effect of a desire upon the part of the longs

to secure the profit which Saturday's 2c rise had placed within their reach. The bulk of the speculative business is now in the December future, and the opening price this morning was from 611se to 61c. Only one or two trades were made at the highest of these quotations, and the bulk of the irregularity of movement , was displayed. The first transactions were at 61%c, about %c below Saturday's close. After selling down again to 61%c, and reacting to 61%c, there occurred an irregular decline, which did not stop until some few trades had been recorded as low as 60%c, or about %e be-low the price it stopped at Saturday. A sufficient number of fresh buyers came in at the decline to cathe prices to turn up-ward again. The taking of wheat for ex-port and for shipment to eastern millers was known early in the day to amount to a good round total quantity. Before noon it was reported at about 250,000 bu. The Chicago receipts were 17, cars, only six of which were contract, while the outinspec-tion was 114,195 bu. Minneapolis and Duluth received 554 cars, showing that new wheat is beginning to move freely in the atlantic seaboard were small at the equiva-lent of 135,000 bu, in wheat and flour. The latter item and the closing of a small pri-vate bank over on the west side were fau-ply decreaced 65,000 bu. In contract, with 550,000 bu, decrease a year ago. That also beloed in causing an early decrease. The strength of the foreign markets was in evidence near the close and the market below Saturday's close. After selling down The opening was slightly depresed on news o vate bank over on the west side were fac-tors in the carly decline. The visible sup-ply decreaced 65.000 bu. in contract, with 150,000 bu. decrease a year ago. That also helped in causing an early decrease. The strength of the foreign markets was in evidence near the close and the market which had been gradually working upward became quite strong. About thirty min-tures from the end of the session, December wheat was bringing 61%, but another rush to take profits on long wheat. See the settack at the close to 61%c. Corn was dull and weak. The contin-ing the general firmers of wheat was power-less to counteract the effect. Sentember opened is clower at 22%c, sold to 27%c, then were practically neglected. The range of prices was narrow, and no particular feat-tures were developed, the easter feeling developed being brought about through sympathy with corn. September opened is clower at from 16%c to 16%c, and de-clined to 16%c, closed 7%c lower at $5.55; September pork closed 7%c lower at $5.55; September pork closed 7%c lower at $5.55; September pork closed 7%c lower at $5.55; September for Tuesday. Wheat, 275 cars; corn, %50 cars; oats, 450 cars; hogs, 11,000 market.

Stockers and feeders rold largely at from $2.75 to $2.00. This business is growing at the season advances; 112 cars of feeding cattle were shipped eastward from here last week, including good shipments east. Barge cattle were in the usual demand; steers selling chiefty at from $3.50 to $3.60. 2,672 496 demand; steers selling chiefty at from 33.59to 53.69. In hogs there was a good local packing and shipping demand, and a large business was transacted, but the enormals run forced prices down 5c for the lightest, and from 5c to 10c for heavy weights. Light and medlum weights sold freely, but heavies maxed off slowly. Heavy hogs sold at from 32.60 to 33.20; medlum at from 32.99 to 33.45, and light weights at from 32.25 to 33.69. In sheep there was a fairly active demand, but the big supply resulted in a decline of about 10c on lambs. We term range sheep were salable at from 32.50 to 33.55 and natives were evaniable at from 32.55. Sheep were in ex-cellent demand, and choice were sold at stronger prices. Lambs were slow at from 32.50 to 35.50 to stock. tendency to limit receipts, the week opens up with a larger run than the week opens increased of the second status of the second status of the second status of the second status of the Monday of last week. The cattle here were practically all westerns, there being few natives of any kind. Viewed from a seller's standpoint the market as a whole was far from being in a satisfactory condition. The demand was not of that urgent character which induces active buying and a firm market, but, on the contrary, the whole tendency of the market was not a load of cornfed steers in the yards. There were two or three bunches of good western grass beeves among the offerings, but the balance of the cattle was not especially desirable. The market was low a no open and there was not much life to the trade at any time. Owing to the few good cattle here the market stuff, but on anything other than the best grades it could safely be quoted loc lower. The receipts of butchers' stock were large, there being several big bunches of western the dends. A few of the best cows and helfers sold early at about steady prices, but the most of the offerings were of the market was and hey sold about loc lower. The common grades were ex-tremely slow and duit at the decline. Stockers and feeders constituted a very considerable proportion of all the cattle here. The fresh receipts were large and there were also quite 4 good many cattle in the hands of speculators carried over from last week. Where a buyer happened but he would pay about steady prices, as there were not many really first class feed-ers on sale, but as for our cart in the destrade stuff he would pay about steady prices, as there were not many really first class feed-ers on sale, but as for the algo and many cattle in the hands of speculators carried over from last week.
