ALL FANCIES FOR LITTLE MAIDS.

Responsible Suggestions Regarding Autumn School Clothes.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—This is the moment of the year when mothers who have small daughters to educate need to begin thinking seriously of their autumn school clothes.

With September in immediate prospect and school openings to follow in its heels, a month is now too much time for the getting up of pretty and sensible school trousseaus, whether for one little maid or for several.

There are so many things to be considered that smart, trim wool gowns of medium thickness, simple, becoming hats and light, comfortable shoes are the first things to be thought of.

AN ANCIENT OBJECT LESSON.

Have the Boston Ladies heard the tale of the Indian chief in the western part of the country who had a beautiful woman.

There's a moral fine in this ancient tale. When you stop with a traveling crowd, a force that thunders through the land, and the crowd is a part of the crowd.

THE FIRST WOMAN DOCTOR.

Career of Elizabeth Blackwell, the Pioneer of Her Sex.

The first woman doctor to receive a diploma from any medical college in this country or Europe was Elizabeth Blackwell, who, at the age of 21, has published a book of autobiographical notes called "Pioneer Work in Opening the Medical Profession to Women."

Though born in England, Dr. Blackwell is an American by adoption, having taken her degree and pursued the greater part of her medical practice here.
