TOLD OUT OF COURT.

A Missouri Judge Perpetrates a Few Stories.

Judge Seymour D. Thompson, the author of those erudite legal works, "Corporation" and "Negligence," is a prime story teller.

"Tell us about 'Handsome Davis,' Judge," said one of his companions, Judge Thompson protested. "I have told that story at least a dozen times."

"Never mind. Let us have it again," said the other. "I was in San Francisco," he began. "I was in San Francisco, I was in San Francisco, I was in San Francisco."

"I've made a mistake, me," said Judge Thompson. "I've made a mistake, me, I've made a mistake, me. I've made a mistake, me."

"What are you going to do, boy?" said the speaker. "I've made a mistake, me, I've made a mistake, me. I've made a mistake, me."
