INTEND TO RESUME PROSPECTING. Farmers Near Calbonn Have Not Beer

Early in the summer some little excite-ment was caused by the announcement of gold discoveries at Calhoun, a short distance north of Omaha. The discovery, it will be remembered, was made at the bottom of a deep well and after the assays had been probounced most encouraging by the smelter people the whole matter suddenly dropped out of sight. The statement is now made that work will be resumed this fall by a company to be organized among the owners of farms in that locality.

When it was announced that there was a show of gold some enterprising party secured options on about all the land in that $1.25 FANCY SILKS, 39 CENTS.

To close out every yard of silk that we have bought for this season's trade, that we have been seiling for 75c, 98c and $1.25, including high grade taffeta silks, Persian and Dresden silks, elegant waist and dress acting the process of the land would part with their holdings at any time within that limit at the rate of $75 per acre. The party who secured the options did not pay down any money and the farmers soon came to the conclusion that they had signed a jughandie agreement.

Under those conditions the farmers would not give any assistance in putting down a shaft, as some one else would reap all be made. The man who had put down the original well would not sell though it was ypu your choice at 39c. said that he was offered as much as $20,600 our black novelty mohairs and 46-inch for twenty acres. Without money the work came to a standstill.

The options on their land will expire in October and the farmers say that they will then organize a company and put down prospecting shafts which will settle for all ime the question as to whether gold bear ing rock exists in paying quantities in the vicinity of Calhoun.

South Omaha News.

Charles and the man and the series and the One day last week warrants were issued to the Martin Lumber company for $5,188 for the viaduct repairs, and Friday the lumber company sued the city for the amount. According to the contract the company was to wait for two weeks after the issuing of the warrants before suit was brought, warrants are drawn on "The Q and L stree viaduct fund," which was presumably created by assessing the cost of the repairs up gainst the Union Pacific and the Unio stock Yards Railway companies. The rail roads have not paid any of this assessment and it is presumed they will not. Some taxpayers held that the city attorney ough to fight the case on the ground that the lumber company should look to the railways for its pay and not to the city. The city it is said by lawyers, is powerless to mak contract to confess judgment in a case like this Citizens interested in this case are watchng the movements of city officials and in-unctions have been threatened as soon as he council, by resolution, directs the city attorney to confess judgment for the amount ued for. While on this subject it might be interest ing for the people to know what the two viaducts have cost the taxpayers so far. The L street viaduct cost, when built, including extras, $41,870. The Q street con-tract price was $37,300. To this amount must be added $9,598 for the retaining wall at the east approach of the bridge, which as washed out once and had to be rebuilt. The repairs in 1895 cost $5,188. When the viaducts were built in 1889, $78,000 in bonds, to run for five years at 6 per cent interest, were issued to pay for the same. hese bonds ran out and funding bonds to take their place were issued, to draw 5 per cent interest. The expense can be summarized as follows: Total first cost. summarized as follows: Total first cost. $88.768; repairs, $5.188; interest on $78.000 onds, at 6 per cent for five years, $23,400 interest on funding bonds to satt. 5, 800; which makes a total of $125,156. This does not include repairs made by the street commissioner, the building of steps to the Q street bridge, the repairs to the iron plers, etc. Altogether, the two bridges plers, etc. Altogether, the two bridges have cost the taxpayers in seven years about $126,000.

Now both viaducts are badly in need of paint, and should have it in order to pro tect the iron work, but there is no money to pay for the work. The wearing off of the paint brings to light some very poor material that was used by the contractors. Even today, with all the money that has been spent, neither of the viaducts are considered any too sele, and it is a question whether they would hold up a heavily loaded motor train should the car line be extended around Thirty-third street. around Thirty-third street.

CHANGE NOT SATISFACTORY

Old Interstate Hotel Project Revived in Court.

Hotel Stock Has Been Transformed Into Theater Stock and This Hypotheented to Secure a Loan. Charges of Misappropriation.

Mrs. Carrie Ramge, widow and sole devisee of the late Frank Ramge, has commenced a suit in the district court which contains a series of charges against prominent and leading citizens which are somewhat start-company, the Interstate Improvement company, the Creighton Theater Building company, O. M. Carter, J. A. McShane, C. J. Karbach, J. E. Markel, W. A. Paxton, G. C. Barton, L. B. Williams and John A. Creighton. The petition is a very lengthy document and sets forth that Ramge and the defendants named above, on November 1, 1892, formed a corporation under the name of the Interstate Hotel company for the purpose of erecting a fine hotel building at the southwest corner of Fifteenth and Harney streets. It is alleged that Ramge was induced to enter the company on account of the fact that the proposed hotel would be directly opposite the business block belonging to him. He subscribed for $10,000 worth of stock and borrowed the money from the Merchants' National bank to pay for it, the defendant, Paxton, signing a four months' note with him as joint maker. This money culty in getting the heaviest property own-was paid for the stock and 100 shares of ers and the moneyed men of the city to was paid for the stock and 100 shares of stock issued to Ramge.

It is further alleged that the company purchased the two lots and a part of the adjoining lot, all at the southwest corner of Fifteenth and Harney streets, for $125,000, applying the $10,000 paid by Ramge on the purchase price. Excavations for a hotel building were made, and it is alleged that no further action was taken at that time. It is further asserted in the petition that Ramge was declared insane August 1, 1894. and the defendant Paxton, was appointed guardian. January 2, 1895, it is alleged. Paxton filed an application in the county court asking that he be authorized to con-sent, as guardian of Ramge, to a change in the name of the Interstate Hotel company to that of the Interstate Improvement company, and that he also be authorized to vote stock at meetings of the stockholders and to deposit the stock as collateral security for the payment of the note given to the Merchants' National bank. The order was entered by the court, and a short time afterward a similiar request was filed, asking that consent be given to a change of name of the company to that of the Creighton Theater Building company, for the reason that a company was already in existence under the name of the Interstate Improve ment company. This request was also granted, it being charged in the petition that these proceedings were entirely without the knowledge or consent of the plaintiff or of any of the creditors of Ramge.

CHARGES OF MISAPPROPRIATION. The petition further charges that Febru sent of the plaintiff or any of the creditor of Ramge, amended articles of incorporation were filed, changing the name of the com pany to tast of the Creighton Theater Building company. It is further alleged that Ramge dies March 25, 1895, and the plaintiff was made his sole devisee and executrix. The debts against the estate are said to aggregate $90,000, and fears are expressed that the estate will not be sufficient to pay the debts. The defendants are charged with having misappropriated the money paid by Ramge and with having used it for purposes known to be in direct opposition to his well known Their acts in this particular are alleged to have been ultra vires and void The acts of Paxton as guardian and the order of the county court are also alleged to have been void, and it is further alleged that the orders issued by the county court did not authorize a change in the funda-mental object of the company in which Ramge had bought stock, but simply author-zed Paxton to consent, as guardian, to a bange of name. The petition then charges that it was never the intention of the incorporators of the company to erect a hotel on the pror erty in question, but that it was purchased pursuance of a secret agreement to reieve John A. McShane, W. A. Paxton and John A. Creighton from a covenant to erect an expensive business block under an agreement with the Boston Ground Rent company.

It is charged that the defendants had no power to apply the $10,000 paid by Ramge to any purpose but that set forth in the original articles of incorporation of the company and that no one had any power to hypothecate the shares of stock owned by Ramge as collateral security for the pay-ment of the note held by the Merchants National bank. It is also charged that the theater building is mortgaged for $100,000. and the court is asked to appoint a re-ceiver for the collection of the rents, and the court is asked to decree that the plaintiff be given a judgment against the de-fendants for $10,000, and that the judgment be declared a first lien against the property referred to, and that the same be sold to satisfy the judgment.

EXPOSITION COMMITTEES REPORT.

Street Rallway Employes Hand In Large Stock Subscription.
The usual conference of the soliciting committees of the Transmississippi Exposition was held at the Commercial club rooms last night. Owing to the wreck caused by the storm it was necessary to hold the meet-MRS. RAMGE SUES FOR TEN THOUSAND ing in one of the rear rooms. Only four of the committees were represented at the conference, and, after comparing notes, the secretary announced that the amount collected during the week was about $20,000. Of this amount the greater part was subscribed by the employes of the street railway company, the motormen, conductors and house men. The list sent in from this source showed that 358 employes had sub scribed $12,560, the amounts varying from $30 to $100. In this connection the following is a copy of a letter sent to President Frank Murphy of the Street Railway company by Secretary Wakefield of the Exposition com-

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge re celpt from you of subscription lists Nos. 1.001 to 1.020 inclusive containing thereon subscriptions of employes of the Omaha. Street Railway company, 35s subscriptions for the amount of 1.23f shares of stock to the Transmississippi and International Exposition. The defendants are the Interstate Hotel position.

To say that the street car boys have done well is to put it mildly indeed. They have done nobly, and on behalf of the management of the exposition I desire to acknowledge receipt of subscriptions and express to you and to the subscribers their thanks and appreciation for this very material aid.

This makes a total of $22,560 contributed toward the exposition by the street railway company and its employes, the company having subscribed $10,000 last week.
The total amount of stock subscribed to date is still a long way from the $300,000 which must be subscribed before the gov-ernment appropriation becomes available

The returns made to the secretary show that has been only about $170,000 scribed. The committees report great diffisubscribe. The same difficulty has also been encountered in the cases of some of the largest mercantile and manufacturing establishments in the city. Some of the latter have refused, point blank, to subscribe a cent, and others have offered to subscrib an amount so insignificant that the committees have refused to accept it. Owing to the small attendance at the meeting last night it was decided not to transact any business, but to continue the work of soliciting for another week another conference will probably be held at the same place next Saturday evening.

The business of the company has been very heavy. In the face of hot weather the house has been packed every night. The company goes on the road for seven weeks of fair dates.

ARE ALL PULLING TOGETHER

Real Estate Men Appreciate the Necessity of Co-Operation,

BRISK INQUIRY FOR NEBRASKA REALTY

Advertising the Exposition One of the Things Which Should Be Taken Up in Enruest_Gosslp Among the Dealers.

It is an item worthy of note that there is now a spirit of unanimity and a desirto co-operate among the real estate men of the city such as has not existed before for a long time. Said a dealer the other day: " have been a member of nearly all the real estate organizations of Omaha for the past ten years and I have never seen such friendliness and unity among real estate men.

"The Real Estate exchange is not what should be in point of numbers. Every dealer in the city should belong to it. It would then have at least a hundred members A dollar subscribed by each would mean $100, and $10 subscribed by each for any project would mean $1,000. In their action one man's strenght would be multiplied one hundred fold. There never was a time when the Real Estate exchange could do as much good by united action as now. Omaha and Nebraska are again coming into prominence and prosperity and better times are in sight Good crops and the Exposition should put new life and faith into every man in the business. Real estate men are the ploneers of every advance movement, and while hav ing an organization of their own they should Join with every other association having for its object the upbuilding of the city Etta Wilson. The girl is the daughter of of Omaha. They should be a pillar of the woman who was shot in a Thirteenth strength to the Exposition directory. The street saloon during a scuffle with Eakins Exposition project challenges the best efforts and all the energy of every real estate man in the city. No body of men can advertise the Exposition as well as they if they will take hold of it. They are experts in advertising and in this direction there is a big opportunity for work.

"The people of Omaha regard the Expo-sition as an assured fact, yet those people who travel bring back the news that very little of anything is known about it beyond the borders of Nebraska except in those sections of the country were special com-mittees of the Exposition managers have spread the news. All organizations, includng labor, civic, religious and business should do all they can in the way of advertising the Exposition, but the Real Estate exchange is the right organization to be at the head of the advertising bureau, and to systematically, persistently and properly keep the project before the people.
"Some one has suggested that much might be done by getting out-of-town owners of real estate to mention the project in their local papers. There are distinguished, as well as medium class people all over the United States who have holdings in Omaha who would be glad, if not to contribute money, at least to speak of the matter favorably in their particular localities. Mrs. lieveland was at one time an owner of Omaha real estate. Wade Hampton of South Carolina has a block of ground here. George Francis Train's interests may still amount to something. Any of these people and scores of others of equal prominence, if informed of the scope and magnitude of the great fair proposed to be held here would be glad, no doubt, to spread the news and favorably advertise the matter. The financial and business managers of the concern should plan a great show on a broad scale worthy of the endorsement of the best people of the land, and then the Real Estate exproject from one end of the land to the other."

MUST ANSWER IN DISTRICT COURT

Thomas Eakins Placed Under Bond by Judge Gordon. After a preliminary hearing that lasted several days Thomas Eakins was bound over to the district court by Judge Gordon in the sum of $2,000 to answer to the charge of attempting to criminally assault little several days ago. Eakins testified in his own behalf. denied that he had laid hands on the girl but said he had simply gone to her bedside to awaken her. He stated that he had awakened her in the same way every Sun-day for a year past. The girl denied this statement. She and her brother were the witnesses besides Eakins who were called to the stand.

Irey Tells His Side of the Story. Last week E. J. Irey was called into police court, where he was fined $1 and costs the complaining witness being a Mrs. Trobee, who conducts a boarding house in the vicinity of Nineteenth street and Capitol avenue. Mr. Irey gives his version of the matter by saying that he had been boarding at the Trobee place for some time and had always paid his board in admirant matter by saying that he had been boarding at the Trobee place for some time and had always paid his board in admirant matter than the saying that the saying t time and had always paid his board in advance. There was a misunderstanding about the amount of money that Mr. Irey had paid and during the discussion Mrs. Trobee became enraged and flew at him like a wildcat, scratching his hands, face and neck. Mr. Irey, in trying to protect himself from the assault, pushed Mrs. Trobee away, after which she hastened to the police court and swore to an information.

Not Ready to Give Possession. Judge Keysor issued a restraining order against the city yesterday, under which he city is temporarily enjoined from proceeding, under a writ of restitution, to eject Mrs. Louisa Boyd from the north forty-four feet of the lot at the northeast corner of Ninth and Howard streets. This is the lot which is claimed by the city and for which the city has obtained judgment in the district court. Mrs. Boyd claims title to the north part of the lot in ment in the district court. Mrs. Boyd claims title to the north part of the lot in fee simple by virtue of having been in undisturbed possession of the property for over ten years and she now claims that the city is barred by the statute of limitations from ousting her.

The case was set for hearing before Judge Powell next Saturday at 10 a. m.

guilty of malfeasance in office and passed a resolution declaring the office vacant. The judgment in the case was not formu-lated until the next day, however, and a restraining order was issued by Judge Keysor, enjoining the commissioners from entering the judgment upon their records. The contention of the plaintiff. Crosby, is that the board, which has judiciary powers similar to those of a justice of the peace, lost urther jurisdiction in the case by adjourning before entering a judgment in the case, and that therefore the board has no power to take any further action. Assistant County Attorney Jefferis reptook the position that the action of the board in adjourning, while it was a mistake, was not a mistake which deprived the board of further jurisdiction.

Judge Keysor took the matter under advisement and gave notice that he would visement and gave notice that he would
