The revising of that very earnest organization, the Monday Night club, will be hailed with gladness by all its former membors, and by those less fortunate who were yet permitted to participate in the de-lightful club parties of last year. There is surely room for as many societies of this kind as are likely to be proposed, and in so wide a field no jealousies should be allowed to hinder the full enjoyment of Francis, the winter's festivities.

These large doings, with a host of smaller ones, have made up a fairly active week. Monday Night Club Reorganized. Steps have been taken during the las week to complete the organization of a new daucing club. It is to be modeled somewhat on the plan of the old Monday Night club. which was so popular last year. The new organization starts out with a large part of the membership of the Monday Night club and with the addition of a few of the younger married people. The plan is to give a series of dances during the winter less than six, perhaps more; to make their not of a too formal character and to hole them either at the Millard hotel or some ppropriate hall. Last year there were two dancing clubs formed, which seemed to into one another to a certain extent. It i possible that this new club will not hav

the field to itself, but as all of the members of the other clubs have been given an opportunity to join, it cannot be regarded as try-ing to infringe upon the functions of the old clubs. The date of the first dance has not been definitely settled upon, but it will probably be given before the end of the month

At a meeting of those interested in thi project, called for Friday evening at the Mila permanent organization was effected and an executive committee appointed Messrs. Charles T. Kountze Charles C. George, Wing B. Allen, Clement Chase and R. B. Howell, who will determine the details of the season and outline a plan of action.

VISIT WAS COSTLY FOR STAPLES

Women Took His Money and stroyed Valuable Papers.

Frank Hayward and William Staples, farmers who live a short distance east o Council Bluffa, went into the resort kept by Kittie Owens at 220 North Twelfth street last night and were fleeced out of $12 and $40, respectively, by two inmates of the place named Irene Johnson and Leon Cook. The pocketbooks from which the amounts were taken were found, but the money is atill missing. A number of mortgages and private papers belonging to Staples were torn up by the Johnson woman and thrown into a sink. A large number of complaints from people fobled at this place have been lodged at police headquarters during the last month and an effort will be made by the authorities to close the joint.
