Young Timber Thief Arrested. Sylvester Katzenstein, residing at 2204 Avenue O, and his 17-year-old son, William, were arrested yesterday by Deputy United States Marshal Hellwig on the charge of stealing government property. For some time past parties have been stealing the piling used by the government at the rip-rapping works on the Missouri about two miles up the river from Council Bluffs. A few nights ago Pat McKennan, the night watchman, caught the Katzensteins in the act of cutting up a fifty-foot log and placing it in a wagon ready to haul away. At the hearing before Commissioner Steadman they pleaded not guilty. Their story was that they had found the log in ques-tion floating in the river and the son had towed it to land. They admitted cutting it up and claimed that they thought they had a right to do so under the circumstances. They were bound over in the sum of $100. They furnished bonds and were released. The penalty for the theft of government prop-erty is a fine of from $1,000 to $5,000 or imprisonment from one to five years.

Last winter the government had a lot of trouble with thieves, who stole coal and wood at the works on the river by the carload. A constant watch was kept, but it was impossible to discover the parties.

The injuries were inflicted by the Milwaukee passenger train, which was backing down from the local depot to the transfer at 5:30. At the Sixth street crossing the boy tried to jump on the moving train. He clung to the steps for a little distance and then swung under the platform and dropped. His right foot was caught by the wheels and crushed into a shapeless mass from the ankle down. The Milwaukee officers at once took charge of the child and had him taken to the Woman's Christian hospital, where he was given prompt surgical attention. The little fellow rallied from the shock of the amptation quickly and last night was resting comfortably.

The father of the child is under indictment for robbing Rock Island freight cars. The boy has almost lived in the railroad yards and the practice of jumping on and off mov-ing trains has been a common one with

He was a powerful man and it was only by the exercise of quick wit and strategy that he was arrested without a struggle. The handcuffs were snapped upon his wrists before hg had an opportunity to realize that he was caught. He then fought vigorously and it was necessary to choke him into submission. Before the officers could recover the stolen horses they were compelled to trade back with numerous farmers, and one horse was lost sight of entirely.

After Kimball was placed under arrest he was taken violently ill and the officers feel there is some grounds for the suspicion that he attempted to commit suicide b

BRYAN VISITS TRUMBULL'S GRAVE. BAPTIST Nomince Expects to He in Nebraska in a Few Days Now. CHICAGO, July 12.-William Jennings statesmen, politicians and eager curiosity and went out to the quietude of Oakwood cemetery and stood with uncovered head before the grave of Lyman Trumbull, the man who had been his teacher and friend When Mr. Bryan turned away, his eyes were brimming with tears.

"Any distinction I may have gained, I owe in great part to the man who is buried there," he said, as he returned to the carriage and was driven back to the city again Today was the first opportunity Mr. Bryan has had to rest since he started to Chicago over a week ago, to attend the convention which was destined to name him as its candidate for president. He spent it under the hospitable roof of the Trumbull home-stead, 4016 Lake avenue. The nominee re-covered some of his lost strength by sleeping until well toward noon. After dinner he sat out on the vine clad porch and looked the neighbors called and chatted with Mr. Bryan and Senator Jones and the vice presidential nominee. Mr. Sewall at 2 o'clock for Salem. The candidate will come down town tomorrow to attend the meeting of the notification committee at the Palmer house at 9 o'clock. He will then return to the Trumbull house and depart from the Illinois Central depot at Thirty-ninth street. Mr. Bryan's original intention was to remain in Salem a week and take the rest he so much needed, but he said tonight: "I find I will have only a day or two to spend at Salem, although 1 lem I will turn direct to Lincoln, Neb. From there I will go to Omaha and then to New York to receive the notification committee. I do not think the 21st will be the date fixed for my meeting the committee in New York. Colonel Thornby says the convention was one of the most enthusiastic gathering ever attended, and that the bolt of the Pettigrew faction only served to make the energy of the others the more apparent. The night before the convention there was a meeting of the South Dakota lican league at Aberdeen, held in the Corn Palace, a magnificent exposition building which had been handsomely decorated for the convention purposes. Among others who addressed the great crowd present was Hon. John N. Baldwin of Council Bluffs, who made a most eloquent and effective plea for the St. Louis candidates and plat form. Mr. Baldwin also spoke to the convention the next day, at which time he was accorded an evation. Hon. Edwin Vancise of Deadwood, who was temporary chairman of the convention, also made a great speech to the delegates and spectators. ENTHUSIASTIC OVER THE SITUATION

Elaborate Preparations Being Made to Welcome the Thousands of Visitors Who Will Attend the Affair.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 12 .- (Spccial.)-The city of Milwaukee is the center toward which the Baptists of the United States and Canada are turning all attention. The Baptist Young People's Union of America will hold its yearly meeting in the exposition building of that city, beginning Thursday, July 16, and holding four days. The railroads of the entire country are awake to the significance of the meeting, having granted one fare round trip rates. It is expected that not less than 12,000 delegates and visitors from abroad will come to the Cream City. The enthusiasm of the bour with the Baptists, as with all other evangelical denominations, is the young people's movement. although the plan of having young people's societies is not a modern affair with that denomination. The Baptists are proud to point to multitudes of young people's societies of very ancient standing, some of them dating as far back as thirty years ago. These are found in such churches as the First church, Troy, N. Y.; the tabernacle church, Philadelphia, and other prominent churches in the east.

The western Baptists boast of numerous illustrations of the early application of the principles of the young people's movement. The Haptists allow great liberty. Every church is left to its own discretion bow its roung people shall be organized.

HISTORY OF THE B. Y. P. U. A. The Baptist churches of Brooklyn or-ganized in 1877 the Young People's Baptist union of that city—a fraternal union of the coung people's organizations in the many Saptist churches of Brooklyn. This was Baptist churches of Brooklyn. This was four years before the present Christian En-deavor movement was heard of, showing that the Baptist brethren bave not been waiting for other people to tell them how to organize their young people. State convention of Baptist young people's societies began to be organized in the '80s, but the creat inspirational point of young people's work in the denomination was when the Baptist Young People's Union of America was organized at Chicago July 7 and 8, 1891. It was a great outpouring of people; 2,900 vere enrolled as delegates and visitors. Vine state unions were represented. The Canadian Baptists sent delegates, and also the Baptists of the south. The body was an international gathering.

The growth of the organization has been phenomenal. Its second convention, at Detroit, in 1892, had over 4,000 as its enrollment. The other conventions—Indianapolis. Toronto and Baltimore—have been attended y increasing thousands. The Monumental City last summer was overrun with Bapparties for a quarter of a century which has not been dominated by Wall street in-fluence and ideas." AS TO THE MILWAUKEE CONVENTION.

The sessions of the convention will be held in the Exposition building at Milwaukeeone of the largest convention auditories in America. The length of the building is 340 feet; its capacity is 15,000 people. Evidently its capacity will be taxed by the convention. pecial railway trains from many states will be run through to Milwaukee without change. The work of assembling the delegations is in the hands of forty-four trans portation leaders, each representing a differ nt state or province. On arrival at the onvention city the delegations will be welcomed by a reception committee of 200 mem-bers, who will do the agreeable in approved fashion. Milwaukee is a convention city of bers, who will do the agrecable in approved fashion. Milwaukee is a convention city of large experience. A chorus of 700 voices has been organized for some weeks past, under Prof. Protheroe, the well known musical conphia and Rev. B. W. Smith of Philadel-phia. Supplementary to this an evangelistic ductor of that city. cention will be one of its grandest features. The various singing societies of Milwaukee will supply recruits for the chorus. Its will represent the very highest grade PROGRAM OF THE SESSIONS.

The convention will be called to order Thurday, July 16 at 10 a. m. by President ohn H. Chapman of Chicago. Addresses of welcome will be made by the mayor of the city and others Morning, afternoon and evand including Sunday. Special con-ferences will be held in some of the largest church auditories Milwaukee to study particular i ds. One of the most attractive features of "Salutation of the Flags," which will occur Friday afternoon. This is a "Field Review" of the State and Provincial unions. It is in the form of an allegation of fraud made by manufacturers of the Loyal Wheel of New York, against the Thorn company of this city, manufacturers of the Hawthorn wheel, alleging that the latter company is contemplating an assignment, and now is selling wheels by auction for an average of $22.15, or less than the Thorn company. The latter will asser that there is a good profit in the wheels a

SCRATCH SCREAM

My baby broke out with a rash. He would scratch and scream, it would take two to held him, and one to put medicine on him. We had to hold him sometimes as hour before we could get him quieted down. All said that they never saw such a face or body on any haby as on him. I had to the his hands tight in a cloth, hight and day, for five months. My sister had used CUTLCUKA, and I began to use it. After only one application, he lay down and signas he had not for a month, poer little fellow. He has not a scar on him now, and is a fair and his flesh is as soft as any haby. White he had this disease I had to cut the sleeves out of his clothes, and put gaure underwear on him to keep him cool. I had to keep pieces of soft cloth around his neck, it was so well with moleture from the sores, and I had to change the clo ha sometimes ten or twelve times a day. Mins. A. HAYNES, Lisbon, N. D. CLOSE OF THE ENDEAVOR MEETINGS

Service in Washington. WASHINGTON, July 12-The feature o the convention of greatest popular interest thus far was the grand choral service o the east side of the capitol yesterday afternoon. P. S. Foster of Washington, D. C. led the chorus and the full United States Marine band, under the leadership of Prof. Fancuilli, aided in carrying out the program. The presum was made up in the main of Christian Endeavor hymns. The attendance was immense for, in addition to the 30,000 odd visiting Endeavorers, throngs of Washingtonians struggled for an opportunity to hear the grand chorus of 4,000 voices. At the conclusion of these exercises the banner for heat work done during the past year was presented to Rev A. W. Taylor of Cleveland union marine band then led the way and the delegates swung into line for a march to the white lot. churches set apart for state headquarters and the bible book study at the big New York Avenue Presbyterian church devoted to the topic "Hosea, the Prophet of Love." After these regular exercises, the meetings generally were evangelistic in character partaking of the nature of revival services n all quarters. Among the leading par ticipants were Commander Booth-Tucker and Major Susie Swift of the Salvation army. The service in the junior tent was of a patriotic order and children, appro-priately dressed in national colors, took part in an interesting program. The pur-pose was to give special emphasis to good citizenship

The week's services were closed last night with Evangelistic services for the general public in the tents. The general topic was Christian Endeavor—Its Alms and Possibilities." Receptions at state headquarters
