

These are hot and troublesome days for the scribe. The pace he has set is a marker to the speed which the guardians of public safety show in checking his mad career.

Pianos are now at a discount, and it is amusing to note in the papers devoting their columns largely to the exchange and barter that a nice piano can be secured in return for a good lady's bicycle.

Instead of royal purple, which is the recognized color of the League of American Wheelmen, it has been suggested that the national emblem of this organization be worn in the form of a ribbon badge.

Although nearly all the leading manufacturers of bicycles endeavor to maintain a standard color in the wheels they manufacture, there seems to be a general feeling that black, which is a frequent cause of delay in the delivery of machines ordered.

Keep to the right, the American law of the road, which was harped upon a great deal when the bicycle season opened last March, is being as utterly disregarded as was the first of the season.

We do not exaggerate in the least, exclaims the Tobacco Journal, at the least calculation 500,000 smokers who were formerly addicted to the smoking habit.

things as this that are making journalism a by-word and a reproach? The Young Reporter was very much interested in the course of the copy reader's blue pencil through his carefully prepared copy.

"My young friend," said the Old Reporter, "I admire your enthusiasm and I approve your sentiments. It is just such a spirit as yours among the best of the younger men that will always tend to raise higher and higher the already lofty standard of what you are pleased to call journalism.

"This is what really happened," said the man's name O'Grady, and he lived in Troy. He had borrowed a bicycle to go on a hunting trip through New England. He had a shotgun. This he carried about the frame of the bicycle.

"O'Grady was a quick thinker, and, like a flash, he thought he would stop. With O'Grady to think was to act, and he started the bicycle with such force that he was enabled to dismount without assistance over the handlebars.

"Not an instant too soon. The bear was now close upon him, and, throwing his piece to his shoulder, O'Grady took hasty aim and fired. The bear reared up, and the shot took effect, and with a plaintive 'Moo' the bear fell to the ground.

The Young Reporter looked at him with respect. "I did you an injustice," he said, "but I think you were perfectly right to tone the story down."

The Army Wagon Supplanted by Swift Young Wheelmen. The Thirtieth United States Infantry, stationed at Fort Niagara, N. Y., has made an innovation in its method of transporting its monthly remittance to pay the command from Lewiston to the post.

AS A POLITICAL POWER. Evidence of the Influence Wielded by Wheelmen. Nowadays the world may easily be divided into people who wheel and people who do not, says a writer in the Review of Reviews.

fully fights the great railroads and is hearkened to by municipal and state legislatures. When the wheelmen of Chicago wanted to visit a far western meet they insisted that their grievances should be first met and the railroads were terrorized into submission by the threat of having 150,000 wheelmen solidly arrayed against them.

INFLUENCE OF WHEELING. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe's Opinion of This Kind of Exercise. It would almost seem superfluous, in this athletic period, to call attention to the great use and importance of outdoor exercise, writes Julia Ward Howe in the Ladies' World.

There is a third class of women to whom, perhaps, the uses of outdoor exercise are still more to be commended. These are the women devoted to the study of the pen. These tyrants often usurp the time and strength of those who delight in them.

During the past few weeks the majority of the members have sought some shady spot in preference to a spin across the country through the hot sun, hence the pages of the club register are not as well filled as is expected.

At the last regular meeting of the club Mr. O. Dixon was elected a delegate to the Associated Cycling Clubs of Omaha and the membership having increased to that extent that the Tourists were entitled to a fifth representative.

Last Sunday, shortly after daylight, a few of the faithful club members wended their way to the club rooms and registered for Hooper, the run having been called for Fremont. But the boys of the club have a great desire to make centuries, and if the run carries read Blair the majority will go on to Tekamah, and if Fremont has been named as the stopping point on the day's outing, you may look for them at Hooper or North Bend.

Mr. Will Barnum and Jack Cully started out from Chicago early in the week aboard for Omaha. Mr. Barnum was obliged to take the train in from Cedar Rapids, Ia., owing to a little breakdown. Mr. Cully, however, was not so unfortunate and was continuing on alone.

The management of the "L" street bicycle track at Lincoln is contemplating putting in an eight-lap board track, like the one at Chicago. The track would be made of good wood and Lincoln people would then be given an opportunity to witness some good six-day races.

Another Omaha state meet has passed into history and Omaha has again demonstrated that she has the fastest men in the state, if not in the entire mid-west. Her riders won nearly one-half of the prizes which were offered, and had it not been for several bad accidents they would have undoubtedly had at least a half dozen more good prizes.

Among the racing men who showed up well at the state meet were, in the amateur class: Gadke, Barnum, Thomas, Fleischer, Gus Holton, and Dan McCreer of Lincoln. The professionals who did good work were: Hayman of Grand Island, Holton and Pixley of Omaha, and Mockett and Bailey of Lincoln.

The Nebraska racing circuit will open at Fremont, Neb., on July 22 with a one-day meet. It will be followed by a number of Omaha's fastest racing men, among whom are: Gadke, Mack, Fleischer, Stevenson, Mockett, and Pixley.
