Every Dollar's Worth of Farniture, Carpets and Curtains in the House Go in This Special Clearing Sale at 25 to 50 Per Cent Discount.

The very best bargain that we have ever offered during this great clean-up sale, is to be placed at your disposal tomorrow. When the Creighton theater was building we made up for them eighty-four stall and box chairs, which, because of a change in their plans later on, were hardly used; the chairs were too large for the space they were to occupy, and we took them back, after making up another set for the show people. The Creighton Theater Co. were to pay us $18 apiece for these chairs and if you could have bought a single one at that time, you would probably have paid more.

CHOICE $5.75 MONDAY 36 of them are stall chairs, with quarter-sawed solid oak framer and back; uphol-stered in heavy moth proof Titian velour.

Ancient Order of United Workmen On the evening of September 29 Omaha lodge No. 18 formally took possession of its new lodge rooms, and upon that occasion J. J. H. Reedy, O. G., delivered the address of congratulation. His remarks were appropriate and interesting. In the course of his address he said:

"Our lodge is to be heartily congratulated on its growth and success; the standing and ability of its large membership; the un-swerving loyalty of its founders and the continuance of its faithful adherents; its timely and its many tokens of mission wisely wrought out. The history of its acti and priceless deeds remains unwritten in eries is engraved on living memories. who planned and those who enjoy the re sults of that methodical system rejoice ove the outcome of fruitful self-denial.

"The special subject of rejoicing tonight is in the fact that our surroundings will bring us all into closer touch with each other in a pleasant hall, removed from many things distasteful or even deleterious in their influences. The environments here will be more healthy, because more in harmony with the laudable ambition to use the best facilities for concourse, with freedom in the exercise of functions.

"The impulse to cater to the higher standard which education brings in its train mus be followed; hence our lodge has done wisely in making the change from quarters in which the underlying current of force for good work and attendance was hampered by forbidding elements of unrest. There was unanimity in the selection of the new hall in which to meet. May the same oneness characterize our converse together under the good of the order, and in every department of our lodge doings.

Protective League of Donglas County The public, outside of the politicians and members of secret organizations, has heard little of this organization so far, although this column made mention of its inception during the latter part of the summer. The organization is of a purely political character and moreover deals with political character and moreover deals with politics only when secret society orders are threatened. Its avowed object during the present campaign is to fight any and all candidates for the legislature who are op-posed to fraternal institutions and insurance. As has been mentioned the organization was launched before the campaign was on and has grown until it now includes in its membership very nearly all the secret its membership very nearly all the secret society lodges in the city. There are about fifty-three of these bodies in Omaha, and fifty of these are represented. Each is entitled to three delegates.

The league was started because carly in the season runers were affect to the effect that the old like insurance companies intended to elect if possible senators and representatives to the legislature who would be opposed to fraternel insurance. As soon as it was upon its feet it began an investigation at once of the candidates who were offering themselves for positions to the legislature. The work has about been completed. Ite-

Young Men's Benevolent Association. This body celebrated the anniversary of its existence with an entertainment given at the Knights of Labor hall Wednesday night. The program outlined for that eventhere was excellent and it will long be remembered by all those who were present.

H. Katskey, who was master of ceremonies, delivered the opening address. He was fol-lowed by H. Zimman and Lessie, who spoke very appropriately for the occasion. The chief feature of the evening was an eloquent address delivered by Prof. J. D. Nathanson, which was enthusiastically encored by the audience. He was followed by Rev. A. Bromson and others. At the close of the entertainment tables were spread and supper served to the members.

The association was organized a year ago for the purpose of rendering aid and assistance to the sick and indigent people of the Jewish persuasion. It has expended $467 for charitable purposes and has still a fair amount in the treasury to keep the organization in good standing. Its officers at present are: Charles Cohen, president; H. B. Action Taken on One of the Proposed Constitutional Amendments.

The manufacturers of Nebraska are very much interested in the proposed change in the constitution of the state which would allow the voting of bonds to aid in the location of factories. No manufacturer now in business can derive any direct benefit from such a change, but they all appreciate the importance of developing the resources of the state and they believe that is the best way to accomplish the desired result. The executive committee of the Manufacturers' and Concumers' association of Nebraska has adopted the following as showing the posi-tion of the manufacturers of the state on this subject:

Resolved. That this association heartily endorses and recommends the adoption of the proposed amendment to section 2 of article xiv of the constitution of the state of Nebraska, and recommends that all members use their influence to secure the adoption of the said amendment, which is to be voted upon at the general election, to be held November 3.

In the opinion of the executive committee the adoption of this amendment is of paramount importance to the people of Nebraska. It will give to citical towns, counties or townships the privilege, under such conditions and safeguards as they may prescribe, of aiding in the establishment of beet sugar, glucose, chicory or other factories which would consume the natural products of our soil.

Such factories would not only give profitable employment to thousands of our citi-Resolved. That this association heartily endorses and recommends the adoption of

This is an outlined plan, which will occupy two years, with meetings twice a month from October to May. It covers the whole range of musical literature from Bach to Grieg; and gives an analysis of about 500 representative works, by some of the best musical specialists and educators. It is designated not only for musicians, but fo those who wish to learn how to listen to music, and how to enjoy its beauties. It is a somewhat unique plan, and is attract-ing great interest in the club. Miss Cun-ningham is the newly elected leader of the department, Mrs. Frances M. Here is an inconsistency. Your dining room chair is the one chair on which you sit the most, yet it is usually one of the ugliest and most uncomfortable chairs in the whole house. Is not the seat on which you spend two of the twelve daily hours important enough to warrant a little expense in its selection? Is any other seat more continuously occupied? Now look at the matter from the standpoint of health. Digestion requires an enjoyment of the meal, which is impossible with harsh, uncomfortable furniture. We are holding this week a And it's all a question of a few dollars only.

special sale of Dining Furniture. We show a collection twice as large as ever before seen under a single roof in Omaha.
