Fifth Ward Republicans Listen to a Joint Debate on Finance.

C. Farrell Champions the Sound Money Plank of the Republican Platform Presents the Issue in a Convincing Manner.

Confident that every free and public discussion of the financial question can only result to the detriment of the free silver fallacy, the Fifth word republicans are willing to give all the freedom possible to argument on the subject. This was demonstrated last night when a joint discussion of this issue of the campaign was held last campaign night by an upholder of either side under the auspices of the Fifth Ward Republican club, in its hall at Eighteenth and Lake

The arguments were listened to by an audience that packed the hall to its fullest capacity and even necessitated the use of the sidewalk in front. The speakers, J. W. Logan of free sliver faith, and C. Farrell,

Mr. Logan did not appear to be very full of his subject, and in fact barely touched it. His opening speech was devoted entirely to a denunciation of the national banking system, which did not bear very directly on the subject in hand. In closing he made the emphatic statement that free silver would bring salvation to the country and then called upon Mr. Farrell to dispute the state-

Mr. Farrell did this with a vengeance and in a mainer that was highly satisfactory to the audience, if not to Mr. Logan. In direct contradiction to the latter's method he devoted his whole talk to money. He started out by stying that he wanted to see every United States dollar worth 100 cents all over the world in payment of all debts and in exchange for all articles. Thereupon he plunged into his subject. He stated that the free silverites asserted that if the amount of the circulating medium was increased, busifree silverites asserted that if the amount of the circulating medium was increased, busi-ness would increase, prices would rise and consequently more and better employment would be offered the laboring men. The fallacy of this reasoning was increased, prices would correspondingly increase, but the wage of the laborer would remain at the old figure and therefore all the advantage would be sained by the employer if any adwould be gained by the employer, if any advantage was gained at all.

The speaker admitted, however, that an advantage would be attained by the free coinage of the white metal in scaling down debts, but he maintained that honor and honesty required that this should never be done. He said that, in a word, the aim of the free silverites appeared to be a desire to beat their creditors. Mr. Farrell there-upon went on to say that the world ever since time immemorial has been trying to keep silver equal to gold and has never succeeded. He described the present scheme succeeded. He described the present scheme of the silver men, by which the government was called upon to coin all silver, no matter what its bullion value, and to give in exchange 100-cent dollars at the ratio of 16 ounces of silver to 1 ounce of gold. By such a method, the speaker maintained, that higher prices would reign on account of the depreciation of the currency rather they because of the increase of the rather than because of the increase of the metal theory, consisting principally of facts and figures from the census. He showed that since the "crime of "73" the country was in every way more prosperous than before that time, under a silver regime. He said finally that unless the free silver theory succeeded in raising silver to a ratio of 16 to 1 in the markets of the world, of which there was no proof, the fallacious fabric must fall to the ground.

Mr. Logan failed to answer the argucoming crushed under the heel of Lom-

DEMOCRATS FALLING INTO LINE. Out Making Speeches for the Repub-

A republican ratty, under the auspices of the John L. Webster Republican club, was held in Washington hall last night. A large number of women were present, and appeared to take a great interest in the proceedings. Music for the occasion was provided by the Seventh Ward Military band and a quartet, composed of Messrs. Stevens.

Phil E. Winter presided at the meeting and opened with a few remarks, during which he stated the meeting would be ad-dressed by life-long and dyed-in-the-wool democrats, who had announced their in-tention of supporting the republican nom-inees on the national ticket in this cam-

Gratton, Taylor and Cooke,

The first speaker was A. S. Ritchie, who made a lengthy speech, in which he dis-cussed the financial question in a general way, saying that the question involved in way, saying that the question involved in the present campaign was one involving the honor and integrity of the government. One of the oid parties, he said, had disappeared, had been swallowed by a new party, and he was left without a party and had resolved to unite with the party which had adopted the policy of the old democratic party. The meaney question, he said, was a great and serious question, and hadvocated leaving the solution of it to men who knew something about finance, instead of to men like Tiliman and Peffer, "who had never earned an honest dollar and don't know anything about money." He appealed to all honest voters to repudiate the doctrines which Bryan represents. "Thousands of dollars are being lost every day in the business world," he said, "on account of a lack of confidence on the part of the people who have money." Mc-Kinley's letter of acceptance be denominated as the clearest and most lucid expression of the money question he had ever the present compaign was one involving the inated as the clearest and most lucid expression of the money question he had ever meen, and he announced his determination to vote the republican presidential theket and to follow that up by voting for Cougressman Mercer, and then he said he intended to put on the finishing touches by voting the republican state ticket from top to bottom. He was loudly applauded, and his talk kept the audience in good humor from start to finish.

The quartet and the band entertained the pudience and then M. C. Acheson, another life-long democrat, was introduced. He also discussed the money question, but made his remarks rather brief on account of the lateness of the hour. He announced his intention of voting for McKinley and other republican candidates and was loudly

He reports having had excellent meetings everywhere and enthusi-astic receptions for the republican ticket and platform. The Russian and German Mem onlies in particular are almost unanimously for sound money and it is doubtful if er cent of them go to the silver fold. Every-here where Mr. Jansen has been the reent improvement in republican prospects nd increase of sound money sentiment has seen perceptible. The question of securing speakers to address the club in the Scandinavian tongue was brought up, and it was decided to make a requisition on the state committee for such speakers as they wanted. Fifteen new members were enrolled dur-ing the evening. It was decided to hold no meeting during fair week.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mark Murchy is back to town with 'O'Dowd's Neighbors." He heads his usual excellent company of specialists and was greeted with his usual audience when the curtain arose at the Creighton last night. There is nothing to say about Mark Murphy and "O'Dowd's Neighbors" that has not been said many times before. Murphy himself is a good representative of the peculiar type of the Irish comedian who finds ready acceptance with a large percentage of the-ater-goers. He was accorded last night by W. J. Cole, who divided with him the burden of the comedy work. Miss Minnie May Thompson, Miss Minnie Gray, Miss Jennie Reynolds and Messrs, John Williams, Charles Moreland and Ed Semonds are pleas-ing vocalists whose voices blend well in the duets, quartets and choruses which go to make up the musical features of the entertainment.

Grocers Think Bills Should Be Paid

by the Tenth. A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Retail Grocers' association was held last evening at the rooms of the Commer cial club. The principal subject up for discussion was the one that has already received a good deal of attention at the hands of the grocers, namely, the "dead best" ques-tion. While no definite agreement was arrvied at it was the sense of the members that there should be a time limit to all credits, and it seemed to be the idea that all bills not paid by the tenth day of the ensuing month should be considered delinquent. Under that arrangement parties neglecting to pay their bills by that date would not be entitled to any further credit at any grocery house in the city whose pro-prictors belong to the association.

The regular meeting for next Thursday was postponed until September 10 on account of the street parades to be held next week All grocers in the city were requested to lose their places of business on Thursday afternoon so as to give the clerks an opportunity to attend the state fair.

The board decided to introduce an educational feature into the regular meetings of the future. They will have some topic for discussion at each meeting that will be of interest and benefit to the members, the idea being that a duscussion of important matters pertaining to the business will bring out much valuable information.

Clerk of the Trustees Meeting Tells What Happened at Washington Convention-Omaha Never Had a Show.

William Shaw of Boston, treasurer of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, who acted as clerk of the trustees at their meeting in Washington, is in the city. When the Washington meeting was in progress Omaba was a bidder for the national Christian Endeavor convention in 1898, and it was charged by the committee from Omaha that her chances were spoiled by certain statements made to the trustees by Dr. Gordon, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church in Omaha. Mr. Shaw, on secount of his official position at the time. was in position to know just the facts in the case, and he has no hesitation in giving a full statement of the facts, that serve o completely vindicate Dr. Gordon of the charges made against him To a reporter for The Bee Mr. Shaw

They may LOOKING O' have expressed deep interest in the claims of Omaha, as I did myself. Indeed, I think I may claim that it was my suggestion, made after the splendid reception accorded to me last April, that Omaha ought some time in the future to repeat her invitation for the international convention, that led to the request for the 1898 convention. But also, by word of mouth and by letter, told committee not to build too confidently on 1898, because there were others with of information that the board ought to have. "On the informal ballot, taken after the committee made its plea, and before the statement regarding the action of the Presyterian ministers was made to the board, Omaha did not have a majority of the votes, but rather had a very small minority, while on the formal ballot it did not have n vote, the vote being: Nashville, 23; Louis-ville, 1, and Philadelphia, 1, which was at once made unanimous

WANTED TO GO SOUTH.

"I regret exceedingly the spirit of criticism that has developed because of the de-cision of the trustees to hold the conven-tion of '98 in Nashville, and particularly the attempt to hold one of your honored pasters, Dr. Gordon, responsible for the lecision against Omaha. The fact is, as has been stated before, that for several years the trustees have been convinced that at the earliest date practicable the convention ought to go south. There were four cities in the field for the convention. and of them all Omaha had the least cause to question the decision. Some of the cities had been hard at work for a year, while Omaha's campaign started three weeks before the Washington convention. "Nashville's ability to handle the convention depended largely upon her being able to secure the use of the Centernial exposition buildings. The exposition is to be held in 1897, but the managers agreed to let all the buildings remain until 1898

Our Fall styles in heardwear are now ready and nobody but sidewalk orators and stump politicians will be allowed the privilege of talking through their last year's hats. We would like some of these gentlemen to explain to "the great plain people" just why it is that hatters in New York and Boston, are getting $3.00 for hats that are not one whit better than "The Nebraska Special," which we are selling for $1.50. Is it on account of one productive west of the Missouri? or can it be that somebody has demonetized hats? Ask your favorite politici n what the peons of Mexico pay for the full fur hats we we are selling for 75c. Ask him if they don't pay $2.50. Ask him to inform you whether under free comage of hats it would be possible to get a better hat for $2.00, than we are now selling for a one dollar bill. Ask him if you please, to explain just why and how "The Nebraska" has been selling the very best fu. derby in America for $3.00, while Mr. Dunlox of New York gets $5.00 and even $6.00 for the same hat. Is it because people who buy 'em at "The Nebraska" have better sense, or has Dunlox got "the prive eges of the mint?" If your politician is honest, he will tell you that the very way to explain these things is that "The Nebraska" is an exception to all rules, and "The Nebraska" inside of a hat always has meant, and always will mean, a reduction of half. Paste that in your hat.
