Judge Enforces the Terms of Mayor Bronck's Order. The mayor's letter to Police Judge Gordon is continuing to have its effect in police court.

Judge Gordon does not deny that technically the mayor is right in his position. He admits that he has no legal right to remit fines or suspend sentences.

Judge Gordon says: "The new policy will fall most heavily upon the so-called vagrants. Numbers of these are arrested daily. Heretofore I have sentenced them to thirty days in the county jail, but have suspended the sentence on condition that they immediately get out of the city. Now if they plead guilty, as they invariably do, they will have to be sent to jail."

"There is only one course for me now, and that is when they plead guilty, or are proven guilty, I must punish them. I will not, however, sentence them to the chain gang. I will not mark a man out as a criminal and expose him to the scorn and disgrace with a ball or shackles on his legs and a guard over him simply because he is out of work."

In my opinion the old system worked well. I put a suspended sentence over the vagrants' heads and ordered them out of the city. Of the hundreds who have appeared before me, but few have ever returned. In that way the city got rid of them. Now they will remain as a burden to the taxpayers."

In line with these sentiments the judge yesterday morning sentenced seven "box car vagrants," who had been found sleeping in freight cars Friday night, to ten days in the county jail each. He also fined three men, H. P. Leich, Billy Houston and Charles Palmer, $5 and costs each for being drunk. The latter could not pay the fines and went to jail. All of the vagrants and drunks pleaded guilty when arraigned.

If this system is continued it is only a matter of a very short time when the county jail will be filled with prisoners whose crime consists in being out of work and without money. Their board and lodging must be paid by the city. Their sentences can be suspended only by the mayor.

WILCOX & DRAPER'S SHOES.

LaIRD, SCHUBER & CO., of Philadelphia, who bought the Wilcox & Draper stock of shoes last Wednesday, are preparing to dispose of the entire stock in this city, being the intention to close it out at retail.

In speaking of the matter, Mr. Wilcox said that there would be no doubt about placing the stock on sale here, and that the date for opening the sale had been set for next Saturday, the 1st of August, until which time the store will remain closed, and all the stocks, formerly with Wilcox & Draper, have been engaged to begin work this Monday morning, in order to mark the goods down to prices that will insure a speedy sale.

LaIRD, SCHUBER & CO., are, and always have been, manufacturers of the finest shoes in the world for ladies, misses and children, and it is to be hoped they will put in their complete line here. Their goods are, however, well represented in the Wilcox stock, which is being sold at retail prices.

The stock, it will be remembered, was bought in for something less than 33 cents on the dollar, and Omaha bargain judges can easily see that it is not the intention of the new firm to make capital out of this purchase, but rather to dispose of the shoes at retail prices that will startle the shoe circles on and after August 1, which is next Saturday, at the old stand of Wilcox & Draper.

CITY TREASURER'S CLERKS BUSY. Preparing Delinquent Tax List Makes Much Work.

The task of preparing the delinquent tax list for the current year is one which is present under existing circumstances the expense will be considerable and even with all the help that can be advantageously employed it will be necessary to work day and night in order to have the list completed by September 10.

The unusual amount of work is rendered necessary by a recent decision of the supreme court by which the city treasurer is compelled to figure the interest on each tax for each year separately. Previously the interest had been computed on the full time during which the tax had run and this year the work has been so increased by the terms of the decision that there is apparently no end to it.

The clerks will be compelled to take each piece of property and compute the interest on each interest for each year, extending their investigations as far back as 1850. This must be done with each general or special assessment, and the treasurer says that frequently a man will have to work several hours to properly calculate the delinquent tax on a single piece of property. As but a short time remains in which to do the work, he expects to have to work both day and night force, and then he doubts whether it can all be accomplished.

LAWYERS NOT FOR FREE SILVER. Will Labor to Defeat the Chicago Convention Notice.

President Bartlett and ex-President Sprague of the Commercial Law league, together with a number of visiting members of the league and their wives, made a pleasant call upon The Bee yesterday morning and inspected the entire plant in full operation.

A number of the members of the league said they wished to express their thanks to The Bee for the fair and impartial manner in which the proceeding was conducted and had been handled. Ex-President Sprague had been authorized to say to The Bee that the impression sought to be conveyed by the visiting lawyers favored free silver was entirely erroneous.

Mr. Sprague said that with the exception of not a few members of the majority of them in attendance at the convention the members were sound money men, who would rejoice at the defeat of Bryan and the free silver ticket, and the great majority of them had expressed their intention of taking of their coats when they reached home and doing their utmost to bring about this result.

After leaving The Bee the party went to the home of Hon. G. W. Lininger to express their thanks for the agreeable entertainment afforded by the visitors at the Lininger residence Wednesday evening.

IN THE INTEREST OF ECONOMY. Investigation of Resolutions Providing for Street Repairs.

The action of the council Friday night in appointing a special committee to investigate and report on all resolutions providing for street repairs has been interpreted by some officials as a slap at the street commissioner. Councilman Wheeler, who introduced the resolution, denied that this is the case.

He said that such action was necessary in the interest of economy. It had become customary for the council to suspend the rules and pass, without investigation, every resolution of this character, and the result was that much money had been expended unnecessarily on work which some very dangerous places had been allowed to remain without attention.

In view of the depleted funds of the city it was necessary to have a committee to see that where a necessity existed, and if every repair resolution was thoroughly investigated by a special committee this could be accomplished in the most economical manner.

CHANCE FOR FIREMEN TO INVEST. York Man Offers Them a Bargain in a Gold Mine.

P. L. Howard of York has unfolded to Chief of the Fire Department Redell a scheme by which he says that firemen may make untold money. He is the owner of several gold mines at Prescott, Ariz., out of which the state has received $2,000,000 worth of gold was taken in the last nine months.

He says further that there is $150,000 worth of the yellow metal in sight. This scheme is based on the supposition that the fire department contains 300 men. He wants these men to form a company and buy 50 worth of stock each. This will net $15,000 which he expects to expend in the purchase of some heavy machinery, with which to work the mines, and which at present is lacking. In return he will turn over a half interest in the property to the company, and furthermore one share of $1000 to the pension fund of the department. The firemen, however, are not inclined to look with favor upon the proposition.

TEACHERS COMPLETE THEIR WORK. Douglas County Institute Closes a Very Satisfactory Session.

The Douglas County Teachers' Institute, which has been in session at the high school building during the week closed yesterday. The entire morning was devoted to the remaining business on hand, which was satisfactorily finished. Resolutions were passed thanking the Board of Education for the use of the rooms in the high school building.

Southside to Discuss Exposition. A mass meeting of citizens of the north side and South Omaha will be held at the Douglas county institute, tomorrow night, for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the Transmississippi Exposition. At this meeting it is the duty of the promoters to advise the citizens of subscribing to the capital stock of the exposition, after which location will be discussed.

ECHOES OF THE ANTE ROOM

There were Modern Woodmen galore at Blair on last Wednesday. The little town was fairly overrun with them and they most excited the population to metropolitan proportions. There were between 5,000 and 7,000 of them. This immense crowd certainly made the first annual log-rolling of the Omaha District Log-rolling association, which they were celebrating, a very high criterion by which the future picnics of the association will be measured.

The delegation from Omaha numbered at least 1,000. Some of these went to Blair early trains, while others took the noon train. The big majority, however, went on the excursion train which left the Webster street depot at 9:30 in the morning.

The excursion train was composed of local members, who had gathered at the various lodge halls, combined and then marched through the streets to the depot amid the strains of bands of music.

Excursions were run on all the roads that run into Blair and on all directions. Every camp in the district was represented. When all had gathered on the picnic grounds in the afternoon at the park in Blair it was estimated that the assemblage fully numbered 6,000 and probably exceeded that figure.

The Blair Woodmen did everything they could to provide for the comfort and pleasure of the visitors. Committees were on every excursion train, checking on the baggage and the picnic grounds, which upon arrival at the grounds was transferred to a huge tent. Consequently the visitors could go to the picnic grounds in the morning and the picnic grounds in the afternoon and the picnic grounds in the evening.

After a basket dinner had been enjoyed the exercises of the day began at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The program was opened by a selection from a band. This was followed by an oration by Deputy Head Consul Blair of Brownville. A recitation by Miss Patterson was followed by addresses from D. C. Zink of Grand Island and James Powers of Omaha. All the talks were devoted to the order.

One number of the program was occupied by an address from Mrs. E. D. Watts of Omaha, supreme oracle of the Royal Neighbors of America. A recitation by Howard of Papillion.

After a basket dinner had been enjoyed the exercises of the day began at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The program was opened by a selection from a band. This was followed by an oration by Deputy Head Consul Blair of Brownville. A recitation by Miss Patterson was followed by addresses from D. C. Zink of Grand Island and James Powers of Omaha. All the talks were devoted to the order.

"I desire to present to you the benefits of a fraternal organization, which is today doing much in practical ways to relieve the distress and to alleviate the suffering of humanity. The beneficent work of our order in the last few years has demonstrated the fact that there is a work for woman in the fraternal world that will ever keep pace with other and more mature organizations. The fraternal precepts and loving deeds have broken down old prejudices and have opened a way wherein woman, to whom was withheld such rights, the right to assist and stand side by side with her husband in the protection of and the providing for their loved ones."

"The year just closed has been one of general prosperity to all fraternal orders, and no one has had more marked prosperity than the order of Royal Neighbors of America. We have increased in numbers and strength, and as the years go by and women profit by their experiences in this labor of unselfish love, we become more firmly anchored in the hearts of the people, and never has there been a day that the women auxiliary organizations has had so strong a hold upon the confidence and good judgment of the people of our great northwest as at the present time. I do not know of any history records any instance so marvelous development of charitable or social principles that embodied in the principles taught by our noble order. Women of every interest, separated by locality, of every difference of religion, unknown to each other, when enlisted under the Royal Neighbors banner become united in spirit and in deed, giving of their substance and their sympathy to those upon whom want has fallen, and upon whose household the burden of sorrow has laid."

"Our order began in darkness and in gloom, more its path has been leading toward the light, and as it becomes better known the great mass of members of the Modern Woodmen of America and their female relatives are becoming more and more convinced that the order of Royal Neighbors of America is the order for the nineteenth century civilization."

"No longer are women's organizations scoffed at, but are looked upon as a blessing, protected by the laws and endorsed by the public in general. Our order is a fraternal benefit association, composed of Modern Woodmen and their female relatives, and was incorporated under the state laws in 1853, March 21, 1855. To its members it offers life indemnity in the sums of $500 and $1,000, on a graded plan of assessments, similar to that of the Modern Woodmen, and at a minimum expense. There is no other woman's order in existence today that has had the steady, substantial growth that the order of the Royal Neighbors of America has had during the last term, covering a period of sixteen months."

January 1, 1895, the order numbered 106 chapters with a membership of 4,124. At the close of this term, May, 1896, these numbers have been increased to 389 camps, with a fraternal membership of 20,000, an increasing this term of 15,000. The number of beneficiary members was, on January 1, 1896, 3,485. Today we have a beneficiary membership of 5,000. Thirty-three camps were organized in the month of June and 417 policies written in the same month. The order is now paying all death claims in full, and is pressing grandly forward in its work.

One of the features of this program was the competitive drill between camp teams. It had been anticipated that the entries would be at least a score, but when the call was made only three responded. Beech, Omaha and South Omaha. The drill occurred in the main street, which had been roped off for the occasion. The judges were E. Jackson, Lieutenant Gardner and B. M. Wiley. The contest was a spirited one and the judges finally announced the following result: Omaha camp, 35 points; Beech, 25 points; South Omaha camp, 20 points. The team of Omaha camp was declared the winner of the silver water set and the team of South Omaha the winner of the gold water set.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to social enjoyment. After supper the three competing teams and the Ancient Order of United Workmen band, were entertained by the local lodges and other residents of the city. The return was made last in the evening, the excursion train arriving in the city at 9:30 o'clock.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the annual meeting of the association was held in Knights of Labor hall. Twenty-five camps of the order and the Royal Neighbors were represented. Fremont was chosen as the place for holding the next picnic. The date was left to the wisdom of the Fremont members, but the sentiment was in favor of holding the affair about a month later than this year.

The following officers were elected: A. D. Patterson of Fremont, president; E. D. Watts of Omaha, secretary; Jake Brown of Fremont, treasurer; Mrs. Florence Morehouse of South Omaha, first vice president; Mrs. Anna Reed of Fremont, second vice president; Clark O'Hanlon of Blair, third vice president.

Ancient Order of United Workmen. At Old Fellows' hall, Fourteenth and Dodge streets, next Tuesday night, July 28, Past Grand Master Workman W. H. Barnes of San Francisco, Cal., editor of the Pacific States Watchman, will deliver one of his powerful and characteristic lectures on the past, present and future of the Ancient Order of United Workmen.

Mr. Barnes will arrive in Omaha next Tuesday on his way home from the recent convention of the order, held at Hartford, N. Y., a member of which body he has been for more than ten years past. Since the conclusion of the supreme lodge session he has delivered twenty lectures in various parts of the country. He is a polished and entertaining speaker, and is widely known as such, both east and west.

To the lecture here there will be no admission charge.

mission charged, and it is evident that a large attendance will greet Brother Barnes in his first appearance before the Workmen of this city.

Yesterday lodge No. 18 held a picnic at Fremont. It was impossible to get any account of the affair for publication in this column, but one will be found in another column.

A large crowd went out on a special excursion train in the morning, primed for all the fun and enjoyment that would be in sight.

The tenth anniversary of the organization of the order in this state was celebrated Friday at Grand Island by a parade and picnic. The parade was held at 2 o'clock and was participated in by the three local lodges, Degree of Honor, city officials, fire department, Independent Workmen and numerous other societies. The Pacific Hose company band furnished music. After the parade addresses were made by Mayor W. H. Thompson, Grand Lecturer Vandike, W. A. Pierce and Supreme and Grand Master Workman J. G. Tate. Grand Recorder Barker acted as presiding officer. After the addresses there was music and dancing and a general good time. The Arion male quartet rendered a few excellent selections. Though the day was unusually cool, quite a number of Workmen from surrounding towns participated. The first Ancient Order of United Workmen lodge in Nebraska was organized at Grand Island ten years ago; the grand offices of the order in the state are located there and it was an appropriate time and place for such a celebration.

Yesterday morning Supreme Grand Master Workman J. G. Tate of Lincoln passed through the city on his way to Louisiana. He was accompanied by a large party of friends. In the past Louisiana and Texas have formed one jurisdiction, but the territory has proved to be too large.

Independent Order of Foresters. Some time ago the local lodges of the order decided to hold a union entertainment on the fifth Friday of every month in which a fifth Friday falls. The first one of these entertainments will be held on next Friday night in the Forester hall in the Boston street building.

Although no formal program has been arranged for the affair it is evident from the arrangement made that the literary and musical portions of the evening's entertainment will be of a very high order. Some of the very best performers of the city have promised to render selections, and there seems to be no doubt that the occasion will be as highly enjoyable as the rare treats given by Foresters in the past have been. In addition to the music, songs and recitations the evening will be spent with cards and in social enjoyment. Plenty of refreshments and cigars will be on tap.

The affair will be stag in character and will be more of a smoker than anything else. It is strictly invitation in nature, so that all who go may be assured that only the most desirable people will be in attendance. The invitations have already been issued and from the response there is no doubt that a big attendance will reward the effort of the joint committee that has had the entertainment in charge.

Independent Order of Good Templars. The temperance cause and incidentally the interests of the order are being hard pushed in the city at the present time. The local lodges have succeeded in obtaining the services of Rev. E. A. Whitwam, LL. D., to prosecute the campaign, and he will be here for some time. Rev. Whitwam is a professor in the American Temperance university of Tennessee. He is an ardent temperance advocate and a gentleman. It is believed that his efforts will be amply rewarded.

The organization of several lodges is in prospect. The first to be set on its feet will be at Walnut Hill. Rev. Whitwam has succeeded in placing about thirty-five names upon the charter list. The organization will take place on Wednesday night in the Lowe Avenue Presbyterian church. In order to properly launch the new body it is desired that all who believe in the tenets of temperance will be present. The attendance, however, is not limited to such, but everybody who is desirous of coming is invited. It is proposed to locate another new lodge in the northern or central northern portion of the city. Another is to be located in the southern portion. Finally, the plan is to include the organization of a Swedish and a colored lodge. There seems to be much prospect that these plans will be carried out.

Order of the World. Last Friday evening a social and dance was given by the members of Riverside lodge at Keystone hall, Eighth and Pierce streets.

Myrtle lodge No. 399 is arranging for a lawn party to be held in August. This lodge is in a most flourishing condition and is rapidly increasing in membership and popularity.

Banner lodge No. 419 has removed from Twenty-fourth and Cuming streets to Metropolitan hall, Fourteenth and Dodge streets. Concordia lodge No. 345 will hold a picnic early next month.

At the last meeting of Myrtle lodge the members were surprised and delighted by a visit from Omaha lodge No. 200, which lodge attended in a body accompanied by the orchestra. After a short business meeting the time was passed in a social way with music, high five and dancing.

Order of the Eastern Star. Osceola chapter of the order above, gave one of its old time socials and installations of officers last week. Sister A. J. Snider, past grand matron of the state, was the installing officer, and was assisted by Brother H. A. Scott as grand marshal. Following are the officers for the Masonic year: Mrs. E. J. Scott, past grand matron of the state; W. M. T. H. Saunders, W. P.; Mrs. Pheasant, A. M.; Mrs. Saunders, treasurer; Mrs. Whaley, conductor; Mrs. Westberg, secretary; Mr. Scott, chaplain, and Messrs. C. H. Peterson, Kenner and Wagon on the orchestra. After a short business meeting the time was passed in a social way with music, high five and dancing.

At a recent meeting of encampment No. 121, it was decided to postpone regular meetings until October 2 next, when they will be continued. The encampment also decided to place all of its members clear on the books of the quartermaster up to September 30. This action was taken in view of its non-liability and to encourage the members in having a full attendance during the coming fall and winter months. Although the encampment has been organized nearly five years, it has only lost one member by death, John Lindsay, formerly janitor of the postoffice. The October meeting will be held, as heretofore, in the Continental building.

Secret Society Notes. Cady camp No. 336, Royal Neighbors of America, were the guests of Mrs. W. T. Hayes, Forty-sixth and Farnam, Thursday afternoon. A delightful luncheon was served. Mrs. Hayes is a charming hostess and left nothing undone that would add to the pleasure of her guests.

Minnehaha council No. 2, Degree of Pocomah, will dedicate its new hall in the Continental block by giving an ice cream social Saturday evening, August 1, for the benefit of a sick sister.
