BEEKEEPERS HARD AT WORK

National Association's Session at Lincoln Finds Its Hours Well Occupied.

MANY ADDRESSES OF MUCH INTEREST

Habits of the Winged Priemis and Servants Discussed at Length, Together with Other Pentures of the Business.

LINCOLN, Oct. 8 .- (Special.) - The Nafignal Beckeepers' association met bright and early this morning in Union half of the State university and worked till 11 o'clock on the regular program as busily as their Beckerpers." She dwelt specially on the thought that although much progress has been made in the past in knowledge of the habits of the honey bee and experience in handling their product, the future will see as many and great improvements as the past has already supplied beckeepars with.

Dr. Miller spoke earnestly, though extern poraneously, on the obligation university evening likely presiding Mrs. C. C. McCabe and Dr. F. M. Sisson made addresses. In the poraneously, on the obligation university appreciate the forethought and self-denial occupied the platform, of the taxpayers of the state in furnishing them with such an alma matter.

Dr. Abbott spoke along similar lines, urg Ing the necessity of a certain proportion of university students returning to rural com-munities, there to broaden the culture of all with whom their daily labors bring them in contact.

George W. York of Chicago talked on the commercial aspect of the bee product, hav-ing for his subject, "Honey Adulteration and Commission Men." But one of the best papers of the day was that of Prof. Bessey of the university on "A Botanist Among the Immediately after luncheon the convention took a recess in order to visit all the buildings on the campus. They were conducted by Chancellor McLean in person, assisted by Prof. Bruner. The chancellor in leaving each building with a special history, related it, together with the cost at which the building was erected, adding such other facts as seemed to him worth imparting to castern visitors. It was after 3 o'clock when the following program was again altacked and partially disposed of by 5: "The Production of Extracted Honey," N. E. France, Platville, Wis, and J. C. Bach, Bronson, Kan.; "Artificial Heat and Pure Air Properly Applied in Wintering," R. F. Holtermann, Brantford, Ontario, Canada; "The Honey Producer and Supply Dealer," Rev. E. T. CONSOLIDATION OF ASSOCIATIONS. One of the most important transactions effected by the North American Beckeep effected by the North American Beckeep-ers' association on this, the closing day of its annual meeting, was the adoption section by section of the constitution of the National Beckeepers' union, whose headquarters is San Diego, Cal. This con-solidation will give to every North Amer-ican hency raiser legal protection in all disputes ending in the courts.

At this afternoon's session also the fol-lowing officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, George W. York, Chicago, III., editor of the American Bee Jour-nal; vice president, Hon, E., Whitcomb, Friend, Neb.; secretary (re-elected), Dr. A. B. Mason, Toledo, O.; treasurer, O. L. Her-shiser, Buffalo, N. Y. It was further decided to hold the next annual convention in Buf-

The closing session tonight was marked by a free and unlimited discussion of the innumerable points of special interest to beekeepers, the three papers presented being read by the presiding officers, in the absence of their authors. These were: The Economic Value of Bees and Product,' by C. P. Dadant, Hamilton, Ill.; "The Production of Extracted Honey," N. E. France Plattsville, Wis., and "Sweet Clover as a Honey Producing Plant." All three papers were practical and helpful, especially the last, which showed conclusively that more honey is made from sweet clover, of the white blossoming variety, from June 15 till frest, than from any other known forage

The value of honey as a basis, with soft or well water, for the making of prime vinegar was also brought out in discussion. Vinegar can be made by adding one pound of honey to the gallon of water, tying cheese cloth over the open head of the barrel and allowing it to stand where it will receive light and air freely. This vin-egar retails at 20 cents per gallon.

The report of the committee on obituary tendered resolutions of respect to the mem-ories of three deceased members, Rev. L. L. Langstreff the father of American bee keeping; Allan Pringle of Ontario and B Taylor of Minnesota. Copies of the resolutions were ordered sent to the families of decedents. The committee on entertainment reported The committee on entertainment reported resolutions of thanks to Chancellor MacLean, Profs. Bruner and Bessey, the regents of the university for the use of university halls and finally to Messrs. Stillson, Whitcomb and Heath of Nebraska, on behalf of the convention, for the splendid entertain-ment furnished by the citizens of Lincoln to the delegates. convention then adjourned to meet

My hands were completely covered with Ectems, and between my fingers the skin was perfectly raw. I had to sit with both hands held perfectly raw. I had to sit with both hands held up, and away from the fire. My husband had to dress and undress me like a baby. I tried the best physicians, but their medicines gave me no relief, and drove me almost crary. I was advised to try CUTICUBA REMEDIES, and did so, although my husband had to go twenty miles to get them. As soon as he got back, I used the CUTICUBA, and in fire minutes after the first application. I was perfectly easy, and slept soundly all that night. Before I confinenced using the CUTICUBA REMEDIES I could get no ease night orday. I could not bear to get warm, it would not me in a rage of itching. I slways keep the CUTICUBA REMEDIES in my house now, and recommend them to everybody, because of their wonderful effect. Yours gratefully.

NEBRASKA SYNOD'S OFFICERS. Close of the Twenty-Fourth Annual Meeting at Stella. STELLA, Neb., Oct. S .- (Special Telegram.)-The twenty-fourth annual convention of the Nebraska synod convened in the Lutheran church of Stella, of which Rev. W. C. McCool is pastor. The opening sermon was delivered by Rev. Luther P. Ludden of Lincoln. Horace Martin extended the synod a welcome on behalf of the church, the homes and the town, which was responded to in a most happy vein by Rev. Dr. H. W. Kuhns of Omaha. The election of officers resulted: President: Rev. L. A. Ludden, Lincoln; secretary, Rev. Lu-ther M. Kuhns, Omalia; treasurer, S. C. Crounse, Lincoln; statistical secretary, Rev. H. A. Wolfe, Surprise. The retiring president, Rev. W. C. McCool of Stella, presented his final report, showing gratifying progress during the past year. Rev. Franz J. Mueller of Verden, Neb., was received as he fraternal delegate of the German Nebraska synod, and presented the greetings of that body, which was responded to by the president, Rev. L. P. Ludden. The advisory board of home missions presented a reper showing the missions of the church are in a favorable condition, notwithstanding the great financial depression prevalent in the whole country.

CASS COUNTY'S FAIR ATTRACTIONS. High Wind Interferes with Fast Work on the Track.

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., Oct. 8.—(Special Telegram.)-The third day of the Cass county fair drew a large crowd of visitors. The varied attractions gave great satisfaction. The racing was exceedingly good. although the very high wind prevented very fast time being made. In the 2:25 trotting race New Fashion won in three straight heats, Orchard second, Frank P third, Best time: 2:264. The running race, half mile and repeat, was wonin two heats by Nehawka Girl, Joe McMain second, Sleepy Bill third. Best time: 0:49%. The victory of Nehawka Girl was very popular, as her owner, Bert Crawford, s a Plattsmouth man. The time on this track was exceedingly good.

The base ball game between Plattsmouth and Louisville created great excitement, the Louisville team winning after a hotly contested game by a score of 13 to 8. and a fine program has been provided. There will be a free-for-all pace, a 2:20 trot and a mile running race, together with other attractions. Mrs. Booth After Her Husband. LINCOLN, Oct. 8 .- (Special.) - James Booth, 57 years old, who, in company with Mrs. Jennie Clark, was taken to the police station this morning, declares that he has been arrested for simply being a boarder at the house of Mrs. Clark, 1148 North Nine teenth street. Mrs. Mollie Booth, the wife of James, who made the complaint against him declares, however, that her husband and Mre. Clark have violated the seventh commandment. She was given until tomorrow to make this charge good in open court by Police Judge Waters, and Booth was locked up. Out of sympathy for her little 5-year-old daughter Mrs. Clark was permitted to go home until the hour set for trial. Booth is an old soldier, and was employed as assistant quartermaster dur-ing the recent reunion at the fair grounds. Mrs. Booth says that she has ample proof of the guilt of the couple, and that the unlawful intimacy has continued for over a year. Several months ago, she avers, Booth went to Denver, where he was joined by Mrs. Clark, and they lived together as

man and wife. General Coppinger Returns. AWFUL CRIME OF A CHICAGO PHYSICIAN

Stabs the Woman Repeatedly with a Surgeon's Knife and Coolly Takes Notes of the Effects of the Wounds.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 .- Carl F. Nitz, a physician, stabbed his wife to death yesterday kind of work which is set them to do, and afternoon and afterwards blew his own furthermore, that some of them have had brains out. He had lived a quarrelsome and unhappy life, and the woman had repeatedly made efforts to obtain possession of her husband's property. During a quarrel Nits stabbed his wife in the abdomen with a surgical Instrument, and, the wound not proving fatal, stabbed her a second time. From notes found in the room it is evident that the physician had set down beside his victim to watch her die, and that while so occupied he repeatedly plunged the knife into vital parts, and on paper noted the effect of the wounds inflicted. For over four hours, as shown by his notes, he tortured the dying woman. During this time he went out and procured an oyster stew at a neighboring restaurant, and purchased the revolver with which he finally killed himself.

Late last evening the police learned of the murder, and went to the house. Nitz, who had hid in the basement, killed himself when he found that there was no chance of While the woman was slowly dying the aged father of the physician sat in an adjoining room ignorant of the tragedy that was being committed. The murderer suicide was 54 years of age, and well-to-do. To the Citizens of the First Ward of the City of Omaha: I am a candidate for the city council and at the mercy of the voters. I have lived in the First ward over 25 years, and have never been so fortunate as to hold public It has always been my purpose to build up the south part of the city, and, if elected to the position I seek, will continue to do everything in my power in that di-

The first improvement to the South Side was the building of the 11th Street viaduet in 1886. In this matter I took a leading part attended three sessions of the at my own expense, and aided in the passage of a bill providing for the erection of via-ducts over the railroad tracks. Under this law the 10th, 11th and 16th street viaducts were built, and the great north and south parts of our magnificent city tied together I spent considerable time and money, to gether with other citizens of the Firs ward, in establishing the grades and grading the various streets in said ward. I started the South Side Improvement club which has resulted in accomplishing much good for our part of the city. We made a boulevard out of South 13th street to Fort Crook, which will be one of the finest in the country, and will result in great benefit as a permanent improvement to the First ward and the city of Omaha.

I took a leading part, and worked hard and long, with the Park board to secure Riverview Park. We got the park-the finest and most beautiful in the city of Omaha and the probable cite for the Transmissis sippl Exposition. I am a large taxpayer, and my property is all in the First ward, and whatever bene-

CAROLONIA POR TOTO TO TOTO TOTO AMUSEMENTS.

At the Creighton last night Mr. Mansheld entered upon the second half of his week's engagement, beginning it, like the first, with a Shakespearean play.

The performance of "Richard III" was in very respect a notable one. Perhaps the mpany as a whole furnished the least sat isfactory portion of it, although there were some very bright spots even in that. When it is considered that most of these people are just entering upon their first season with Mr. Mansfield, and that a considerable number of them are not accustomed to the very little actual experience of any kind, i must be acknowledged that the showing the But there are two factors in the excel ferce of Mr. Mausfield's "Richard III" - the novelty and artistic beauty of his character ization of the fille role and the exceeding richness of the dress in which he has caused the play to be clothed upon the stage. No such stage pictures have been seen Omaha. Others have approached them splendor, but none as to that combination magnificence with good tasts and absolu correctness in detail which marks all to productions with which Mr. Manufeld has to do. The first set, which is used again later in the action, is the outside of that part of the Tower known as the Bloedy Tower, showing part of the interior through a gate and arch, upon which the heads of traitors are displayed. It is here that Rich ard makes his first appearance, leering round the angle of the staircase which lead into the tower and following the ill-starre-Henry with his implacable hate. The effect of this set is that of massive solidity. There are several sylvan scenes of rare beauty notably that in which the funeral train of the dead king is introduced and the singular wooing of the widow is accomplished, and that other at the end of Bosworth field in the early dawn, with a marvelous view of the remoter plain, and still that other of Richard's tent on the night before the ba tle. The scene in the princes' cell in the Tower shows a fine perspective, and a strik ing effect is produced in the throne room by the use of the red calcium upon a dark ened stage, revealing the throne bathed in crimson light as in a sea of blood. T lights were thoroughly well manag throughout, although a completer illustcould be produced in the ghost-haunted for est by deepening the twilight still more. the dress rehearsal last week the efficacy this device was remarked by all who so it as furnishing a really convincing ghos scene. It owed its strength on that occasion to the very dim light which was made to llumine the trees, among which the phan-oms wandered, looking very much like dis-mbodied spirits indeed. Last night, the light being quite strong, the figures took of too much substance, and the shadowy effe feet performance.

Mr. Mansfield's Richard marks a wid departure from tradition. This monster is crook-backed indeed, but not excessively or repulsively so. His obliquity is rather or repulsively so. His obliquity is rather moral than physical, and his rounded shoulders are more bent when his powerful mind is working out its blackest schemes of hatred and ambition. He has been the sport of fate, and the butt of ridicule for mankind from his cradle. He revenges himself upon fate and upon mankind as he advances rathlessly to supreme power over the fallen bodies of these who have thwarted him. Mr. Mansfield's refined method is adhim. Mr. Mansfield's refined method is admirably adapted to the portrayal of such Richard as he gives us. He does not rant or bellow, even in the more strenuous scenes, "as many of your players do." He fits the First ward and the city of Omaha s so quiet, so natural, so entirely what ne conceives a potentate possessed of such mind and such opportunities would be Katie Emmett has scored an unqualified hit in her "The Walfs of New York," and her tour through the country has been one succession of triumphs, full houses greet ing her everywhere, and the entertainment is said to be well worthy the patronage Allan Dale of the New York Evening World says: "Katle Emmett is a charming littl lady, an accomplished actress and alto gether an agreeable surprise. There is at air of refinement about her work that is no usually found. Miss Emmett has to do: the attire of a boy, and nothing can be more graceful and dainty than the way she does it. She dances well and sings charm-ingly. Her songs are both new and original. he will be seen at the Boyd for four days opening with a matince on Sunday next.

W. E. Gorman's comedians, presenting " Green Goods Man," will be the attraction at the Creighton for three nights, commend ng with a popular priced matinee Sunday October 11. The play deals with dark and levious ways of the innocent cawdust oper-ator and his bucolic victim, which should furnish ample opportunity for the introduc-tion of amusing specialties and ludicrous tuations. The company is said to be ost capable one and includes a number of local favorites.

Joseph Jefferson, supported by a talented ompany, will play a one-night engagement tt the Creighton Wednesday, October 14 when he will produce the greatest of his iny pronounced successes, "Rip Van inkle." Seats for the engagement will placed on sale Monday morning at 9 Winkle. o'clock at the Creighton box office. A coming engagement at the Creighton,

Yesterday we told you about the royal grade of underwear we are able to sell at 750 a garment-$1.50 a suit. Today we put alongside it another matchless bargain from the same mill. This latter is a heavy (20 ounce) all wool fleece lined, close knit garment, the counterpart of that we sold last winter for $3.00 a suit, This winter the price will be two dollars a suit. Think what that means. It means a reduction of 50c a garment from our own last year's prices for the same grade of goods, and it means an actual saving to you of a dollar a garment as compared with prices in other stores. It means that our underwear department is one of the money saving concerns of our store. It means that instead of running in last year's price tracks we have established a new standard of value in underwear and it means that we have a little the best underwear arguments in the town. The place to see right prices in men's underwear is in our corner window. The place to buy men's underwear at inside prices is here,
