CROWNING SOCIAL EVENT OF THE SEASON

Brilliant Function to Be Celebrated at the Castle of the Knights Next Priday Night_Gossip of the Week.

Last week society was all agog over the stedick reception, and to say the least, it was the society event of the season, having brought out not only all of the old-time soclety leaders, but many of the future buds, All in all, the Redick reception will be pleasantly remembered for many a long

The coming week, however, will put the cap sheaf onto society and will give people something to talk about for months to come. The event referred to is nothing less than the grand ball to be given by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben at the castle next Friday night. This ball is given in honor of the coming of the King of Quivera, ruler of the Seven Cities of Cibola, will be attended by his retinue knights, all of whom come from the goodly

Upon this occasion the King of Quivera will choose from the ladies of the court or the maids of honor some Omaha woman who in the presence of the spectators will e crowned the Queen of Quivers. The exercises at the castle will begin shortly after 9 o'clock Friday evening with the entrance of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, clad in their various costumes. After entering the castle the knights will go the evolutions of a march, end of which the king, whose identity is known only to the knights of the inne circle, will step from the ranks and ascend the dias where the ladies of the court and the maids of honor are sitting and from their number be will choose the queen, leading her forward to the front of the dias, there to be crowned. After this has been accomplished there will be the Royal Lancers of the knights and their ladies led by the king and the queen. This over the knights will repair to their dressing rooms, where they will resume their even ing dress, after which the ball will go on. Fifty prominent gentlemen of the knights have been chosen as a reception committee, and twenty-five of the young men as a floor committee, so that there is no doubt of a complete and correct management of the main floor. Governor Holcomb heads the reception committee and will be present.

Full dress is requisite for admission to the canvased space, although knights holding ball tickets not in full dress may sit in what is generally known as the bicycle track sur rounding the oval, seats being reserved here for all of them. Each end of the oval will be carpeted as last year, and reserved for the dancers. The band of the Twenty-second infantry under the leadership of Mr. Reichardt, play ing as an orchestra, will furnish the dance music, being stationed just behind the seats of the maids of honor. On the opposite side of the hall will be the Seventh Ward Military band, playing the promenade music alter

At the Redick Reception.

Last Thursday evening witnessed the social event of the week, which was the reception given in honor of the home-coming of John I. Redick and the charming woman he has chosen for his bride; and surely no bride e'er had a more royal home-coming. The magnificent grounds surrounding the Redick residence were illuminated with hundreds of electric lights in the royal colors of Ak-Sar-Ben; the wide, roomy verandas were likewise illuminated. The floral decorations of the house were almost a dream of tropical splendor; great palms, through which yo could almost catch a breath of spley south ern breezes; graceful ferns and foliag foliage plants intermingled with red and white ros in the drawing room, library and lower hall with golden rod and Marchel Neil roses in the dining room, completed the decorations.

In the lower hall from a bower of palms a mandolin club of six places discoursed sweet music throughout the evening, large canopy was erected at the side trance through which the guests passed to the dressing rooms. Coronado punch, an importation from the Coronado hotel, Santiago Cal., was served from a large punch bowl which rested in a bed of luscious fruits.

Refreshments were served in the dining room and library. In the dining room were Miss Dundy and Miss Wakeley, assisted by Mrs. D. H. Wheeler, jr., and Miss Datsy Doane. In the library were Miss Emily Wakeley, Miss McKell and Miss Dickinson. Judge and Mrs. Redick were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Redick and ceiving by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Redick and Messrs. Clark and Chat Redick. Assisting throughout the rooms were Mrs. W. J. Con-Mrs. Swartzlander, Mrs. McKell, Mrs. I. Miss Himebaugh and Mrs. E. S. Wood, Miss Himebaugh and Mrs. E. S. Dundy, jr. The bride wore blue foulard trimmed with black chiffon, black ribbons and red roses. Mrs. W. A. Redick wore blue organdie. One very noticeable feature of the evening was the presence of many old residents who can seldom be induced to attend social
