AFTER THE COMMON CARRIERS

Police Make a Round-Up of the Teamsters Doing a Dray Business.

SEVERAL FOUND WITHOUT LICENSES

Many Men Inclined to Ignore the Provisions of the Ordinance Regarding the Manner of Public Hauling.

The police started a crusade yesterday against the common carriers who have neglected or refused to comply with the ordinance requiring them to exhibit in a conspicuous place on their vehicles the brass plate furnished by the city and give the number of the license under which each vehicle is being operated. The police have had a great deal of trouble with the teamsters who have looked upon this provision of the ordinance with contempt. At the beginning of each year the officers are required to do a good deal of missionary work among the teamsters. Licenses are taken out and paid for and the teamsters will forget to remove the old plate and substitute the new. Many of them will also forget to take out the license, and more trouble is made for the police. A round up of all the common carriers in the city was made yesterday and John Young, Ed. Geary and William Holt were found to be operating their wagons without a license so far as an inspection of their vehicles revealed. They were arrested and will have a hearing in the police court this morning.

SEWER MATTER GOES OVER AGAIN.

Question of Cutting Out the First Street District Unsettled.

The city council met in special session last evening to consider the petition of the property owners on Graham and Madison avenues to have their portion of the first street sewer district cut out from the contract. City Attorney Hasleton submitted a report on the legality of such a course by the council. He held that "the city had no right to take this portion of the work from the sewer district without the consent of the property owners on South First street, or without the city assenting to the difference caused thereby in the assessment against the property on South First street." The city attorney then quoted the ordinance governing the assessment of the improvement pro rata per lineal foot of the abutting property along the whole line of the sewer, irrespective of the size of the pipe used. "The part which is sought to cut out is the least expensive," said the city attorney, "and the city is not bound to pay for the amount of the assessment against the property abutting on South First street depends upon the work being done on Graham and Madison avenues. The district property on South First street had and now have the legal and equitable right to the reduction of their assessments caused by the construction of the sewer, which they cannot now be deprived of this right by the proposed action of the council."

Christian Church Decides to Accept the Young Pastor's Resignation.

The official board and members of the congregation of the Christian church met in the tabernacle last evening for the purpose of determining whether or not they should accept the resignation of the young minister from Mount Pleasant, who was called two weeks ago. The young man came here with some of the older and more conservative members of the congregation thought contained a trace of heresy or something dangerously near it. This matter was very quiet and the meeting was a quiet one. Mr. Benham, who has been the most pronounced in his opposition to the new minister, thought the young man was inclined to preach a gospel of his own rather than that of Christ, and as a Christian church they could not consistently permit this. The heresy was supposed to have been contained in a sentence where the young minister was dilating upon his charity and declared that he would not refuse to extend the hand of fellowship to any person. This was taken by some of the church officials to be a defiance of the church's authority, and might mean the bringing into the church of members who were not members. Many of them present thought the young minister had been misunderstood, and a discussion was continued until 10 o'clock. A motion was then made to refuse to consider the resignation. A secret ballot was taken, which resulted in thirty-six in favor of refusing to accept the resignation and twenty-six opposed to retaining the minister. The church is now in a state of confusion, and the congregation and after further discussion a motion to accept the resignation was carried. The friends of the new minister had been disappointed, and it was admitted that there could be no harmony with such a large proportion of the congregation opposed to the pastor.
