PRESIDENT SANFORD RETIRES

Sells Some of His Stock in the First National Bank.

NEW DIRECTORS ELECTED YESTERDAY

Important Changes in the Institution Accompanied by the Poor Health of the Former Head of Its Affairs.

A number of important and sweeping changes were made yesterday in the management of the First National bank of this city. A controlling interest of the bank's stock changed hands and the president and the old directors stepped down.

For several months past the health of President George P. Sanford has been frail and he has been unable to give his personal affairs the attention they required. His large interest in other banks and financial institutions made it necessary for him to divert both his time and capital.

On next Thursday evening a concert will be given at the First Methodist church for the benefit of the choir. Following are the names of those who will take part: Jules Lunsford, pianist; Mrs. F. A. Young, soprano; the Imperial quartet; Miss Bonner, pianist; J. E. Butler, organist; and Tuller's orchestra. The music-loving people of Omaha yesterday afternoon by Detective Hudson, where he will answer to the charge of larceny of a case of surgical instruments from Dr. Crockett and which Johnson had pawned for a dollar.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS

Mr. Maurice Watel, representing the French College of Agriculture, arrived in the city yesterday for the purpose of investigating the manner of government live stock inspection at this point.

LAFAYETTE YOUNG'S ADDRESS.

Lafayette Young of Des Moines then delivered the address of the day. The exercise opened with a prayer by Rev. J. H. Young.

Mr. Young's address was a fine review of the wonderful past of the great state and a conservative estimate of its future growth. His personal recollections of Iowa during the period of its greatest development, in which he himself had been prominent in state affairs, enabled him to give many facts and anecdotes not extensively known.

His simple presentation of the history of Iowa was most effective. He dwelt at length on the character of the people who settled on the rich upland prairies of the great Hawkeye state, and have there erected one of the most magnificent of the galaxy of communities.

WYOMING SAFE FOR MCKINLEY

W. B. Palmer, a stockman from Buffalo, Wyo., was in the city yesterday, and in speaking of the political situation in Wyoming, said that the state would surely go for McKinley.

The sheep men, he said, were working hard for McKinley and the republican party. He said that the republican party in Wyoming, which the city of Buffalo is situated in, is the stronghold of democracy in the state, and there is little hope of its being won over to the cause of honest money.

Foot Crushed by a Switch Engine.

Pank Lank, an employe of one of the packing houses, was on his way homeward last evening, when, upon crossing the tracks near the 42d street station, he was knocked down by a switch engine and his left foot badly crushed.

He was picked up, and after being placed upon the engine, was brought to his home at 1207 Williams street. It is probable that the injured member will have to be amputated.

CITY FINDS ITSELF TEMPORARILY $7,000 SHORT

It was found impossible for the finance committee of the council to complete all arrangements yesterday for the payment of $20,000 bonds and coupons which became due in New York October 1. The sum of $12,000 was telegraphed to New York, which covered all of the bonds due except on grading district No. 3. The deficiency amounting to $7,000, will most likely be arranged within a day or two and forwarded. An explanation was sent to the fiscal agency and it is not thought that the credit of the city will be injured in any extent by the short delay. One of the local banks is bearing on taking the $7,000 loan if the Boston firm of bankers does not accept the new refunding bonds within a short time.
