MORE POINTS FOR YALE.

WORE POINTS FOR YALE. W. B. Woodgate, the greatest of English sculling experts, says, by the way, that "Yale's piston action, unsupported by loin and back-work, is too much for flesh and blood to maintain for more than four min-utes. As soon as the thigh tired the ma-chine began to run down until it came to little more than a paddling pace at the end of five minutes. If the Yales come here again we shall hold them in dread, for they produce heavy and well-made men, who work with marvelous precision, and who only need to learn correct body work in order to hold their own. The club is fully alive to the failings of their home style, and are not too proud to pick up points from op-ponents." The Chronicle prints an admirable poem, concluding with these lines: The losers they was Yile, which ain't Hing-

Belgium's budget for 1895 was $9,115,322, while her available peace strength at a recent date was estimated at 3,505 officers and 48,648 men, with a militia of 43,359 men. England, including India, showed recently 368,846 effectives of all ranks, while army reserves and militia brought the establishment for 1895-96 up to 865,-421, with effectives amounting to 816,853. Her annual military budget is put in round numbers at $89,000,000.

The war expenditure of France for 1895 is put at $123,090,000, and the total net effectives of her active army at 524,763. Germany, according to this authority, has the still heavier peace strength of 584,734 officers and men of all grades. Then comes a great drop to Holland's home army of 21,500 men. However, the Netherlands also possesses two colonial armies, the East Indian and the West Indian, the former of which numbers about 1,400 officers and 34,000 men. The war budget amounts in round numbers to $9,132,000. The average effective peace footing of Italy, as limited by the budget for the year ending June 30, 1895, was 222,275 of all ranks, counting employes. The full organic strength, how-The war expenditure of France for 1895 ever, was about 276,000. Russia heads the list of enormous military establishments with a peace footing of about $80,000 of all ranks, to which may be added 30,000 frontier guards. Her budget for 1896 amounts to nearly $230,000,000. Switzerland furnishes an example of a

Then further gym-nastic instruction is given, until their twentieth year, and there are also volun-tary cadet corps of schoolboys. Of the regu-lar military service first comes the elite, lasting from the completed twentieth through the thirty-second year; then the landwehr, through the forty-fourth year; finally the landsturm, through the fiftieth year, it also including youths between 17 and 20 years of age. Last year there were 137,649 in the elite, 80,602 in the landwehr and 270,363 in the landsturm, of whom, however, only 61,224 were armed. This estab-lishment was kept up on a budget which for 1895-96 carried 22,769,529 francs. Turning to countries on this side of the water, we find that our neighbor, Mexico, has a regular army of about 23,000 officers and men, including the National Guard and some auxiliaries and employes. The recruit ing is done partly by voluntary enlistment, partly by conscription in the states, and partly by sentencing criminals to army serv ice. The budget for 1895-96 appropriated $9,130,649.08, reckoned in Mexican dollars. Colombia's peace establishment was for-merly about 5,000 men, but it is said that this force has since probably been doubled. The soldiers are all Indians, recruited by impressment. The notes on small arms form a valuable part of this work. One table, obviously compiled with great care from official data, gives the weights and dimensions of the various infantry weapons. It shows in general that the smaller states, which have but recently rearmed their troops, have very generally taken to decreased calibers. Thus fexico, Brazil and Chili have the .276 Holland, Sweden and Roumania Mauser, the Mannicher, 256, and Norway the Krag-Jorgensen, 256. This last is interesting, as we have the Krag-Jorgensen, 30 for our army. Spain has the 276 Mauser, and Italy the 255 Parravicino-Carcano. The smallest the carman with them in spite of the cost. But voices from various quarters are heard against further reduction. China in her last war used mostly Hotchkiss 45 magazine rifles, made by the Winchester Arms com pany; but there were various other rifles employed, besider old-time wall pieces, pe-tronels, tridents and arrows. Japan had her 315 Murata magazine rifle, but it seems that up to March 1, 1895, the single-leader .423 was in use. The countries of South America have shown thems lyes alive to modern small arms, and statistics are given to show that Brazil, Chill and Argentina are far better provided with them than the United States. One Berlin company has delivered to Ar gentina 150,000 Mauser rifles and 10,000 car gentina 150,000 Mauser rifles and 10,000 car-bines, while Krupp has delivered 300 field pieces. Brazil has 145,000 small caliber rifles, 5,000 carbines and 300 Krupp field pieces. Chili has, or will soon have, it is thought, 120,000 Mauser rifles, 10,000 car-bines and 290 field guns. Our northern neighbor, Canada, has pur-chased of the British war office 40,000 Lee-Enfield magazine rifles and 2,300 carbines, iwenty-four 12-pounder guns. fifty Maxim Enfield magazine rifles and 2,300 carbines, twenty-four 12-pounder guns, fifty Maxim guns, with 5,500,000 rounds for the latter and 18,000,000 of rifle ammunition, etc. The cost of these and other items was $2,000,000. Turning to Europe, a new Austrian rifle is spoken of, of about .196, or far smaller than even our Lee navy rifle, but it is not yet adopted. In England enough magazine rifles have been completed to arm the en-tire regular forces and also the militia. Very full accounts are given of the com-parative trials of the Martini-Henry and the Lee-Metford. Germany is said to be add-Lee-Metford. Germany is said to be add-ing to her rifle a device to prevent the danger of double feed. Holland has armed her troops, as has been moted, with the 256 Manniicher. Italy presents a rifle invented by Captain Cei for which great claims are made. Pusais is content like ourselver made. Russia is content, like ourselves, with a 30 rifle, hers being known as the Monsin. Of course enormous sums will be required for her supply. Turkey has re-cently ordered 200,000 Spanish Mausers of

This, if anything, was en-couraging to the bulls and some advance followed. Northwest receipts were again free, as were local receipts of new wheat, and a reaction followed. Near the close the reported engagement of thirty boat loads of spring wheat for export gave the mar-ket an upward tone and the firmness was maintained to the close. Holmann and Wolf played several solos, and Downshire House was made exquisitely pretty with masses of pink roses in th handsome hall, while in the refreshment room the tables were a mass of all kinds of the costliest orchids, arranged in tall pyramids with hanging baskets and outstanding spray, pale mauve and white and brown and orange yellow. Besides many English people of fashion, there were present Ambassador and Mrs. Bayard. Mrs. Arthur Paget gave a large tea last week in honor of Miss Kussner, the Amer-ican miniature artist. Her miniatures of the duchess of Marlborough, Mrs. Paget, Lady Dudley, Lady Foe Stuart, Mrs. Balfour and Miss M. Wilson were exhibited. The duke of Marlborough has ordered two rep-licas of his wife's portrait. Miss Kussner has orders among many others from the duchess of Sutherland, Portland and Devonshire and from Mme. Melba at $500 each.

The English papers are commenting freely on the delay (three years) in the receipt by foreign exhibitors of their medals awarded at the Chicago World's fair.

HAS SET ENGLAND IN A SHIVER

Democratic Nominations Give the ritous a Dreadful Setting Back. LONDON, July 12 .- Out of the hurly-burly of Chicago, on a high treble, comes a note that has startled Englishmen. That note is the policy of repudiation. They perceive with amazement that the democratle party, which has stood for English Ideas, such as the income tax and tariff for revenue only, is now pledged to what the Economist has pronounced "the most predatory set of proposals for dealing with the public currency ever set forth by a body of public men." Englishmen are not enamored of McKin-

y, whose triumph they clearly foreser ill involve tariff legislation hostile to their interests, but they recognize in Bryan the candidate of a demoralized party which represents the principle that the debtor shall pay his creditors 10 shillings on the pound and demand a discharge in full.

Since the democracy involves a fiagrant breach of the eighth commandment, English opinion condemns it as a party of dishonesty and immorality, whose success would be a catastrophe. That is the tone of every Lon-con journal today. While England shudwhen it hears the name of the respon-author of the McKinley tariff it recolls from the election of Bryan on a plat-form of repudiation as a crime against modern civilization.

Since American news is more fully re-ported in the London press than ever be-fore, the proceedings of the Chicago contion have been rehearsed in detail, and American reputation for common sense and sanity has been impaired. The nomina-tion of the demagogue who cried out "against the crucifixion of mankind on a cross of gold" has impressed the English critics as a demented act of revolutionary frenzy, and the convention accounts read to them like scenes from Bedlam. The effect of such recitals is most damaging to America's prestige abroad. Investors holding American bonds are frightened by the revelations of deep-scated discontent shortstop.
