READY FOR THE EXECUTION

Machinery Which is to End Claude Hoover's Days Tested Last Evening.

EVERYTHING WORKED PERFECTLY

Governor Holcomb for the Last Time Refuses to Interfere—Condemned Man Confesses in Good Spirits.

All preparations for the execution of Claude Hoover, the convicted murderer of his brother-in-law, Samuel DuBois, are now complete. All hopes of executive clemency have been abandoned.

Last night the engine that will launch Hoover into eternity was tested and the workings were pronounced complete. The scaffold is of the regulation size, with a drop of seven feet. It is entirely new, and is painted a drab brown. It stands close to the south wall of the enclosure, facing the north, with steps leading from the ground to the platform.

The exact hour of the execution is known only to the sheriff, his deputies, Hoover and Rev. J. M. Wilson, the clergyman who administers absolution to the condemned man. However, it is certain that it will occur between the hours of 10 in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

CONTINUES IN GOOD SPIRITS.

Hoover continues in remarkably good spirits, and last night he informed the death watch that he would retain his nerve until the very end.

At the ratification meeting herefore reported the "would-be leader" of demopoparats, told me himself that he bought 30 copies worth of those names they so loved in making "Bryan thunder" and that a little powder and an old devil which he borrowed constituted the cannon and the "cracker" of the "cracker" since the Fourth has been charged with ratifying Bryan's "nomination."

Not a man who has heretofore been a leader of the "cracker" party attended either the club meeting or the ratification meeting, if that is what they called it, and I hear daily upon the streets old leaders of the "cracker" party, who are not and will not support Bryan, and their names are not upon that roll, and I take it, as I have seen many of them long the "well," that they will keep their word.

Ninth Ward Silver Men Organized.

RUSSIAN-AMERICANS FOR MCKINLEY.

Club with a Large Membership Organized Wednesday Night.

A Russian-American McKinley and Hobart club was organized Wednesday night at 211 South Tenth street, with the following officers: J. D. Nathanson, president; I. H. Carrol, vice president; H. Goldstein, treasurer; M. Bellman, secretary; executive committee, M. Logasa, N. Ginsberg, H. Lapidus, William Freiman, D. Michael, M. Stone, K. Robinson; J. D. Nathanson, president; I. H. Carrol, vice president; H. Goldstein, treasurer; M. Bellman, secretary; executive committee, M. Logasa, N. Ginsberg, H. Lapidus, William Freiman, D. Michael, M. Stone, K. Robinson; J. D. Nathanson, president; I. H. Carrol, vice president; H. Goldstein, treasurer; M. Bellman, secretary; executive committee, M. Logasa, N. Ginsberg, H. Lapidus, William Freiman, D. Michael, M. Stone, K. Robinson.

After some discussion the following resolution was read by J. D. Nathanson, and was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, That the Russian-American club in session assembled, does pass and endorse the following resolution as the sentiment of this club, to wit: As a club of citizens, we know the condition of the poor laboring people of that country, brought about by free silver legislation.

"Whereas, We have lived in America under the financial legislation of the republican party whose gold, silver and paper are of equal debt paying, and purchasing power, and whose dollar is as good as any other dollar, and we believe that it is the best and safest financial system in the world.

"Resolved, That in order that our present club, and other clubs of similar character, and the system of tariff protection to American labor may again be reinaugurated whereby we may witness a return to national prosperity, the club be rebuilt in our furnace, and the wheels of industry and commerce be again put in motion, and all our people be given remunerative employment.

Bryan's Strength in Duell County.

CHAPPELL, Neb., Aug. 4.—To the Editor of The Bee: I notice in the World-Herald, under date of August 3, 1896, their correspondent from this place says: "Count Duell, I do not know of a single democratic bolter in the county, while there are several republicans who have broken away from the McKinley camp."

SOME FAVOR A THIRD TICKET

Opinion Among the Sound Money Democrats is Divided.

EARLY ARRIVALS AT INDIANAPOLIS

General Drago of Wisconsin and Congressman John K. Cowen of Maryland Are Suggested as Possible Presidential Candidates.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 6.—Ex-Congressman Bynum is overhauling with mail and telegrams today, indicating a larger attendance than he expected for the meeting of the provisional national committee of the old standard democratic party tomorrow. Among the telegrams is one announcing the sickness of Louis Erich of Colorado, who was announced as the main speaker for the mass meeting for Saturday night at Tomlinson hall.

Mr. Erich promised to attend the national convention if there is one called and then deliver an address. M. L. Crawford of Dallas, a delegate who arrived today, said that he was not in favor of an independent democratic ticket, although he supposed one would be named. If democrats refrain from voting for Bryan it will be because they are opposed to his election. The same motive, he said, should constrain them to vote for McKinley. If a gold standard democratic candidate is nominated, Mr. Crawford thought, it should be General Drago of Wisconsin.

J. P. Smith of Fort Worth, another delegate from Texas, is also among the arrivals. Delegate H. C. Sims of Huntington, W. Va., said that he was in favor of opposing Bryan rather than being favorable to McKinley. Many democrats would vote for a gold standard democratic ticket who would support Bryan in the event of a choice between him and McKinley, said he. Mr. Stalnaker favored as the independent candidate Congressman John K. Cowen of Maryland.
