EXODUS OF THE DELEGATES

Outgoing Trains on All the Roads Crowded Yesterday.

Many Words of Praise Over the Manner in Which Omnha Handled the Christian Union Convention.

The delegates to the Christian union conrention were leaving Omaha in large numbers yesterday, and by nightfall there were but few visitors remaining here. Scarcely any of them left Sunday, their well known objection to traveling on the Sabbath keeping them here to the last and making a general exodus yesterday. From all were heard words of praise for Omaha, its public institutions, its railroads and for all who contributed to the success of the convention. Some of the delegates said they were advised by their friends to avoid Omaha, as they would be suffocated by the hot winds of Nebraska, but they say they never enjoyed a week of finer weather and more delightful climate anywhere. They unanimously vote the Oma' a convention the greatest, from every point of view, that has ever been held by their union. To say that the delegates were will pleased with their treatment by the people and the press of Omaha ment by the people and the press of changles expressing the truth mildly, and many were heard to declare that they would be back here in 1898 to visit the Transmississippi Exposition.

Bright and early yesterday morning large crowds of delegates could be seen pressing their way to what one of the speakers of the convention called "Omaha's grand union depot." A special train of seven coacher was run via Lincoln to Tarkio college, Missouri, by the Burlington road, It was filled with delegates anxious to inspect the denominational college that carried off th first prize at the convention for the greatest attendance of undergraduates. It was estimated that about 400 persons joined this excursion. Some were bound for Lincoln, others for Dunbar, but the most were en-route to Tarkio. The morning train on route to Tarkio. The morning train on the Union Pacific carried a large number to points in the state. The excursions of the Burlington and of the Elkhorn roads The excursions of left for the Black Hills in the afternoon The afternoon's trains of both the Burling-ton and the Union Pacific contained several more extra sleepers for the accommo-dation of those who will take the Denver trip and of the western delegates who are returning home. The Rock Island's train to Pittsburg pulled out yesterday afternoon at 4:50 p. m., and will be run on the return trip to make the same remarkable time that was made coming to Omaha—twenty-six The Burlington had two extra sleepers and two additional chair cars on its Chleago train last night. The North-western, which has brought more than its share of the delegates to Omaha, added extra coaches to both its afternoon trains to Chicago. At the regular weekly meeting of the Real Estate Dealers' association, held at the Commercial club yesterday noon, the discussion turned on ways means for repaying the streets which still have the remains of what was once a wooden pavement. Entries in All Classes Far Greater Than at Any Previous Exhibitton-Outside Connties Hustling.

"If we have this kind of weather during the week we will have a fair that will beat the world," gleefully chuckled ex-Governor Furnas of the Board of State Fair Managers yesterday morning as he looked upon his force of clerks who were busy as bees checking up entries. "Give us the weather and we will have everything else."

The entries are rolling in at a marvelous rate, and those in charge are beginning to wonder what is to become of them all. Everything seems to indicate that in the way of exhibits this year the show will be a record-breaker. Entries are coming in for every imaginable class, and they are pouring in from all parts of this country.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock 400 entries in all classes had been received. The clerks in the office have been kept on the move continually to get them into shape. The work is expected to continue, and possibly increase, until the office is removed to the grounds, and then it is not thought that they will cease until the fair itself is well under

The most of the entries received yesterday morning were of an agricultural nature. considerable number of them, however, were for the woman's department, which is ex-pected to be a great exhibition of woman's work. Many of these entries came from Omaha women, who began to pour into the office in a stream yesterday morning. The exhibits will not be confined to Omaha women, though, because some have been received from points in Virginia, Illinois and Ohio. Many points from Nebraska and Iowa have been heard from.

The cattle show will be a great feature of the fair. Secretary Furnas is authority for the statement that up to last Friday night more entries for this department had been received than for the combined years of 1894 and 1895. Since that time nearly 00 more entries have come in. horses and chickens are being entered galore, and the management is expecting to have its hands full to have all properly cared for.

The speed entries, which are being looked after by D. T. Mount, are keeping strictly up with the procession. It is the usual cusm for horsemen to telegraph their entrie ust in time to avoid being shut out Three-fourths of the entries usually come in this way. Therefore, while the entries for the speed ring are light in comparison to what are expected, they are of such a num-ber as to indicate that there will be all kinds of race horses on hand by the time the entries close.

Women are up daily before the police judge charged with being disorderly. They have invariably either pleaded guilty or have been adjudged guilty and have each been fined $5 and costs. The women are being picked up on the streets or are arrested out of the flats in which they dwell. John Denney, a colored man who jumped the chain gang last month, is so anxious to get back to Omaha that he is sorry now that he made his escape. Police Judge Gordon yesterday morning received a worded epistle from Den carefully ney, in which he begs that the court will forget, forgive and give permission over its own signature for him to return without danger of being nabbed by the officers. In the communication Denney exonerates the judge from any wrong-doing for sen-tencing him to the gang. He states that he believed he had a fair and impartial hearing and that the judge sentenced him to street work because he thought him guilty, although he was not. Denney's belief in this direction has been so strong that he says he never overlooke so strong that he says he never overlooked an opportunity to say a good word for the Omaha police judge. But he says that he was so sure that he was innocent of the charge against him and that the air of Omaha was so uncongenial to his health that he skipped out. Now he wants to get back because he has been engaged to d some work during state fair week. Denney was convicted of being a vagran and was sentenced to the street gang for several days. Judge Gordon has not ye decided what to do in the case.

According to the police there is no influx of crooks to harass the city during fair week. If any have arrived they have most successfully succeeded in getting under cover. None have been arrested. A few arrests of suspicious characters and vagrants are made daily, but if any of these are "good" men in disguise, they are being put in places of safety by sentences that will not expire until the fair is over. A Needful Garment--

In all of a man's wardrobe there isn't a more needful garment for this time of the year than the lightweight overcoat. It adds comfort to a summer suit these cool evenings, and can be worn in many places, and oft where a winter overcoat would be out of place. It costs little, comforts much and pays big dividends to the wearer every spring and fall. We have these needful garments in variety and our prices are almost half what you have been in the habit of seeing them marked elsewhere. Some in Cheviots at $5 00, some in Black Clays at $7.50, some in gray Worsteds at $8.00, and some in English hunting cloth-very swell-at $9 00 a piece. The time to buy a fall overcoat is now, while the line is large; the time to wear it is every fall and spring for the next five years. A good Fall Overcoat will look well even after five years. Even the cheapest of ours are good-a'l wool.
