

ABOUT READY FOR THE FAIR

Adequate Provisions for Handling Both Freight and Passengers. RAILROADS GRANT FAVORABLE RATES

Management has Provided a Long List of Special Attractions, Profiting by the Experience of Last Year.

There is but little over a month left in which to prepare for the Nebraska state fair and most of the arrangements for the big show have been completed.

The arrangements for railroad rates have been practically completed. The railroads will make an open rate of one fare for the round trip with 50 cents added for admission to the grounds.

The managers emphatically declare that there will be no repetition of the falling down in passenger transportation to and from the fair grounds.

The music at the fair grounds will be even more enjoyable than last year. The management has secured the finest bands, which will be in continual attendance.

Mr. Moore's Free Concert. Mr. Homer Moore will give a pupils' concert at Crofton hall on Friday evening, July 20, at 8 o'clock.

Victim of Gasoline Explosion. Mrs. Christina McKillop, 134 South Third street, who was fatally injured last Tuesday afternoon by a gasoline stove explosion, died yesterday.

WERE GIVEN A ROYAL WELCOME. Logan's Citizens Turn Out to Greet the Pioneer's Association.

Seventeen passenger coaches full of happy pioneers and a baggage car composed the train which took the members of the Union Pioneer's association and their friends to Logan, Ia., Saturday morning for their fifth annual outing since the reorganization in 1891.

Immediately upon the arrival of the Omaha train in the public square a song was sung by a mixed chorus, followed by the address of welcome by Charles F. Luce of Logan.

The luncheon basket was the next number on the program, and in a few minutes hundreds of family parties were seated throughout the grounds.

HAPPY DAYS ON LAKE GENEVA. In the Camp of the Young Woman's Christian Association.

TIME PASSES FAST IN STUDY AND SPORT. Miss Littlefield Writes to the Bee from the Big Tent—Visit to Holiday Home and Eighty Young Chicago Girls.

Y. W. C. A. CAMP, LAKE GENEVA, Wis., July 9.—To the Editor of the Bee: A cool wave has struck Lake Geneva, and I am glad to write this morning in what is called the "Big Tent," where are domiciled the delegates from Kansas, Missouri, South Dakota and Nebraska, about forty in all.

Life here is delightfully informal. There is enough of routine to be beautiful, coupled with the greatest freedom. The devotional exercises from 8:30 to 9:00 a. m. are conducted by Mrs. Grace Whitney Evans of Detroit, and are full of practical help for everyday living.

The afternoon is free for rest or recreation. Rowing and tennis attract many, while the exploring parties are always bringing back reports of interesting places near at hand, and so the hours pass.

YANKTON CITIZENS ARE OFFENDED. Seish Opposition to Their Bridge Project Provokes Comment. YANKTON, S. D., July 12.—(Special.)—The following extract from an open letter written by president Lewis of the Yankton Commercial club and published in the Sioux City Journal of July 3, has caused much unfavorable comment by Yankton citizens:

Other towns that would be benefited by the new bridge would be Albright, Centerville, etc. It is expected that the Centerville baseball team will play against the ball team of Yankton on July 15 and 16. Harvesting has already commenced in this section and on every hand are fields cut and ready to stack.

South Omaha News.

A business man who is deeply interested in the cattle business of the west in discussing the political situation and the present outlook expressed himself as follows: "The democratic national convention at Chicago is surely having a great effect with the money loaning powers of both the east and the west.

"We are now on the verge of the harvest of one of the largest crops of grain that this state has ever produced. This is particularly so as pertains to the corn crop. The indications are that the states south and east of us will also produce large crops and that the prevailing prices of corn throughout the country will be very low and the only way a Nebraska farmer can hope to realize a fair price for his crop will be to feed it.

"It is not very difficult to see what effect this will have on all western states that are engaged in raising stock. It is bound to affect not only the great markets of the west, but the great cities and towns of the western states.

NEBRASKA'S LUCKY YEAR

This is a great year for Nebraska. The whole country is throwing bouquets at her feet and nobody can say she isn't getting her share of the "good things." Her metropolis has been favored with the Exposition, her sons have been exalted politically, her weather has been from the vat marked "choice," her crops bid fair to be the most bountiful for years and now comes "The Nebraska" with a "good thing" that will put the great bulk of her "plain people" on a footing of which even a gold bug might be proud.
