Depression Was the Leading Characteristic of Speculation.

PROVISIONS, HOWEVER, CLOSED HIGHER

Failure of the New York Wheat Market to Respond to the Opening Advance at Chicago Was the First Cause for Reaction.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 - Depression was the leading characteristic of all the speculative markets today. December wheat closed be under yesterday's figures; corn declined % and oats Me. Provisions managed to regal the early losses and closed 24c lower to 716c higher. The natural buoyancy on the wheat market shows itself every morning It started at an improvement over yester day's closing price of from the to be. In a minutes its advancing tendency wa checked and its buoyancy turned into un natural heaviness. December wheat opened at from 00% to 60c and during the fore-noon it declined is per bu, getting down to 5914c about 11:30 o'clock. strength got its inspiration from the reported ordering of gold from abroad by two ported ordering of gold from abroad by two Chicago banks and to frost in northern Minnesotas which it was presumed would damage the late sown and still unripe spring wheat in that region. The failure of the New York wheat market to respond to the New York wheat market to respond to the New York wheat market to respond to the opening advance here was the first cause assigned for the reaction which followed and the decilie at Berlin of from 2½ marks for near deliveries to 1½ marks for later futures was another contributory reason. The stock market was stannint and the additional revelations in the Diamond Match session had a tendency to make the local financial situation more unstisfactory. The failure of a small bank was announced and also served to increase the distrust and apprehension. Chicago receipts were 158 cars, of which eight were the contract grade. Minnespolis and Duluth received 486 carloads, against 650 cars a year ago. Exports from Atlantic ports in flour and wheat were caula to 325,000 bu. Bradstreet's corrected report of Thesday last on the changes during the week in the world's viable supply from an increase of 319,000 bu. to a decrease of $18,000 bu, was received. This, when ahnounced, caused a rully to $50,50 bu, was reveived. This, when ahnounced, caused a rully to $60,50 bu, was reveived. This, when ahnounced, caused a rully to $60,50 bu, was reveived. This, when ahnounced and the market remained weak to the close. Final figures for December were from $60,50 bu, was reveived. This, when ahnounced and the market remained weak to the close. Final figures for December being sold out, a good deal of short corn covered on the decline and some rood sized lines taken on by fresh buyers for long account. September opened a shade lower at 21c, declined to 295c and closed at from Chicago banks and to trost in northern 21c, declined to 20% and closed at from 20% to 22% c.

Oats were steady for a time and this was the only market exhibiting any buoyancy. The depression of wheat and corn, however, proved too much to bears and prices were from 16c to 16c lower at the close September opened 16c lower at 15% c, advanced to from 16c to 16% and declined to from 164 to 16%, where it closed.

There was a continuation of liquidation in provisions today and especially in pork, which suffered considerably at the outset. The weakness of corn and heavy hog receipts caused a weak opening. Light efferings of lard and ribs made a better feeling late in the day and prices recovered the early loss, the close being comparatively steady. Seatember pork closed 74c higher at $5.56; September lard 21% lower ther at $4.20. Estimated receipts for Friday are: Wheat

As usual of the, there was very little and aside from western grassers, the most of them being feeders.

The market on fat eartle was steady to strong, but there was very little here in the way of dressed beef steers to make a test of the market. One bunch of good, confied natives was offered and sold at $4.15. There were also a few westerns good enough to bring $3.75. Practically everything in the way of fat steers sold early.

A peculiar feature of the market on butchers' steek was the fact that commonish cows and helfers sold higher, while the better grades were no more than steady. The advance on the common kinds was due to the free buying on the part of feeders. The trade was fairly active and the most of offerings, some twenty leads, changed hands early. A good many bulls have been coming forward of hite and they are not selling overly well just and they are not selling overly well just at present.

The lower values on feeders and the large offerings, making it possible for buyers to secure most anything desired at reasonable prices, have brought out a flood of buying orders. The first day or two after the larger receipts set in the entitle came too fast, but as soon as buyers learned that the entitle were here they put in an appearance, and since then the yards have been kept pretty well cleaned up. Today the offerings were large, the most of the cattle here being feeders, but the demand was correspondingly large. The result was an active and stronger market and the most of the cattle changed hands in good season. Representative sales:
