, backed by a loyal epublican congress. By a call of the roll of counties commitees were appointed as follows: tees were appointed as follows: Credentials—Adair, John A. Story; Audu-bon, John C. He said that four years ago the voters of this country had sowed the wind and had reaped the whirlwind an! a lot of Cleveland badges. The country did not want any more cheap money, but wanted revenue adequate to run the government, and the only way to get it was by the success of the republican party at the polls this fall.

TOOK EIGHTY-FOUR BALLOTS.

The vote was in keeping with the strength seen supposed, but he did not keep it long, The first formal ballot was the same as the informal, and then the switching commenced. On the second formal ballot Hager ost a vote and Curtis gained one. On the of eleven and divided it among the other candidates, leaving Hager but five votes. Then the work became monotonous, Hager dropped to forty-three votes and then ranged all the afternoon between fortythree and fifty, with the other candidates not far from their position on the informal with pretty impartiality. Guthrie county wobbled a good deal during the balloting. It started in with eleven votes for Hager and then for a change would vote Hager five and Byers six, and then go back to Hager nine and Byers two, and then to add a new color to the situation would throw all of its votes to some candidate who was down in the list and running weakly. When down in the list and running weakly. When there was a prospect of a break of any kind, however, Guthrie would be found in the Hager column with nine votes and the other two to Byers. Harrison county opened with thirteen votes for Hager and never changed a hair during the afternoon.

Mills county made no change at any time from the vote on the informal ballot.

The fifty-fifth formal ballot was taken at 4 o'clock and resulted as follows: Hager, 49; Byers, 23; McPherson, 22; Curtis, 18. Then a desire for a little talk over the matter took possession of the delegates, and an adjournment was taken until 7:30

MANY WERE PRESENT. There was a great big crowd on hand when the convention met in adjourned ses-sion at 7:30 o'clock last night. It was generally expected that something would nomination would be made last night Those who looked for such a result were disappointed. When the chairman called the convention to order and started the roll call it was a repetition of the afternoon's business that had already grown monotonous. Adair county responded with "Hager-nine," Audubon came in with "Hagerfour," "Hyerstwo," "Curtistwo" and so it went all down the line and then it was the same thing over again, and then they repeated it without variations. Pottawattamic county changed around a little bit and gave Hager five votes on one ballot and six votes on the next and fooled around between eight and nine for Byers, but the totals kept coming out the same. Finally at 9 o'clock the eighty-eighth formal ballot had been taken and the result was Hager 49, Byers 21, McPherson 21 and Curtis 21. That had been the result on almost every ballot during the evening's session and there was

He ischarged his duties faithfully and acceptahemorrhage on the street. When it was noticed that he was perceptibly failing, and a month ago Cashier Hannan urged him to take a vacation of two weeks. He seemed to improve and the vacation was extended two weeks. On Thursday of last week he returned to work. Yesterday morning while attending to his duties he suffered a severe hemorrhage on the street. When it was over he appeared to feel better than he had for several days. As he left the bank to go to the postoffice President Edmundson and Cashier Hannan remarked his brightened appearance and complimented him. His brisk walk to the federal building was too much, and he realized that he was dying as he climbed the stone steps leading into the bank. After he was laid on the sofa physicians were sent for, but life was ex-tinct when they arrived.

The police were regretting yesterday that there was not some law that could be invoked to properly punish such men as John Boyd, who was locked up during the day upon the charge of frequenting disorderly houses. For weeks he has been practically living in these low resorts, although he has a wife and family. Yesterday the informa-tion was conveyed to the police department that the man's wife was in a destitute and pitiable condition. Detective Murphy looked nto the case and found her living on Third avenue near Thirteenth street in complete destitution. There was no food of any character in the house, and to add to the desperation of her situation she is soon to become a mother. The house was barren of every comfort and necessaries. All of the food there was in the place was one little piece of cornbread.

Murphy spent an hour hunting for the husband and found him in the locality named. He is a strong able bodied fellow abundantly capable of taking care of his family. He will meet Judge McGee this morning.

The railway had been assessed at $3,000 a mile, which he thought was about right. Mr. Breen said that the franchise ought in his opinion be assessed at $100 or $200.

Mr. Goodrich said that the company wanted to be fair, and if the council was to assess them $100 or $200 it would be all right. His company had, he said, been assessed pretty roundly altogether, and he thought it was paying enough, but if the amount suggested as an assessment on the franchise was put on he would not com-Attorney Adams, representing the Munici-al league and other citizens, said that he did not think the corporations were paying their part of the burden. He was willing to accept the offer made by Mr. Goodrich as far as the franchise was concerned. Upon motion of Schultz an assessment of $190 was levied against the Omaha Street railway, and $50 against the Metropolitan ompany's franchise. David Anderson and other members of the Municipal league complained that with the two franchises assessed at a valuation of only $150, the revenue would only amount to $7 or $8, and the objects of the com-plaints would not have been attained. The council, however did not make any change in the original motion. The heirs of J. H. Eggers protested against the assessment of a lot at Twenty-fourth and C streets at $500. The lot is vacant and below grade and only twenty-four feet front. A letter from Assessor Cross at ted front. A letter from Assessor Cross setted that the lot had been assessed as a ful. lot and not a half lot, as it should have been and asking that the council correct the error

The assessment was lowered to $315. MILK ORDINANCE IS OVERLOOKED. Inspector Still Waiting to Collect the

Owing to an oversight the amendment to the milk ordinance was not passed at the meeting of the council Monday night and the matter will now go over until next Monday. Inspector Carroll is busy collecting a list of the owners of one, two or three cows in the city who sell milk, and as soon as the amendment passes he will get after them for the license tax. The amendment pro-vides that for one cow a fee of $1 shall be paid, for two cows $3 and for three cows $5. The resolution directing the city attorney to draw an ordinance providing that the live stock inspector inspect all of the butcher shops in the city every day is finding favor with the public. It has been suspected for a long time that some of the meat shops old meat that was not up to standard, and y this inspection these dealers will be ound out and prosecuted. Next Monday night the levy for the next fiscal year will be made. Estimates have been prepared as to the cost of running the different departments of the city. It was figured that the fire department could get along with $6,100, but Chief Smith has esti-mated that it will take $6,446 at the lowest estimate, divided as follows: Salaries, $4,200
