LAWYERS EAT DINNER. Chauncey M. Depew tonight presided at the annual banquet of the American Bar association, which was enjoyed by about 260 distinguished persons in the Grand Union hotel ball room. It was preceded by a reception in the club rooms adjoining, when Lord Russell, Sir Frank Lockwood and Montague Crackanthorpe again met the members of the association. Following immediately was a procession under the mar-shalship of Francis Rawle of Philadelphia, with Lord Russell and Mr. Depew at the bead. The guests marched into the hand-somely decorated banquet hall, where all were given seats. After the menu had bee disposed of Lady Russell, Lady Lockwood Mrs. Moorefield Storey and other ladies were escorted in and awarded seats of honor. Mr. Depew, as toastmaster, in his usual felicitous style, made some brief opening remarks and offered as a toast "The Lord Chief Justice of England," which was hap-pily responded to by Lord Russell. The next toost was "The American Bar Associa tion," which was replied to by Retiring President Moorefield Storey of Boston. Sir Frank Lockwood responded in a very happy vein to "The Wit of the English Bar." James M. Beck of Philadelphia, James C. Carter and Bourke Cochran of New York were also called upon, and their utterance rounded out one of the most famous bar quets ever held at Saratoga. The company

Brown, formerly of San Francisco, and whose troubles are familiar to all newspaper readers, has made a statement in reply to the last confession of Miss Overman, in which she says that the charges which she originally made against Dr. Brown, and which I am sure, do what he can to continue the she subsequently said were false, are in service, and will, if it is possible with the she subsequently said were false, are in reality founded on facts.

Dr. Brown denounces the entire story as one of blackmail and says that the fact that Miss Overman now admits that she testified falsely should prove her unworthy of the slightest credence. He says: "The public should remember that Miss Overman wrote offering to have Mrs. Tunnel make an affi-daylt in my favor if I would pay a large sum for it; but that my enemies were ready to pay well for a story against me, and that they should tell such a story unless I would pay their price. HAY SHIPPERS ARE PROTESTING. an Important Decision.

DES MOINES, Aug. 21.-(Special Telegram.)-The State Railroad commission today handed down its decision in the matter of the application for a reduction of rates on hay. This has been the most bitterly contested case that has been before the commission for a long time. The board about two months ago changed the classification, so that hay was given a higher rate. At the same time it reduced the minimum carload weight from 24,000 to 20,000 pound The hay shippers declared the change had ruined the hay shipping business of the state, and that immense amounts of hay would rot all over north and north stored to the old basis. They procured netitions and remonstrances upon the board and a date was fixed for a rehearing. At this rehearing there was a large delegation of shippers and railroad men present. The shippers all wanted the old rates restored.

The railroads nearly all opposed the restoradecision. It holds that the present classification will prove satisfactory if shippers will give it a fair trial and refuse to change it. They, however, consent to a further reduction of the minimum weight, making t 18,000 for thirty-four-foot cars and gradpating it down to 14,000 for smaller cars The shippers generally testified at the hear ing that they were satisfied with the minimums and wanted the classification changed There will be a vigorous protest from hay

STARK COUNTY A M'KINLEY STRONGHOLD

Sheriff Hiram Doll Has Sent a Letter to Captain Dick Walker of Topeka, Kan., Explaining a Newspaper Exaggeration.

CANTON, O., Aug. 21.-Sheriff Hiram Doll sent the following letter to Captain Dick Walker of Kansas in reply to a letter published by a press association, having been sent from Canton and giving reports about the political situation in McKinley's home county: "CANTON, O., Aug. 21.-Captain Dick Walker, Topeka, Kan.: Dear Sir-The silver club in Canton, about which you write, is composed of populists and democrats and the leading democrats of the city are not in it. The ex-republican mentioned as president, Colonel Holloway, was one of the most enthusiastic McKinley men in the city and during the greatest joilification meetings here after the St. Louis convention rode at the head of each procession escorting the various delegations to Governor McKinley's house. He was an as-pirant for chief marshal of the Escort club. but failed of election. Immediately after that he turned over to the opposition. "The sliver club at its organization only claimed to have a membership of 200 to 250 upon the statements of its officials to the reporters of the press associations. When it is remembered that Stark county has a population of nearly 100,000 and this city nearly 40,000, the magnitude of the club does not appear very great. Comparatively speaking, a sound money nonpartisan rallroad club in this city, composed largely democrats as well as republicans, signed 300 members the night of organization. The same night the McKinley Marching club was organized with 1,000 members. A poll of the precinct that Major McKinley has lived in since his return from Columbus. which has always been a democratic pre cinct, out of 340 voters polled showed Mc-Kinley 190, Bryan 150, a republican gain over the combined Bryan vote, including populists and democrats, of seventy-four in a single precinct. The precinct in which Major McKinley lived before he went to Columbus is two to one for McKinley. The opinion prevails here, and the circumstances justify, that the organization of the Bryan silver club here the week bebore Mr. Bryan was advertised to pass through this city McKinley's home was a part and parcel of a premeditated pro-gram on the part of the national Bryan managers to make it appear that there was a large defection at McKinley's home, it being an effort to counteract the polls of Lincoln, Neb. Mr. Bryan's home, which have shown that Mr. Bryan will lose his precinct, ward, city and county by over-whelming pluralities. The republican party of Canton and Stark county are enthusiastically for sound money, as well as pro-tection. The Bryan silver club organized with less of a membership than Mr. Coxey's army started with on its march from Massillon to Washington, Canton being its first stopping place, Carl Browne, Coxey's lieutenant and son-in-law, being the most con-

IDAHO POPULISTS GAIN A POINT. Fusion Plan Amended With Repub-

Heans Still Left Out. BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 21.—At 6 o'clock this evening the democratic and populist state conventions had not completed their work, the populists having made very little progress during the day. The conference committee reported the division as given in last night's dispatches, also that the fused party arrangement respecting the United States senator did not please the populists, and they have spent the entire day trying to get it straightened out, the last demand being that the democrats shall agree to sup-port a man selected by the populistic legislative caucus. The populists did nothing more than to adopt their platform. It is devoted entirely to state matters. One plank savs:

"We heartily indorse the action of the national people's party in convention at St.

Another plank of general interest is Believing in equal rights to all and special privileges to none, we favor the adop-tion of the pending woman suffrage amendment to the constitution." The democratic convention has gone ahead faster. It has adopted a platform and nominated R. P. Quaries of Salmon for supreme judge, and Frank Stuenenberg of Caldwell for governor. The platform says in part: "Representatives of the party in Idaho in powention renew their fidelity to the priniples of the democratic party as formulated by Jefferson and reaffirmed in the platform dopted by the representatives of our party in the Chicago convention of 1896. ratify and confirm the nominations made at Chicago and pledge ourselves to use every honorable effort to secure the election of William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall as president and vice president of the United States.

We recommend to the favorable consideration of the voters of the state the proposed constitutional amendment granting equal suffrage, believing that this great question should receive the earnest attention of every person as an important factor of the future welfare of the state."

At the evening session the democrats notified the populists that they would accede to the last demand. The populists at once receded and fusion was closed up.

From Syracuse, Buffalo, Rochester and Albany, Mr. Bryan has received assurances of the support of the county democracts and notification that the arrangements hose localities are entirely in charge of the democratic county committees Bryan to speak at eastern points. Nearly every city of any size between New York and Chicago has asked him to make a stop and without exception the invitations have come from leaders of democratic organiza-Mr. Bryan showed no surprise this morning at the newspaper stories that the New York democratic state organization had ittle bit upon the statement that senator Hill had told Danforth that he would sup-port and work for him (Mr. Bryan). He said in relation to that question: "It Senator Hill's custom to speak t through others and I doubt if Mr. Danforth gabe out a statement purporting to be made by Senator Hill. CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., Aug. 21 .- (Special Telegram.)-Reports received today from a heavy storm, which passed to the northeast late last evening, show that considerable damage was done throughout the northern portion of this county. The storm struck a house owned by Fred Dickinson, and ut-terly demolished it. Dickinson took refuge in a cellar and thus saved his life. His barn was also swept away. The dwelling of Cliff Somers was destroyed, but none of Cliff Somers was destroyed, of the occupants seriously injured. A Van Patter's barn was demolished. A regular cloudburst accompanied the storm within a few minutes. Ravines which had been dry for months were soon rushing rivers and vast numbers of pumpkins, melons and other vegetables were carried away by the flood at Kimball. Considerable hall fell

From the prompt manner in which the delegates appeared to take their seats at yesterday morning's service one would have scarcely thought that the day before had been called the people's democratic party. The one of incessant worship and that Thursday evening's services had kept the young Christians up until a late hour. From the bright, cheery faces that were to be seen and the cordial morning greetings that were to be heard on all sides one could learn that the delegates were not at all wearied from the previous day's meeting, for if they were they neither knew it nor showed it; but rather was it apparent that the day's meetings had had a joyous, happy and beneficial effect and that sunrise services of prayer and song yesterday morning had been a source of real inspiration. The services of the day began with a well attended meeting at Jefferson square. It was begun promptly at 6 o'clock, led by Rev. J. Knox Montgomery of Cincinnati. Over 400 delegates were there, and many a workingman on his way to his day's labor, at-tracted by the unusual gathering at the more unusual hour, stopped and removed his hat and attentively listened to the fervent prayers, the carnest talks and the joyous songs of praise.

The services at Creighton theater were scheduled for 9:30. It was not that hour, nor even a few minutes before that hour, when all streets leading to the convention hall were crowded with those anxious to be in time to secure good seats. By the time the appointed hour had arrived the theater was well filled, better filled than at the morning service of the preceding day. EARLY MORNING SERVICES.

The lower portion of the house, the boxes, the stage, the balcony were all occupied, and there was a generous number of delegates in the gallery. The services were opened with a devotional exercise conducted receded and fusion was closed up.

The democratic convention nominated Frank Steuenberg for governor; R. P. Quarles, justice of the supreme court; R. E. McFarland, attorney general; G. H. Storrer, treasurer. The populists nominated the following: For congress, Captain Gunn; C. C. Fuller, Heutenant governor; J. H. Anderson, auditor; J. L. Lewis, secretary of state, and Lewis Anderson for attorney generals of the morning by saying that the remarks of the morning by saying that the true value of a half service could be measured only by conscious ness of the Divine presence. He said that quietness of the soul and a turning of one's thoughts to the Lord were essential to the success of such a service. He urged his hearers to leave off friendly greetings, to cease looking around the hall for their friends, and that then an inner peace would come and a blessed service would result. All heads were then bowed in silent prayer, after which the leader of the exercises read from II Corinthians, VI. Two stanzas of the beautiful hymn, "For Jehovah I Am Walting," were then sung. The singing was followed by the reading of Matthew VII, and then several minutes were given over to sentence prayers. They came from all parts of the house, from the boxes and from the gallery, from the platform and from the corridors. "The Rock that is Higher than

." was then sung. in the college settlement work. Resolutions and memorials of congratulation and of assurance of hearty co-operation were then read from a number of societies in various parts of the country. They were all referred to the committee on resolutions with recommendations that they be answered we the heartiest greetings of the convention. Rev. A. G. Wallace was then introduced to the convention. He said that to the floral tributes already presented to the con-vention he desired to add one that would be significant of the close bonds of fellowship that existed between the northern and southern divisions of the church. Just before the late civil war slavery succeeded in dividing the church into two divisions, southern division being known after separation as the Associate Reform Church of the South. On behalf of Young People's Christian unions of this branch of the church he presented to the his own announcement." It was said here today, on very good authority, that Senator convention a branch of a cotton plant that had been brought to Omaha directly from a Hill would take part in the demonstration southern cotton field by W. M. Grier D., president of Erskine college, Due West,

As the pretty branch was presented to from Leader Sheehan of Tammany asking Mr. Bryan to speak in New York. Congressman Sulzer arrived here tonight, and was closeted with Mr. Bryan. He brought with him Prof. VanBuren Densloe, formerly a professor in Chicago university, and now a writer of silver literature.

As the pretty branch was presented to President Quay every delegate in the building seemed to appreciate the significance of the act and there was tremendous applause. It was renewed when Dr. Grier was called for. He responded from an upper box on the left of the stage. He said that he had not expected to speak, This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Pryan Mr. a psalm singer. He declared that the important discoveries of the century were youth and woman. The term man, he said, was not being used so much nowadays in the keneric sense. He provoked more laughter by relating an anecdote of one who said that he read in the bible how man could be saved, but could find nothing about salvation of women. In closing he spoke of the hearty good will of the south for the north and again emphasized the strength of the ties that held the young Christians of the ties that held the young Christians of these two sections of the land together for one common cause.

ELOQUENCE OF MRS. PEAKE. ELOQUENCE OF MRS. PEAKE.

After shiging "Bringing Back the Sheaves." President Quay introduced Mrs. Edith Livingstone Peake of Rockford, Ill., who was well received. The subject of her address was "Separation." and she discussed it in a manner that would have delighted the heart of the most orthodog Quaker. The luke warm Christians who were afraid to come out and separate themselves from the world and its vanities she selves from the world and its vanities she handled without gloves, and the earnest manner in which she asserted that God's people were to be a peculiar people brought forth much applause. Mrs. Peake is gifted with a spicified voice, and her long ex-perience on the stage as an actress cannot help showing itself in her graceful gestures and taking memorisms.

She first asked that every head in the house he howed and that there he a silent prayer from every soul that the consideration of the subject might have God's blessing. After the moment's stient prayer she ing. After the moment's stient prayer she said her subject was not chosen for its popularity, but because of the growing necessity for a consideration of the matter. that the creditors will be paid in full, but that it will require considerable time to get matters straightened up. The failure of A. V. Frush, a produce dealer, seems to have brought the crisis to a focus. Darkness throughout the bible stood
